

God made Everything

Before the world came into being, God was, for He has no beginning or end. His Spirit hovered over a dark, formless, and empty place.

God said, "Let there be light!" Light sprang into being at the sound of His voice. God divided the light from the darkness. He named the light "day," and He called the darkness "night."

Evening and morning, day one ended.

God said, "Let a dome appear in the middle of the waters." A vast blue vault appeared in the midst of the waters. God called it "sky."

Evening and morning, day two ended.

God said, "Let the waters gather together and dry land appear." The land and the seas obeyed God's voice, but the land was empty and brown. "Let there be grass, flowers, and trees to cover the land." Green grass unfurled. Colorful flowers bloomed. Trees stood tall and straight.

God saw what He had done, and it was good.

Evening and morning, day three ended.

God said, "Let there be two lights to mark time and days, seasons and years. A greater one shall rule day and the lesser shall reign over the night." Sun and moon appeared in the sky, and God sprinkled the universe with twinkling stars.

God saw it was good. Evening and morning, day four ended.

Beckwith,2010-01-01 Much ministry to children looks more like mere entertainment than authentic spiritual formation But what if children s ministries were rooted in a mind set whereby we taught children with our words and actions how the story of God the story of church history the story of the local community and the story of the child intersect and speak to one another What if children s ministry was less about downloading information into kids heads and more about leading them into these powerful compelling stories Beckwith aims to help ministers and parents create a ministry that captures children s imaginations not just to keep them occupied but to live as citizens of the kingdom of God In addition to providing theological reasons for formational children s ministry the book offers examples of how Ivy and other practitioners are implementing a formational model Principles and Practices of Christian Education Robert W. Pazmiño,2002-04-29 Principles and Practices of Christian Education shows teachers how they can use two important principles that stand behind all evangelical practices to make their education program stand out from all the others in its nurture of students First evangelical Christian education recognizes the need for conversion personal and corporate transformation that reconnects people to their Creator Second evangelical Christian education strives for connection making contact with people as unique individuals who live in a particular society and who need to know more about scripture In this book Christian education students learn that the work for which they prepare is a partnership with God to transform people Their central task is worship but through it and other activities they lead others to faith commitment and transformation of communities The Ladies' Home Journal ,1893
