In Silence or Indifference Wayne A. Wiegand, 2024-08-30 Librarians around the country are currently on a battleground defending their right to purchase and circulate books dealing with issues of race and systemic racism Despite this work the library community has often overlooked even ignored its own history of White supremacy and deliberate inaction on the part of White librarians and library leadership Author Wayne A Wiegand takes a crucial step to amend this historical record In Silence or Indifference Racism and Jim Crow Segregated Public School Libraries analyzes and critiques the world of professional librarianship between 1954 and 1974 Wiegand begins by identifying racism in the practice and customs of public school libraries in the years leading up to the Brown v Board of Education decision This culture permeated the next two decades as subsequent Supreme Court decisions led to feeble and mostly unsuccessful attempts to integrate Jim Crow public schools and their libraries During this same period the profession was honing its national image as a defender of intellectual freedom a proponent of the freedom to read and an opponent of censorship Still the community did not take any unified action to support Brown or to visibly oppose racial segregation As Black school librarians and their Black patrons suffered through the humiliations and hostility of the Jim Crow educational establishment the American library community remained largely ambivalent and silent The book brings to light a distressing history that continues to impact the library community its students and its patrons Currently available school library literature skews the historical perspective that informs the present In Silence or Indifference is the first attempt to establish historical accountability for the systemic racism contemporary school librarianship inherited in the twenty first century Access Services: Gillian M. McCombs, 2021-04-29 This book takes a close look at the recent changing emphasis from collections to access and from document description to document delivery As the automation of library processes has moved from technical services to reference services the roles of the professionals working in those capacities have changed dramatically Library administrators who are looking to redeploy resources will gain helpful insights from the experiences of librarians who have already redirected their organizations This helpful volume will be of tremendous assistance in redefining the traditional roles of reference and technical librarians Access Services offers new insights into the movement from bibliographic access to information access that is reshaping reference services today Informative discussions on topics such as cross training experiments revised organizational structures the new role of the bibliographic utilities library school education for the redefined professional and changes in cataloging codes reveal what impact this trend has for librarians services and patrons New York Libraries ,1927 New York Libraries. a Quarterly Devoted to the Interests of the Libraries of the State ,1929
