On Deconstructing Life Worlds:

On Deconstructing Life-worlds Robert R. Magliola, 1997 This text by an established specialist in French deconstruction written after his many years in Asia and in the West celebrates both Buddhist and Christian cultures and the negative but fertile differences between them Buddhisms and Deconstructions Jin Y. Park, 2006-03-10 Buddhisms and Deconstructions considers the connection between Buddhism and Derridean deconstruction focusing on the work of Robert Magliola Fourteen distinguished contributors discuss deconstruction and various Buddhisms Indian Tibetan and Chinese Chan followed by an afterword in which Magliola responds directly to his critics Children's Lifeworlds Olga Nieuwenhuys, 1994 Children's Lifeworlds examines how working children face the challenge of having to combine work with school in Kerala Moving beyond the usual concern with child labour and welfare to a critical assessment of the daily work routine of children this book questions how class and kinship gender and household organization state ideology and education influence and conceal the lives of children in developing countries Presenting an extraordinarily sympathetic and detailed case study of boys and girls work routine in a south Indian village this book shows children creating the visibility of their work The combination of personal experience quantitative data and in depth anthropological methods sheds light on the world of those who though they hold the future have been left in the dark The End of Comparative Philosophy and the Task of Comparative Thinking Steven Burik, 2010-07-02 How do differences in language influence comparative philosophy Although the Orientalism famously described by Edward Said is rare today Steven Burik maintains that comparative philosophy often subtly privileges one tradition over another since certain conceptual schemes are so embedded in Western languages that it is difficult not to revert to them Arguing for a new approach that acknowledges how theory and practice cannot be separated in comparative philosophical endeavors Burik provides nonmetaphysical deconstructionist readings of Heidegger and Derrida and uses these to give a new reading of classical Daoism The ideas of language advanced therein can aid the project of comparative philosophy specifically and philosophies generally in trying to overcome ways of thinking that have dominated Western philosophy for twenty five hundred years and still frustrate intercultural encounters The God Who May Be Richard Kearney, 2001-10-03 Kearney is one of the most exciting thinkers in the English speaking world of continental philosophy and he joins hands with its fundamental project asking the question what or who comes after the God of metaphysics John D Caputo Engaging some of the most urgent issues in the philosophy of religion today in this lively book Richard Kearney proposes that instead of thinking of God as actual God might best be thought of as the possibility of the impossible By pulling away from biblical perceptions of God and breaking with dominant theological traditions Kearney draws on the work of Ricoeur Levinas Derrida Heidegger and others to provide a surprising and original answer to who or what God might be For Kearney the intersecting dimensions of impossibility propel religious experience and faith in new directions notably toward views of God that are unforeseeable unprogrammable and uncertain Important themes such as the phenomenology of the persona the meaning of the unity of God God and desire notions of existence and difference and faith in philosophy are taken up in this penetrating and original work Richard Kearney is Professor of Philosophy at Boston College and University College Dublin He is author of many books on modern philosophy and culture including Dialogues with Contemporary Continental Thinkers The Wake of Imagination and The Poetics of Modernity The Routledge Handbook of Buddhist-Christian Studies Carol Anderson, Thomas Cattoi, 2022-09-30 Buddhist Christian dialogue has a long and complex history that stretches back to the first centuries of the common era Comprising 42 international and disciplinarily diverse chapters this volume begins by setting up a framework for examining the nature of Buddhist Christian interreligious dialogue discussing how research in this area has been conducted in the past and considering future theoretical directions Subsequent chapters delve into important episodes in the history of Buddhist Christian dialogue contemporary conversations such as monastic interreligious dialogue multiple religious identity and dual religious practice and Buddhist Christian cooperation in social justice social engagement pastoral care and interreligious education settings The volume closes with a section devoted to comparative and constructive explorations of different speculative themes that range from the theological to the philosophical or experiential This handbook explores how the study of Buddhist Christian relations has been and ought to be done The Routledge Handbook of Buddhist Christian Studies is essential reading for researchers and students interested in Buddhist Christian studies Asian religions and interreligious relationships It will be of interest to those in fields such as anthropology political science theology and history The International Journal for Field-being, 2001 Subversive Itinerary Shannon Bell, Peter Keith Kulchyski, 2013-01-01 Subversive Itinerary investigates the theoretical evolution of the influential political theorist Gad Horowitz as well as the historical impact of his ideas on Canadian life and letters Bringing together dynamic new works by both established and emerging scholars along with three new articles by Horowitz himself this volume examines the concepts he developed and extends his approach beyond the current historical moment The book includes a history of Horowitz's engagements as a public intellectual through appraisals of his early mid and late career contributions from the sixties to the present day Along the way the contributors present innovative new work in Canadian political thought continental theory Jewish philosophy Buddhism and radical general semantics Subversive Itinerary demonstrates how Horowitz's itinerary delivers invaluable tools for understanding issues of critical importance today The International Handbook of Political Ecology Raymond L Bryant, 2015-08-28 The International Handbook of Political Ecology features chapters by leading scholars from around the world in a unique collection exploring the multi disciplinary field of political ecology This landmark volume canvasses key developments topics A Passion for the Impossible Mark Dooley, 2012-02-01 Presenting the first systematic appraisal of the thought of John D Caputo one of America's most respected and controversial continental thinkers this book brings together internationally renowned philosophers theologians and cultural critics One highlight of the work is an interview with Jacques Derrida in which Derrida talks candidly about his reaction to Caputo's writings and spells out the implications for religion and the question of God after deconstruction Caputo responds to the concerns expressed by his interlocutors in the same humorous erudite and challenging spirit for which he is known The result is a lively and stimulating debate covering themes in the philosophy of religion deconstruction political philosophy feminism and hermeneutics as well as issues surrounding the work of Aquinas Nietzsche Kierkegaard Heidegger Foucault Derrida and Rorty

Latino and Muslim in America Harold D. Morales, 2018-02-01 Latino and Muslim in America examines how so called minority groups are made fragmented and struggle for recognition The U S is poised to become the first nation whose collective minorities outnumber the dominant population and Latinos play no small role in this world changing demographic shift Even as many people view Latinos and Muslims as growing threats Latino Muslims celebrate their intersecting identities in their daily lives and in their mediated representations In this book Harold D Morales follows the lives of several Latino Muslim leaders from the 1970 s to the present tracing their efforts to organize and unify nationally in order to solidify the new identity group s place within the public sphere Drawing on four years of media analysis ethnographic and historical research Morales demonstrates that Latinos embrace Islam within historically specific contexts that include distinctive immigration patterns and new laws urban spaces and media technologies that have increasingly brought Latinos and Muslims into contact He positions this growing community as part of the mass exodus out of the Catholic Church the growth of Islam and the digitization of religion Latino and Muslim in America explores the interactions between religion race and media to conclude that these three categories are inextricably entwined Ecologies of Resonance in Christian Musicking Mark Porter, 2020-09-04 Ecologies of Resonance in Christian Musicking Rexplores a diverse range of Christian musical activity through the conceptual lens of resonance a concept rooted in the physical vibrational and sonic realm that carries with it an expansive ability to simultaneously describe personal social and spiritual realities In this book Mark Porter proposes that attention to patterns of back and forth interaction that exist in and alongside sonic activity can help to understand the dynamics of religious musicking in new ways and at the same time can provide a means for bringing diverse traditions into conversation The book focuses on different questions arising out of human experience in the moment of worship What happens if we take the entry point of a human being experiencing certain patterns of more than sonic interaction with the world around them as a focus for exploration What different ecologies of interaction can be encountered What kinds of patterns can be traced through different Christian worshiping environments And how do these operate across multiple dimensions of experience Chapters covering ascetic sounding noisy congregations and Internet live streaming among others serve to highlight the diverse ecologies of resonance that surround Christian musicking suggesting the potential to develop new perspectives on devotional musical activity that focus not primarily on compositions or theological ideals but on changing patterns of interaction across multiple dimensions between individuals spaces communities and God
