

"Let me tell you
of the place your mother came from,
of Atlantis, the city of King Poseidon, after whom she was also named. And, much like your mother, her city
was a thing of beauty,
but also a place that bore sacrifice in its deeds and was shaped by them.

"I tell you this story
now, for the world is so big, underneath the stars, and on land, but cold to the stranger or the mad.

"No Atlantis, once
there were magics.

"The city was made by it, shaped by it.
Great wizards and warlocks and witches and warriors devised into it magical depths, and fashioned reality from mere thought.

Magic, Science, and Empire in Postcolonial Literature

Kathleen Renk, 2012-03-29 This book examines the ways in which contemporary British and British postcolonial writers in the after empire era draw connections between magic defined here as Renaissance Hermetic philosophy and science Writers such as Tom Stoppard Zadie Smith and Margaret Atwood critique both imperial science or science used in service to empire and what Renk calls imperical science a distortion of rational science which denies that reality is holistic and claims that nature can and should be conquered In warning of the dangers of imperical science these writers restore the connection between magic and science as they examine major shifts in scientific thinking across the centuries They reflect on the Copernican Revolution and the historic split between magic and science scrutinize Darwinism consider the relationship between Victorian science and pseudo science analyze twentieth century Uncertainty theories reject bio genetic engineering call for a new approach to science that reconnects science and art and ultimately endeavor to bring an end to the imperial age Overall these writers forge a new discourse that merges science with the arts and emphasizes a holistic philosophy a view shared by both Hermetic philosophy and recent scientific theories such as chaos or complexity theory Along with recent books that focus on the relationship between contemporary literature and science this work focuses on contemporary British literature s critique of science and the ways in which postcolonial literature addresses the relationship between magic science and empire

Religion, Magic, and Science in Early Modern Europe and America Allison P. Coudert, 2011-10-17 This fascinating study looks at how the seemingly incompatible forces of science magic and religion came together in the 15th 16th and 17th centuries to form the foundations of modern culture As Religion Magic and Science in Early Modern Europe and America makes clear the early modern period was one of stark contrasts witch burnings and the brilliant mathematical physics of Isaac Newton John Locke s plea for tolerance and the palpable lack of it the richness of intellectual and artistic life and the poverty of material existence for all but a tiny percentage of the population Yet for all the poverty insecurity and superstition the period produced a stunning galaxy of writers artists philosophers and scientists This book looks at the conditions that fomented the emergence of such outstanding talent innovation and invention in the period 1450 to 1800 It examines the interaction between religion magic and science during that time the impossibility of clearly differentiating between the three and the impact of these forces on the geniuses who laid the foundation for modern science and culture Magic, Science, and Religion in Early Modern Europe Mark A. Waddell, 2021-01-28 An accessible new exploration of the vibrant world of early modern Europe through a focus on magic science and religion A History of Magic and Experimental Science: The first thirteen centuries of our era Lynn Thorndike, 1923 A history of science and magic spanning the period from early Christianity through early modern Europe to the end of the 17th century

From Islands to Portraits Sergio Perosa, 2000 Throughout the long course of literature islands have accumulated uncanny connotations of death together with peculiarities of linguistic definition and expression Since the age of discovery after the Caribbean Islands America itself and later the archipelagos and atolls in the Pacific became known to travellers and conquistadores islands have been sought searched explored and physically possessed as women cultural recognition takes the form of sexual and physical possession Venus was born from the sea and is identified with an island These are the themes of the first two variations discussed in this book
