Husserl John J. Drummond, Otfried Höffe, 2019-06-04 Edmund Husserl generally regarded as the founding figure of phenomenology exerted an enormous influence on the course of twentieth and twenty first century philosophy This volume collects and translates essays written by important German speaking commentators on Husserl ranging from his contemporaries to scholars of today to make available in English some of the best commentary on Husserl and the phenomenological project. The essays focus on three problematics within phenomenology: the nature and method of phenomenology, intentionality with its attendant issues of temporality and subjectivity and intersubjectivity and culture. Several essays also deal with Martin Heidegger's phenomenology although in a manner that reveals not only Heidegger's differences with Husserl but also his reliance on and indebtedness to Husserl's phenomenology. Taken together, the book shows the continuing influence of Husserl's thought demonstrating how such subsequent developments as existentialism, hermeneutics and deconstruction were defined in part by how they assimilated and departed from Husserlian insights. The course of what has come to be called continental philosophy cannot be described without reference to this assimilation and departure and among the many successor approaches, phenomenology remains a viable avenue for contemporary thought. In addition, problems addressed by Husserl, most notably intentionality, consciousness, the emotions and ethics are of central concern in contemporary non-phenomenological philosophy and many contemporary thinkers have turned to Husserl for guidance. The essays demonstrate how significant Husserl remains to contemporary philosophy across several traditions and several generations. Includes essays by Rudolf Bernet, Klaus Held, Ludwig Landgrebe, Dieter Lohmar, Verena Mayer and Christopher Erhard Ullrich, Melle Karl, Mertens, Ernst Wolfgang Orth, Jan Patočka, Sonja Rinofner Kreidl, Karl Schuhmann and Elisabeth Stricker. Logic and Time Krzysztof Michalski, 1997. The subject of this study is Husserl's theory of meaning from his critique of psychologism and the theory of meaning that stems from it through the transcendental theory of meaning of The Idea of Phenomenology, Ideas I and Cartesian Meditations to the theory of time, consciousness and its consequences for Husserl's understanding of meaning. Throughout the study, the tension in Husserl's thought between two interpretative strategies, the Cartesian and the Hermeneutical, is brought to the fore. Commentary on Husserl's "Ideas I" Andrea Staiti, 2015-09-14. Husserl's Ideas for a Pure Phenomenology and Phenomenological Philosophy 1913 is one of the key texts of twentieth-century philosophy. It is the first of Husserl's published works to present his distinctive version of transcendental philosophy and to put forward the ambitious claim that phenomenology is the fundamental science of philosophy. In Ideas, Husserl introduces for the first time the conceptual arsenal of his mature phenomenology: the principle of all principles, the phenomenological epoch and reduction, pure consciousness and the noema. All these difficult notions have been influential and controversial in subsequent philosophy, both analytic and Continental. In this commentary, thirteen leading scholars of Husserlian phenomenology set out to clarify and defend Husserl's views, connecting them to the vast corpus of his published and unpublished writings and discussing the main available interpretations in the existing scholarship. The result is a detailed and comprehensive account of the most original form of transcendental philosophy since Kant's Critique of Pure Reason. Edmund Husserl Rudolf Bernet, Donn Welton, Gina Zavota, 2005. Edmund Husserl was the founding father of phenomenology and one of the most important philosophers of the twentieth century. This will make available the very best essays on Husserl's thought from the
