Sense Respond:

Sense and Respond S. Parry, S. Barlow, M. Faulkner, 2005-05-31 The authors argue that lean production should be driven by the desire to achieve optimal customer service by sensing and responding to the customer. The customer is at the centre of the process and the organisation needs to respond in a holistic way so that the customer can impact on the design and delivery of products and processes. The book is based upon substantial research and practice by leading practitioners and heralds a paradigm shift in thinking on these issues.

Holistic Flexibility for Systems Thinking and Practice Rajneesh Chowdhury, 2024-06-14 This book explores how the conceptual lens of Holistic Flexibility presents new advancements in systems thinking. Systems thinking is often associated with frameworks and methodologies that often confine the discipline to academic circles in operations research and management science. OR MS Holistic Flexibility for Systems Thinking and Practice challenges this status quo and talks about systems thinking as a state of mind giving it a cognitive character. The book presents both theoretical deliberations and practitioner cases of Holistic Flexibility. The development of systems thinking in OR MS is described leading to the latest debates on the subject and the key pillars of Holistic Flexibility are discussed in detail. A range of case studies are presented that offer a firsthand experience of Holistic Flexibility in practice. Learnings are drawn to highlight the importance of a spiritual approach in management, an understanding which is used to further develop the conceptual lens of Holistic Flexibility since it was first introduced. This book presents a range of competencies required for systems practitioners to address and respond to complex situations in an interconnected world. A bold attempt to pragmatize systems thinking and systems practice, the ideas presented in this book weave a thread between the development of the discipline, current debates and what lies ahead. It will be highly beneficial for OR MS researchers and graduate students who are interested in systems thinking as well as researchers interested in connecting modern management thinking and Eastern mysticism.

Electronic Journal of Knowledge Management , Complexity and Healthcare Organization David Kernick, 2018-04-19 Statistics and evidence based medicine are assessed in most postgraduate and undergraduate medical examinations and degrees in health sciences. All clinicians have to acquire skills in this area. This book aims to provide a brief overview of basic medical statistics and the numerical aspects of evidence based medicine to give realistic worked examples to illustrate the interpretation of studies relevant to clinical practice and to allow examination practice. It aims to cover all major topics covered in the undergraduate and postgraduate examinations. Each chapter begins with an overview and summary of the main points followed by worked examples and exercises with full answers. It will be ideal for all postgraduate medical examination candidates. Other clinicians and undergraduate students in medicine and health sciences will also find it useful.

Learning in Development Olivier Serrat, 2010 Learning in Development tells the story of independent evaluation in ADB from its early years to the expansion of activities under a broader mandate, points up the application of knowledge management to sense making and brings to light the contribution that knowledge audits can make to organizational learning It identifies the 10 challenges that ADB must overcome to develop as a learning organization and specifies practicable next steps to conquer each The messages of Learning in Development will echo outside ADB and appeal to the development community and people having interest in knowledge and learning that strengthens resilience systems deliberation that complements democracy and behavioral insights that elevate human awareness and collaboration This handbook is a comprehensive and valuable companion for students experts and practitioners with an interest in the SDGs

Developing and Leading Emergence Teams Peter A.C. Smith, Tom Cockburn, 2016-03-10 Developing and Leading Emergence Teams describes a future business landscape that seems to be complicated complex and chaotic in almost equal measures The variety and diversity of the environments within which large organizations will be seeking to operate require a similar variety of systems process and structures if they are to respond successfully to emerging opportunities The established models of teamworking matrix cross functional or transdisciplinary can all adapt to this new environment but will only do so if the culture leadership and management style of the business enables this The authors describe a model of emergence teams high trust teams that exhibit exceptional affinity for knowledge sharing sense making and consensus building They then explore the specifics of leading such a team how the team leader should design the team interact and facilitate the team s development understand the personal nature of each of the team members and the overall emotional regime that will affect trust commitment and motivation Peter Smith and Tom Cockburn draw on research and detailed case examples to provide techniques your organization can adopt in order to build and support the various teams capable of addressing complexity

Smart Materials for Science and Engineering Upendra Kumar, Piyush Kumar Sonkar, 2024-06-05 SMART MATERIALS FOR SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING Smart materials also known as advanced or creative materials are described as advanced materials that react intuitively to environmental changes or as materials that can return to their original shape in response to certain stimuli Smart materials are classified as either active or passive based on their characteristics There are two types of active materials The first kind cannot change its characteristics when subjected to outside stimuli for example photochromatic spectacles that only alter their color when exposed to sunlight The other which includes piezoelectric materials can change one sort of energy thermal electrical chemical mechanical or optical into another When subjected to external pressure it can generate an electric charge As an example optical fibers can transmit electromagnetic waves In contrast passive smart materials can transmit a specific sort of energy They have some amazing qualities that set them apart from other materials such as transiency meaning they can react to different kinds of external stimuli immediately self actuation or the capacity to change their appearance and shape selectivity where the response is divided and expected directness when the response is limited to the activating event shape changing where the material can change its shape to external stimuli their ability to determine their own health also known as self diagnosis and their ability to self heal The ability to synthesize novel materials has substantially progressed thanks to science and technology over the past 20 years They fall mostly into the following four categories polymers ceramics metals and smart materials Among these smart materials are gaining popularity since they have more uses than conventional materials Smart materials are unusual substances that have the ability to alter their properties such as those that can immediately change their phase when placed near a magnet or their shape simply by applying heat Humanity will be significantly impacted by this new era of smart materials For instance some of them can adapt their properties to the environment some have sensory capabilities some can repair themselves automatically and some can degrade themselves These extraordinary properties of smart materials will have an effect on all facets of civilization There are many different types of intelligent materials including magnetorheological materials electro rheostat materials shape memory alloys piezoelectric materials and more This book describes many forms of smart materials and their possible uses in various fields A literature survey discusses the different types of smart materials such as based ceramics polymers and organic compounds and their needs advantages disadvantages and applications will be comprehensively discussed A discussion of well established smart materials including piezoelectric magnetostrictive shape memory alloy electro rheological fluid and magnetorheological fluid materials will be discussed with their present prospects
