Magic Flute 1st Edition:

The Authentic Magic Flute Libretto Michael Freyhan, 2009-10-26 Shortly after Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart's death his widow Constanze sent a manuscript copy of one of his most beloved operas Die Zauberflöte to the court of the Elector of Cologne. It was eventually published by Nicolaus Simrock in 1814 as the first full score edition. However the question still remains as to why this early copy in her possession diverges from Mozart's autograph in so many libretto details. The Authentic Magic Flute Libretto: Mozart's Autograph or the First Full Score Edition investigates the origin and claim to authenticity of the first full score edition of Die Zauberflöte drawing attention to the close bond between words and music. Michael Freyhan brings the subtlety of the first edition word setting to the attention of scholars, musicians and opera lovers setting out the evidence for its authenticity and detailing the quest pursued in 15 countries for the earliest possible historical sources. Freyhan examines the differences between the first edition and the autograph discussing the quality of the word setting supported by 32 musical examples and evaluating the relationship of the two texts in terms of language and literature. The following chapters discuss the early history of the autograph focusing on four alleged owners, its market value and the misleading catalogue numbering systems seen on the first page. Details of the performance and publication history of the first edition text are followed by a new perspective on the disputed authorship of the libretto in light of the possible existence of two authentic texts. A concluding chapter discusses Mozart's sketches and working methods while an appendix traces the character and career of Karl Ludwig Giesecke, one of the writers who claimed ownership of the opera's libretto. The book also includes several photos and the complete first edition libretto in German and with literal English translation providing a side by side text comparison with the autograph text.

Moonlight on the Magic Flute Mary Pope Osborne, 2009-03-10 The 1 bestselling chapter book series of all time celebrates 25 years with new covers and a new easy to use numbering system. Jack and Annie head to 18th century Austria where they must find and help a musician by the name of Mozart. Decked out in the craziest outfits they've ever worn including a wig for Jack and a giant hoopskirt for Annie, the two siblings search an entire palace to no avail. Their hunt is further hampered by the appearance of a mischievous little boy who is determined to follow them everywhere. But when the boy lets the animals out of the palace zoo, Jack and Annie have to use the only magic at their disposal to save themselves and the naughty little fellow. Formerly numbered as Magic Tree House 41, the title of this book is now Magic Tree House: Merlin Mission 13: Moonlight on the Magic Flute. Melting the Venusberg Heidi Epstein, 2004-10-15 This book begins with a pointed critique of the foundations of the understanding of Western music that music from Pythagoras to the Renaissance has been viewed as the source and model of order in the universe and in society Unfortunately that order was rigidly hierarchical so that over the centuries music reinforced established social prejudices particularly those against women Nowhere was this more evident than in religious music that was regarded by male ecclesiastics and scholars as the instrument of choice for taming hysterical female eruptions Through her mordant commentary on a rich selection of texts by major thinkers from two millennia of Christian theology Heidi Epstein shows in the first part of Melting the Venusberg that music as the erotic embodiment of human engenderment has been ignored or suppressed while music as the expression of transcendent harmony order and restraint has been extolled The second re constructive part of Melting the Venusberg draws on ignored sources and lost tropes from the Christian tradition as well as on insights from the music and thought of historical and contemporary woman composers and performers from Hildegard of Bingen and Lucrezia Vizzana to Rosetta Tharpe and Diamanda Galas Through this recuperative synthesis music's theological significance changes keys as it moves beyond its symbolic function as divinely ordained harmonious microcosm into more dissonant metaphorical registers Those who have ears to hear will be delighted

The Coming of Materials Science R.W. Cahn, 2001-03-16 The Coming of Materials Science both covers the discipline of materials science and draws an impressionistic map of the present state of the subject The first chapter examines the emergence of the materials science concept in both academe and industry The second and third chapters delve back into the prehistory of materials science examining the growth of such concepts as atoms crystals and thermodynamics and also examine the evolution of a number of neighbouring disciplines to see what helpful parallels might emerge The book contains numerous literature references Many refer to the earliest key papers and books while others are to sources often books offering a view of the present state of a topic Early references are to the past but as the book continues it brings the reader up to date with more recent sources The author Professor Robert Cahn FRS has striven to be critical about the history of the discipline of materials science and to draw general conclusions about scientific practice from what he has discovered about the evolution of materials science Further issues that the book highlights include What is a scientific discipline How do disciplines merge and differentiate Can a discipline also be interdisciplinary Is materials science a real discipline A large range of themes is presented in the book and readers are invited to interact with the author if they reach alternative conclusions This book is not just for reading and reference but exists to stimulate thought and provoke discussion as well
