Looking For Atlanta:

Looking for Atlanta Marilyn Dorn Staats,1992 Looking for Atlanta Marilyn Dorn Staats,1993 In Looking for Atlanta first time novelist Marilyn Dorn Staats takes the threads of domestic life and southern womanhood and weaves them into a narrative that is at once ordinary and extraordinary painful and funny innocent and profound List of the Photographs and Photographic Negatives Relating to the War for the Union United States. War Department. Library,1897 Subject Catalogue United States. War Dept. Library,1897 Looking for America Ardis Cameron,2008-04-15 Looking for America The Visual Production of Nation and People is a groundbreaking collection that explores the visual in defining the kaleidoscope of American experience and American identity in the 20th century Covers enduringly important topics in American history nationhood class politics of identity and the visual mapping of others Includes editorial introductions suggested readings a primer on how to read an image and a guide to visual archives and collections Well illustrated book for those in American Studies and related fields eager to incorporate the visual into their teaching and telling of the American story The New Georgia Guide University of Georgia Press,1996 The Georgia Humanities Council presents a guidebook with cultural historical and regional coverage of Georgia The Postsouthern Sense of Place in Contemporary Fiction Martyn Bone,2014-01-13 For generations southern novelists and critics have grappled with a concept that is widely seen as a trademark of their literature a strong attachment to geography or a sense of place In the 1930s the Agrarians accorded special meaning to rural life particularly the farm in their definitions of southern identity For them the South seemed an organic and rooted region in contrast to the North where real estate development and urban sprawl evoked a faceless raw capitalism By the end of the twentieth century however economic and social forces had converged to create a modernized South How have writers responded to this phenomenon Is there still a sense of place in the South or perhaps a distinctly postsouthern sense of place Martyn Bone innovatively draws upon postmodern thinking to consider the various perspectives that southern writers have brought to the concept of place and to look at its fate in a national and global context He begins with a revisionist assessment of the Agrarians who failed in their attempts to turn their proprietary ideal of the small farm into actual policy but whose broader rural aesthetic lived on in the work of neo Agrarian writers including William Faulkner and Eudora Welty By the 1950s adherence to this aesthetic was causing southern writers and critics to lose sight of the social reality of a changing South Bone turns to more recent works that do respond to the impact of capitalist spatial development on the South and on the nation generally including that self declared international city Atlanta Close readings of novels by Robert Penn Warren Walker Percy Richard Ford Anne Rivers Siddons Tom Wolfe and Toni Cade Bambara illuminate evolving ideas about capital land labor and class while introducing southern literary studies into wider debates around social cultural and literary geography Bone concludes his remarkably rich book by considering works of Harry Crews and Barbara Kingsolver that suggest the southern sense of place may be not only post Agrarian or postsouthern but also transnational Atlanta ,2006-08 Looking Outward James Shuler,2010-12-01 With all the success of Looking Inward many have asked me for additional poetry and lyrics As I continue traveling down my path of adventure and intrigue Looking Outward shares with the reader some of the many places adventures thoughts and dreams that I have experienced While Looking Inward was more introspective Looking Outward captures the extroverted side of my life
