An Encyclopedic Dictionary of Women in Early American Films Denise Lowe, 2014-01-27 Examine women s contributions to film in front of the camera and behind it An Encyclopedic Dictionary of Women in Early American Films 1895 1930 is an A to Z reference guide illustrated with over 150 hard to find photographs that dispels the myth that men dominated the film industry during its formative years Denise Lowe author of Women and American Television An Encyclopedia presents a rich collection that profiles many of the women who were crucial to the development of cinema as an industry and as an art form Whether working behind the scenes as producers or publicists behind the cameras as writers directors or editors or in front of the lens as flappers vamps or serial queens hundreds of women made profound and lasting contributions to the evolution of the motion picture production An Encyclopedic Dictionary of Women in Early American Films 1895 1930 gives you immediate access to the histories of many of the women who pioneered the early days of cinema on screen and off. The book chronicles the well known figures of the era such as Alice Guy, Mary Pickford and Francis Marion but gives equal billing to those who worked in anonymity as the industry moved from the silent era into the age of sound. Their individual stories of professional success and failure, artistic struggle and strife and personal triumph and tragedy fill in the plot points missing from the complete saga of Hollywood's beginnings. Pioneers of the motion picture business found in An Encyclopedic Dictionary of Women in Early American Films include Dorothy Arnzer, the first woman to join the Directors Guild of America and the only female director to make a successful transition from silent films to sound; Jane Murfin, playwright and screenwriter who became supervisor of motion pictures at RKO Studios; Gene Gauntier, the actress and scenarist whose adaptation of Ben Hur for the Kalem Film Company led to a landmark copyright infringement case; Theda Bara, whose on screen popularity virtually built Fox Studios before typecasting and overexposure destroyed her career; Madame Sul Te Wan, the first African American actor or actress to sign a film contract and be a featured performer; Dorothy Davenport, who parlayed the publicity surrounding her actor husband's drug related death into a career as a producer of social reform melodramas; Lois Weber, a street corner evangelist who became one of the best known and highest paid directors in Hollywood; Lina Basquette, the Screen Tragedy Girl who married and divorced studio mogul Sam Warner; led The Hollywood Aristocrats; Orchestra claimed to have been a spy for the American Office of Strategic Services during World War II and became a renowned dog expert in her later years and many more. An Encyclopedic Dictionary of Women in Early American Films 1895 1930 also includes comprehensive appendices of the WAMPAS Baby Stars, the silent stars remembered in the Graumann Chinese Theater Forecourt of the Stars and those immortalized on the Hollywood Walk of Stars. The book is invaluable as a resource for researchers, librarians, academics working in film, popular culture and women's history and to anyone interested either professionally or casually in the early days of Hollywood and the motion picture industry.

The Dinosaur Films of Ray Harryhausen Roy P. Webber, 2004 Ray Harryhausen's animated creatures sparkled with predatory alertness and subtle quirks of behavior that stamped each with a distinct and memorable personality. His use of stop motion animation, a method of animating movable models and puppets brought dinosaurs and monsters to life on the silver screen. Many animators and special effects wizards like Phil Tippett of Jurassic Park and Jim Aupperle of Planet of the Dinosaurs who are still working on prehistoric based films openly credit Ray Harryhausen as having influenced their careers. His films are famous for being among the very best of the genre. The first chapter of this book chronicles Harryhausen's formative years and work on numerous 16mm experiments beginning with his viewing of King Kong in 1933 The next four chapters cover his four feature length dinosaur films The Beast from 20 000 Fathoms The Animal World One Million Years B C and The Valley of Gwangi These chapters provide extensive information about all aspects of the staging of their stop motion content and many additional facets of the overall production process The paleontological accuracy of his saurians from a modern perspective is also examined A chapter on his work and experiences in the 1970s and beyond discusses potential dinosaur projects as well as The Golden Voyage of Sinbad which is not a saurian film but does include the bat winged homunculus An appendix covers a number of dinosaur related films that Harryhausen had a hand in
