On modern German literature Paul Konrad Kurz, Modern German Literature Benjamin Willis Wells, 1909 Modern German Literature Jethro Bithell, 2020-01-31 Originally published in 1939 and revised in 1959 this book traces back to their origins the literary movements and phases of German literature of 1880 to 1950 as they occur and shows how and why they pass over into succeeding phases It closely analyses Naturalism Impressionism Neo romanticism and Expressionism as well as dealing exhaustively with Surrealism Magic Realism and Existentialism The book includes discussion of post war Anglo American and French literature

Studies in modern German literature Otto Heller, 1967 Modern German Literature, 1870-1940 Victor Lange, 1945 On modern German literature. Vol. 3 P. K. Kurz, 1973 Modern German Literature Benjamin Willis Wells, 1895 Modern German Literature Michael Minden, 2013-04-30 This accessible and fresh account of German writing since 1750 is a case study of literature as a cultural and spiritual resource in modern societies Beginning with the emergence of German language literature on the international stage in the mid eighteenth century the book plays down conventional labels and periodisation of German literary history in favour of the explanatory force of international cultural impact It explains for instance how specifically German and Austrian conditions shaped major contributions to European literary culture such as Romanticism and the language scepticism of the early twentieth century From the First World War until reunification in 1990 Germany's defining experiences have been ones of catastrophe The book provides a compelling overview of the different ways in which German literature responded to historical disaster They are first Modernism the Literature of Negation second the literature of totalitarian regimes Third Reich and German Democratic Republic and third the various creative strategies and evasions of the capitalist democratic multi medial cultures of the Weimar and Federal Republics The volume achieves a balance between textual analysis and cultural theory that gives it value as an introductory reference source and as an original study and as such will be essential reading for students and scholars alike

The Cambridge Companion to the Modern German Novel

Graham Bartram, 2004-04-05 The Cambridge Companion to the Modern German Novel first published in 2004 provides a broad ranging introduction to the major trends in the development of the German novel from the 1890s to the present. Written by an international team of experts it encompasses both modernist and realist traditions and also includes a look back to the roots of the modern novel in the Bildungsroman of the late eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. The structure is broadly chronological but thematically focused; chapters examine topics such as gender anxiety, images of the city, war and women's writing. Within each chapter key works are selected for close attention. Unique in its combination of breadth of coverage and detailed analysis of individual works and featuring a chronology and guides to further reading, this Companion will be indispensable to students and teachers. Modern German Literature Benjamin W. Wells, 1972 Studies in modern German literature, A Chronology and Practical Bibliography of Modern German Literature (Classic Reprint)

John Scholte Nollen, 2016-09-04 Excerpt from A Chronology and Practical Bibliography of Modern German Literature. The Chronology and Bibliography here given were originally intended to supplement a brief outline of the history of German literature written for the texts of the Lake German Series but as the material grew far beyond the limits of an appendix it was thought best to rearrange and round out this material so as to form an independent work of more general value. Since the attempt was made to cover in a small volume the whole field of modern German literature from Luther to the present day anything like an exhaustive treatment was of course out of the question. In general only such authors are included in the Bibliography as appear in the outline such as must inevitably be mentioned in any rapid survey of modern German literature. The compiler is well aware that the selection here made is open to criticism at a great many points but in the difficult task of choosing some two hundred names from the great roll of modern German authors he has at least done his best to avoid caprice and to weigh absolute and historical values impartially. The bibliographical and critical references are intended to include only what is best or at least what is good to save space. Full titles are given only where they are necessary to indicate the character of the work in question. As the Bibliography is designed in part to serve as a guide in the purchase of books prices are generally quoted and the latest editions noted. This volume engages with the critical sense of time in German culture, exploring the importance of temporality for artistic and literary production since c. 1800. Topics include time and space in art, the politics of time and memory and the poetics of time      Studies in Modern German Literature. Sudermann, Hauptmann, Women Writers of the
