Sentimental Jewellery:

An Introduction to Sentimental Jewellery Shirley Bury, 1985 Sentimental Jewellery Ann Louise Luthi, 2001 An Introduction to Sentimental Jewellery Shirley Bury, 1985-01-01 Victorian Jewellery Margaret Flower, 2013-01-04 A comprehensive and informative look at Victorian jewellery split into three eras The Early Victorian or Romantic Period 1837 60 The Mid Victorian or Grand Period 1860 85 and The Late Victorian or Aesthetic Period 1885 1901 each accompanied by extensive photographic illustrations This fascinating work is thoroughly recommended for inclusion on the bookshelf of anyone interested in Victorian jewellery Relics of Death in Victorian Literature and Culture Deborah Lutz, 2015-01-15 This literary and cultural study explores the practice in nineteenth century Britain of treasuring objects that had belonged to the dead Making Steampunk Jewellery Nikki Druce, 2016-11-30 Steampunk has captured the imagination of thousands who are searching for a unique style symbolic of a richly inspired post apocalyptic world drawn from the heavy machinery of the Victorian age With clear instruction step by step sequences and over twenty five projects this practical book shows you how to access that world and make unique jewellery and accessories that will complete an outfit and transport you to another era full of excitement potential and extravagance Includes an introduction to the world of Steampunk and its origins advice on designing unique pieces and creating your own Steampunk style with over twenty five projects ranging from simple cog necklaces to more intricate goggles and ray guns accessories and outfits for both men and women With 216 Inspirational photos and advice to help put an outfit together Illustrated Guide to Jewelry Appraising Anna M. Miller, 2012-12-06 There is more to appraising jewelry than just being parable sales and a value determination Then all this able to put a dollar value on an item The title of ap information with clear jewelry descriptions must be praiser distinguishes the individual who is able to iden succinctly put together with photographs and deliv tify witness estimate status excellence or potential ered to the client ity and to determine the authenticity of an article Today s jewelry appraiser should also be cognizant Many factors impact on a thorough appraisal espe of the vicissitudes of fashion how changes impact the cially on estate and period jewelry jewelry market in a substantial and vital manner in both design and style A careful look must be given to Developing all this expertise is a lot to ask of practi tioners who only a decade ago were barely making a study of color psychology with an awareness of why specific gemstones and their colors and enamels of cer distinction between a well written sales receipt and a professional appraisal report tain colors were used in different periods Industrial In the past few years bold changes have taken place developments from machine stamped jewelry the use in this field It is now understood that standard ap of aniline dyes in clothing and development of the praisal concepts and principles can be applied to the electric light have influenced design and use of gem stones Jewellery Harold Clifford Smith, 1908 Women and the Material Culture of Death BethFowkes Tobin, 2017-07-05 Examining the compelling and often poignant connection between women and the material culture of death this collection focuses on the objects women make the images they keep the practices they use or are responsible for and the places they inhabit and construct through ritual and custom Women's material practices ranging from wearing mourning jewelry to dressing the dead stitching memorial samplers to constructing skull boxes collecting funeral programs to collecting and studying diseased hearts making and collecting taxidermies and making sculptures honoring the dead are explored in this collection as well as women's affective responses and sentimental labor that mark their expected and unexpected participation in the social practices surrounding death and the dead The largely invisible work involved in commemorating and constructing narratives and memorials about the dead from family members and friends to national figures calls attention to the role women as memory keepers for families local communities and the nation Women have tended to work collaboratively making collecting and sharing objects that conveyed sentiments about the deceased whether human or animal as well as the identity of mourners Death is about loss and many of the mourning practices that women have traditionally and are currently engaged in are about dealing with private grief and public loss as well as working to mitigate the more general anxiety that death engenders about the impermanence of life Victorian Dress in Contemporary Historical Fiction Danielle Mariann Dove, 2023-10-19 Victorian Dress in Contemporary Historical Fiction is the first full length study to investigate and attend to the deeply suggestive and highly symbolic iterations of Victorian women's dress in the contemporary cultural imagination Drawing upon a range of popular and less well studied neo Victorian novels published between 1990 and 2014 as well as their Victorian counterparts 19th century illustrative material and extant Victorian garments Danielle Dove explores the creative possibilities afforded by dress and fashion as gendered sites of agency and affect Focusing on the relationship between texts and textiles she demonstrates how dress is central to the narrativization re formulation and re fashioning of the material past in the present In its examination of the narrative trajectories lively vitalities and material entanglements that accrue to and originate from dress in the neo Victorian novel this study brings a fresh approach to reading Victorian sartorial culture For researchers and students of Victorian and neo Victorian studies dress history material culture and gender studies this volume offers a rich resource with which to illuminate the power of fashion in fiction Death, Memory and Material Culture Elizabeth Hallam, Jenny Hockey, 2020-05-26 How do the living maintain ongoing relationships with the dead in Western societies How have the residual belongings of the dead been used to evoke memories Why has the body and its material environment remained so important in memory making Objects images practices and places remind us of the deaths of others and of our own mortality At the time of death embodied persons disappear from view their relationships with others come under threat and their influence may cease Emotionally socially politically much is at stake at the time of death In this context memories and memory making can be highly charged and often provide the dead with a social presence amongst the living Memories of the dead are a bulwark against the terror of forgetting as well as an inescapable outcome of a life's ending Objects in attics gardens museums streets and cemeteries can tell us much about the processes of remembering This unusual and absorbing book develops perspectives in anthropology and cultural history to reveal the importance of material objects in experiences of grief mourning and memorializing Far from being invisible the authors show how past generations dead friends and lovers remain manifest through well worn garments letters photographs flowers residual drops of perfume funerary sculpture Tracing the rituals gestures and materials that have been used to shape and preserve memories of personal loss Hallam and Hockey show how material culture provides the deceased with a powerful presence within the here and now Julie Blyfield

Stephanie Radok, Dick Richards, 2007 Julie Blyfield is one of Australia's leading contemporary jewellers Her work has consistently kept pace with investigations of location identity and cross cultural understanding and involves an innovative engagement with traditional jewellery and metalwork techniques sourced from all over the world Perspective on Design Daniel Raposo, João Neves, José Silva, 2019-11-23 This book presents the outcomes of recent endeavors that are expected to foster significant advances in the areas of communication design fashion design interior design and product design as well as overlapping areas The fourteen chapters highlight carefully selected contributions presented during the 6th EIMAD conference held on February 22-23 2018 at the School of Applied Arts Campus da Talagueira in Castelo Branco Portugal They report on outstanding advances that offer new theoretical perspectives and practical research directions in design and which are aimed at fostering communication in a global digital world while also addressing key individual and societal needs

Tsetskhladze, 2005-06-01 Representations of Hair in

Victorian Literature and Culture Galia Ofek, 2016-12-05 Galia Ofek's wide ranging study elucidates the historical artistic literary and theoretical meanings of the Victorians' preoccupation with hair. Victorian writers and artists, Ofek argues, had a well developed awareness of fetishism as an overinvestment of value in a specific body part and were fully cognizant of hair's symbolic resonance and its value as an object of commerce. In particular, they were increasingly alert to the symbolic significance of hairstyling. Among the writers and artists Ofek considers are Elizabeth Gaskell, George Eliot, Margaret Oliphant, Charles Darwin, Anthony Trollope, Elizabeth Barrett Browning, Eliza Lynn Linton, Mary Elizabeth Braddon, Herbert Spencer, Dante Gabriel Rossetti, Edward Burne Jones, Charles Dickens, Thomas Hardy, and Aubrey Beardsley. By examining fiction, poetry, anthropological and scientific works, newspaper reviews and advertisements, correspondence, jewellery, paintings and cartoons, Ofek shows how changing patterns of power relations between women and patriarchy are rendered anew when viewed through the lens of Victorian hair codes and imagery during the second half of the nineteenth century.

Dropped Threads 3 Marjorie Anderson, 2010-09-03 In the tradition of the bestselling Dropped Threads and Dropped Threads 2, comes this new collection of essays from well known writers and new voices. Ever since the publication of the first two Dropped Threads books, readers and writers have longed for another installment, and here it is. For this collection, editor Marjorie Anderson took a new thematic path, searching out pieces that don't necessarily focus on what women haven't been told but rather on what they have to tell. In Dropped Threads 3: Beyond the Small Circle, thirty-five women open up their own small circles of experience to others in ways that not only illuminate the lives of individual women but add more threads to the already rich tapestry of our collective conversation. These essays focus on personal discoveries that for various reasons need to be shared: the writers tell us about family secrets, sexuality, rebellion, crevices of deep joy or regret about finding connections to nature, to animals, to a tribe to which one can belong, about embracing forgiveness, kindness, and new perspectives beyond the circle of individual sight. Barbara McLean tells us of the sister she never knew and how recovering her story shed light on how grief can take so many different forms. June Callwood explores the continuity that flows between mothers and daughters and the mysterious chance happenings that form character. Frances Itani writes about how the voices of the women in her family, her aunts, and grandmother, relaying stories around the kitchen table, are as integral to her life as her own genetic code. Melanie Janzen sees connections between a Ugandan women's collective and the neighbourhood women of her childhood but has trouble finding a similar community of support in her own life today. And in all of the pieces, there is a powerful sense that the understanding that comes from writing and reading can enrich our lives beyond measure. As Marjorie Anderson writes in her foreword, we trust first person narratives precisely because they give us an inside view into someone else's world. Here, as in the best of our personal conversations, there are no assertions of absolute truth, no earth-shaking revelations or attempts to manipulate another's belief, just individual voices making individual claims on the discovery of meaning. With Dropped Threads 3: Beyond the Small Circle, Anderson has created a forum in which Canadian

Women's Albums and Photography in Victorian England Patrizia Di Bello, 2017-07-05 This beautifully illustrated study recaptures the rich history of women photographers and image collectors in nineteenth century England Situating the practice of collecting exchanging and displaying photographs and other images in the context of feminine sociability Patrizia Di Bello shows that albums express Victorian women's experience of modernity The albums of individual women and the broader feminine culture of collecting and displaying images are examined uncovering the cross references and fertilizations between women's albums and illustrated periodicals and demonstrating the way albums and photography itself were represented in women's magazines fashion plates and popular novels Bringing a sophisticated eye to overlooked images such as the family photograph Di Bello not only illustrates their significance as historical documents but elucidates the visual rhetorics at play In doing so she identifies the connections between Victorian album making and the work of modern day amateurs and artists who use digital techniques to compile and decorate albums with Victorian style borders and patterns At a time when photographic album making is being re-vitalised by digital technologies this book rewrites the history of photographic albums placing the female collector at its centre and offering an alternative history of photography focused on its uses rather than on its aesthetic or artistic considerations It is remarkable in elegantly connecting the history of photography with the fields of material culture and women's studies

A Cultural History of Hair in the Age of Empire Sarah Heaton, 2020-12-10 Hair or lack of it is one of the most significant identifiers of individuals in any society In Antiquity the power of hair to send a series of social messages was no different This volume covers nearly a thousand years of history from Archaic Greece to the end of the Roman Empire concentrating on what is now Europe North Africa and the Near East Among the key issues identified by its authors is the recognition that in any given society male and female hair tend to be opposites when male hair is generally short women's is long that hair is a marker of age and stage of life children and young people have longer less confined hairstyles adult hair is far more controlled hair can be used to identify the other in terms of race and ethnicity but also those who stand outside social norms such as witches and mad women The chapters in A Cultural History of Hair in Antiquity cover the following topics religion and ritualized belief self and society fashion and adornment production and practice health and hygiene gender and sexuality race and ethnicity class and social status and cultural representations
