impassioned ecumenical proposal for re envisioning Christianity's approach to social engagement away from working for the people to being with them Questions the effectiveness of the current trend of intervention as a means of fixing the problems of people in distressed and disadvantaged circumstances Argues that Jesus spent 90% of his life simply being among the people of Nazareth sharing their hopes and struggles therefore Christians should place a similar emphasis on being alongside people in need rather than hastening to impose solutions Written by a respected priest and broadcaster and renowned Christian ethicist and preacher Supported by historical contemporary exegetical and anecdotal illustrations Theology without Words Wayne Morris, 2016-02-17 This book is a study of a Christian theology without words focussing on theology in the Deaf Community Deaf people's first and preferred method of communication is not English or any other spoken language but British Sign Language a language that cannot be written down Deaf people of faith attend church on a regular basis profess faith in God and have developed unique approaches to doing theology While most Western theology is word centred and is either expressed through or dependent on written texts theology in the Deaf Community is largely non written This book presents and examines some of that theology from the Deaf Community and argues that written texts are not necessary for creative theological debate a deep spirituality or for ideas about God to develop      Subverting Global

Theology for the 21st Century Duncan B. Forrester, William Storrar, Andrew Morton, 2004-01-01 The book is a unique stocktaking by a leading international group of theologians social scientists and other scholars on issues facing public theology at the beginning of the 21st century It combines retrospect and prospect in that it reflects on the issues and approaches that have characterized public theology in the 20th century especially its latter half and attempts to anticipate those which will or should come to the fore in the 21st century seeking to discern continuities and changes Three opening chapters deal with the overall theme of public or political theology with Jurgen Moltmann giving a critical historical account from the Second World War onwards Raymond Plant relating such theology to cultural pluralism and Andrew Morton illustrating it from the work of Duncan Forrester These are followed by pairs of contributions relating public theology to more specific topics History Technology and Creation Globalization Spirituality Punishment and Forgiveness Medical Ethics Tolerance and Human Rights Social Exclusion and Equality

The Bible: Culture, Community, Society Angus Paddison, Neil Messer, 2013-04-11 What kind of authority does Scripture have How is Scripture's authority to be negotiated in relation to other sources of authority And what are the implications of confessing the Bible to be authoritative The Bible Culture Community and Society seeks to answer these questions covering three core themes First reading the Bible in the context of modernity the challenges the intellectual history of modernity has posed to the Bible's authority and how historical work can co exist with a commitment to the Bible as the Word of God Secondly the Bible as a text that forms the church community how the Bible as an authoritative text shapes a culture Thirdly reading the Bible as a public text and the challenges posed by holding to the Bible as the Word of God in a religiously diverse context The highly distinguished contributors include Ben Quash David Ferguson Angus Paddison and Zo Bennett

Embodying Aiga Tausili Mercy Ah Su-Maliko, 2021-02-04 This book breaks new ground in the field of public theology by constructing a public theology which is built on interwoven cultural and Christian values Writing from the Oceanian context Samoa Ah Siu Maliko unpacks the complementary Samoan and Christian core values of service respect dialogue love and justice as the foundation for a values centered response to the social realities confronting Oceania Drawing on the indigenous research paradigm known as talanoa the author grounds the public theology that emerges in extensive interviews with 75 Samoans from all walks of life the public who are the subjects of public theology The resulting framework is then applied to a specific social problem the crisis of violence against women in Samoa This pioneering contribution to public theology discourse opens up possibilities for similar contextual approaches to public theology not only across Oceania but around the world

Hybrid Church in the City Christopher Baker, 2013-02-11 There has been a growing interest in the rapidly evolving nature of cities in the past 10 15 years but especially in the last 5 years and the profound impact this is having upon our understanding of community belonging and church This book shows that theology in an urban context has developed way beyond the inner city nostalgia It is a challenging critical and constructive study of the role of the church in cities

Bound to be Free Graham Tomlin, 2017-09-21 Graham Tomlin Bishop of Kensington discusses the fraught concept of Freedom in contemporary culture Freedom is one of the most cherished ideals of Western culture Yet that ideal is threatened from without and within in alarming ways in our increasingly polarised world Could it be that at the heart of our secular vision of freedom there is a fatal flaw which means it can never square the circle of personal liberty and social cohesion that we all long for In this accessible significant and deeply thoughtful book Graham Tomlin argues that the Christian vision of freedom offers a way to think about liberty that can bring together both personal fulfilment and the health of community life in a way that secular versions have failed to do Interdisciplinary and Religio-Cultural Discourses on a Spirit-Filled World V. Kärkkäinen, K. Kim, A.

Yong, 2013-09-12 This volume presents interdisciplinary intercultural and interreligious approaches directed toward the articulation of a pneumatological theology in its broadest sense especially in terms of attempting to conceive of a spirit filled world Preaching to Second Generation Korean Americans Matthew D. Kim, 2007 This in depth study on preaching to second generation Korean Americans the first of its kind is based on empirical and ethnographic fieldwork Matthew D Kim conducted surveys and semi structured qualitative interviews with Korean American pastors and second generation young adult respondents in three geographic regions of the United States the Midwest the West Coast and the East Coast His primary conceptual framework employs social psychologists Hazel Markus and Paula Nurius theory of possible selves to facilitate the process of congregational exegesis in the second generation Korean American church context This book offers a new contextual homiletic model that enables Korean American preachers to engage in deeper levels of ethnic and cultural analysis in their sermonic preparation Simultaneously the author reconstructs conventional preaching roles of Korean American preachers and second generation listeners so that they may co creatively imagine new possible selves that radically advance Christian mission and practice in the world This book will serve as a primary or secondary source for upper level undergraduate graduate and postgraduate courses on preaching communication studies ethnic and racial studies cross cultural ministry or social psychology Theology in the Public Sphere Sebastian Kim, 2013-01-03 A substantial and definitive introduction to public theology by one of the leading experts in the field A key text for third year undergraduate modules and MA courses in Social Ethics Political Theology and Public Theology The Hybrid Church in the City Christopher Richard Baker, 2016-12-05 The era of post colonialism and globalisation has brought new intensities of debate concerning the existence of diversity and plurality and the need to work in partnerships to resolve major problems of injustice and marginalisation now facing local and global communities The Church is struggling to connect with the significant economic political and cultural changes impacting on all types of urban context but especially city centres inner rings and outer estates and the new ex urban communities being developed beyond the suburbs This book argues that theology and the church need to engage more seriously with post modern reality and thought if points of connection both theologically and pastorally are going to be created The author proposes a sustained engagement with a key concept to emerge from post modern experience namely the concept of the Third Space Drawing on case studies from Europe and the USA primarily this book examines examples of Third Space methodologies to ask questions about hybrid identities and methods churches might adopt to effectively connect with post modern cities and civil society Particular areas of focus by the author include the role and identity of church in post modern urban space the role of public theology in addressing key issues of marginalisation and urbanisation as they impact in the 21st century the nature and role of local civil society as a local response to globalised patterns of urban economic social and cultural change Public Theology and the Challenge of Feminism Stephen Burns, Anita Monro, 2015-05-01 Public Theology is a rapidly growing international field of study which focuses on how Christian belief and practice engage with wider social issues Yet whilst the ultimate concern of public theology is the well being of society this body of theology has largely developed without integrating the thinking of feminist theology and its insights into womens lives and experience Public Theology and the Challenge of Feminism argues that public theology risks re inscribing traditional constructs of public and private civic and domestic and uncritical notions of gender and the work and worth of people The book brings together both theory and case material to expose how public theology has actively downplayed or ignored feminist perspectives and to reveal how constructive feminism can be for the future of public theology Good News to the Poor Tim Chester, 2013 The chasm between evangelism and social action needs to be bridged Chester convincingly argues that the truth of the gospel is best understood and embraced in the context of loving action and gospel centered community Forgiveness in Context Fraser Watts, Liz Gulliford, 2004-11-30 The last 20 years have seen the development of a growing body of psychological literature on the long neglected subject of forgiveness Forgiveness has been widely regarded as a purely religious construct However recently it has been advocated in many different secular contexts as offering an appropriate and healthy means of release The book continually engages the reader on both psychological and theological levels in a sustained dialogue that has not permeated any of the books already available on forgiveness
