Looking After A Sons Memoir:

Looking After John Daniel, 1996 Vagabond and spiritual seeker wife and mother and former labor organizer Zilla Daniel led a full and varied life But in the fall of 1988 troubled with the onset of Alzheimer s she comes to Portland Oregon to live with her son and his wife Evolving slowly into the unfamiliar she watches the dogwood outside their kitchen window reads poetry asks and re asks the names of birds Uneasy in his role as caregiver and coping with his own depression John Daniel struggles with guilt embarrassment and anger over his mother s transformation As she loses her memory Daniel delves into his own uncovering both the root of his depression and the medicine for its cure in fragmented long dormant recollections of his childhood and youth Mother and son journey through difficult and mysterious terrain ultimately divining a path to each other Whatever she recognized whatever she perceived whatever she sensed she faced the good world she had loved The world flowed in through her window flowed into her open eyes whatever they saw even as she flowed forth to join the world from the personhood of her many days Combining graceful prose with the tenacity of a lifelong seeker John Daniel pays tribute to the life of a remarkable woman and depicts the burdens and unexpected blessings of caring for her In the midst of daily tension and occasional despair Daniel comprehends then shares with us Zilla s deep smile of the spirit BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Looking After John Daniel, 1997-10 John Daniel explores the delicate terrain of memory and loss as Alzheimer s disease hastens his mother s decline Struggling with guilt and anger he pieces together fragmented recollections of both her life and his own A story of daily burdens unexpected blessings and the deep smile of the spirit Living in Death's Shadow Emily K. Abel, 2017-02-28 Challenging assumptions about caregiving for those dying of chronic illness What is it like to live with and love someone whose death while delayed is nevertheless foretold In Living in Death's Shadow Emily K Abel an expert on the history of death and dying examines memoirs written between 1965 and 2014 by family members of people who died from chronic disease In earlier eras death generally occurred quickly from acute illnesses but as chronic disease became the major cause of mortality many people continued to live with terminal diagnoses for months and even years Illuminating the excruciatingly painful experience of coping with a family member s extended fatal illness Abel analyzes the political personal cultural and medical dimensions of these struggles The book focuses on three significant developments that transformed the experiences of those dying and their intimates the passage of Medicare and Medicaid the growing use of high tech treatments at the end of life and the rise of a movement to humanize the care of dying people It questions the exalted value placed on acceptance of mortality as well as the notion that it is always better to die at home than in an institution Ultimately Living in Death's Shadow emphasizes the need to shift attention from the drama of death to the entire course of a serious chronic disease The chapters follow a common narrative of life threatening disease learning the diagnosis deciding whether to enroll in a clinical trial acknowledging or struggling against the limits of medicine receiving care at home and in a hospital or nursing home and obtaining palliative and hospice care Living in Death's Shadow is essential reading for everyone seeking to understand what it means to live with someone suffering from a chronic fatal condition including cancer AIDS Alzheimer's and heart disease

Memoirs of a Child Holocaust Survivor A. M. Fox, 2025-05-30 A Holocaust survivor recounts his memories from pre war Poland to liberation honoring lost family and culture These are the memories of a man who had been a young Jewish boy in Central Poland His 9th birthday came in mid July 1939 Less than two months later they are his memories of the Nazi era from the very beginning of WW11 until he was liberated by the Russians on the 8th May 1945 This age of death when Nazis attempted the absolute annihilation of all Jews in Europe regardless of age character or gender is now referred to as the Holocaust These memories include those of his vibrant family life in Poland before the war They are his homage and his memorial to his parents his little sister and numerous uncles aunts and cousins who were wiped out by the Nazis along with centuries of their culture Arriving in the UK on 14th August 1945 he was in the first group of Concentration Camp child survivors brought into England at the invitation of King George VI The story of these children's arrival and initial rehabilitation in the Lake District is told in the 2020 BBC film The Windermere Children His memories conclude with some glimpses of his life immediately after liberation and later when he was settled in the UK From dozens of known relatives he and his elder brother thought for a long time that they were the only family members to have survived from their town Later they discovered there was a third survivor an even younger cousin The author married the Holocaust survivor of this memoir He wanted the tale of how they met to be told and the book begins with this All the material concerning life in Poland life during the war and vignettes of post war life have simply been written down by the author Everything was read and re read by the survivor who felt that these recollections were true to what he remembered s life and works notes and a bibliographic section Jane Tressider has never been afraid of speaking her mind even if she admits that she may have occasionally given offence by doing so But as a busy mother of nine children she cannot let such a small foible get in the way of her job which is to keep her feckless husband on his toes while ensuring the perfect management not just of her own household but also of that of her married daughters and sons Since mothers in law have always been misunderstood and no one has ever taken up their side of the argument properly Jane is determined to set the record straight and plead the cause of the most maligned race on the face of the earth

MEMOIRS OF GRAMFLAKES
E.B. Hayes, 2008-10-23 Eleanor was inspired by her father at an early age to appreciate family history During her retired lonely years as a widow she started writing for entertainment She did not enjoy pity parties and found a joy in sitting in front of her computer to write about her memories Some of her children and friends enjoyed hearing about past events that interested them and encouraged her to write She was the only girl and oldest child and spent the majority of her growing up years around adults as they told their stories That was their prime entertainment She would like to inspire others to make notes and write stories for their future generations She found that it is amazing how much one can remember and relive as the words appear on the computer screen
