Magnificent Objects From The University Of Pennsylvania Museum Of Archaeology And Anthropology:

Magnificent Objects from the University of Pennsylvania Museum of Archaeology and Anthropology University of Pennsylvania. Museum of Archaeology and Anthropology, 2004-05-06 Since the late nineteenth century hundreds of people on behalf of the University of Pennsylvania Museum of Archaeology and Anthropology have searched for what it means to be human studying the infinite variety of human cultures The Museum's extensive collections provide vital clues in this quest For the first time curators and Museum staff present more than 220 of the most intriguing and beautiful objects from such sites as Nippur Thebes the Amazon Sitio Conte Ur of the Chaldees Borneo all resonating with an eloquence that recalls the curiosity that drove the Museum and its founders and continues to drive its contemporary researchers after more than 350 international expeditions The objects selected from African to American to Asian from Babylonian and Near Eastern to Egyptian Oceanian and Mediterranean are important even beyond their immediate individual aesthetic The depth of information recovered when they are examined in their original contexts allows experts and lay readers to reconstruct the many stories large and small that constitute the shared lives and heritage of humanity

Museums and the Ancient Middle East Geoff Emberling, Lucas P. Petit, 2018-09-06 Museums and the Ancient Middle East is the first book to focus on contemporary exhibit practice in museums that present the ancient Middle East Bringing together the latest thinking from a diverse and international group of leading curators the book presents the views of those working in one particular community of practice the art archaeology and history of the ancient Middle East Drawing upon a remarkable group of case studies from many of the world's leading museums including the British Museum the Louvre the Metropolitan Museum of Art the Ashmolean Museum and the Vorderasiatisches Museum in Berlin this volume describes the tangible actions curators have taken to present a previously unseen side of the Middle East region and its history Highlighting overlaps and distinctions between the practices of national art and university museums around the globe the contributors to the volume are also able to offer a unique insight into the types of challenges and opportunities facing the twenty first century curator Museums and the Ancient Middle East should be of interest to academics and students engaged in the study of museums and heritage archaeology the ancient Near East Middle Eastern studies and ancient history The unique insights provided by curators active in the field ensure that the book should also be of great interest to museum practitioners around the globe Journal of Anthropological Research, 1973

Iron Oxide Rock Artefacts in Mesopotamia c. 2600-1200 BC Martine Marieke Melein, 2018-09-30 The flourishing civilisations of Mesopotamia imported all kinds of materials from the surrounding regions Iron oxide rock was very popular for weight stones and cylinder seals around 2000 BC This research aims to determine the region of origin for the raw material what made people start using iron oxide rock and what led them to stop using it

Distributed Objects Liana Chua,Mark Elliott,2013-03-01 One of the most influential anthropological works of the last two decades Alfred Gell's Art and Agency is a provocative and ambitious work that both challenged and reshaped anthropological understandings of art agency creativity and the social It has become a touchstone in contemporary artifact based scholarship This volume brings together leading anthropologists archaeologists art historians and other scholars into an interdisciplinary dialogue with Art and Agency generating a timely re engagement with the themes issues and arguments at the heart of Gell's work which remains salient and controversial in the social sciences and humanities Extending his theory into new territory from music to literary technology and ontology to technological change the contributors do not simply take stock but also provoke critically reassessing this important work while using it to challenge conceptual and disciplinary boundaries

Searching for Ancient Egypt University of Pennsylvania. Museum of Archaeology and Anthropology,David P.

Silverman,Edward Brovanski,1997 A handsome well printed book which serves as an excellent introduction to a civilization that led the ancient Near East in social organization painting and sculpture The Jerusalem Post The Villa Dei Papiri at Herculaneum Carol C. Mattusch,Henry Lie,2005 The Villa dei Papiri at Herculaneum buried during the eruption of Mt Vesuvius in A D 79 then rediscovered in 1750 contained a large collection of bronze and marble statuary and busts Before they were published or exhibited the sculptures were restored so as to appear whole it is thus that they helped to shape early modern tastes in classical sculpture The book describes the nature of the ancient sculptures and their impact on the modern public Their chance discovery affected the interpretation of the statues their styles and subjects over the course of the next 250 years The ancient sculptures were copied extensively in reproductions of various sizes and patinas The author traces the popularity of these copies in Europe and America Also presented in the book is a technical study of the production techniques and materials of the sculptures as well as of their modern restoration history Scientific analyses and detailed photographs reveal both how the pieces were cast and pieced together in antiquity and how they were restored in the eighteenth century Even though this collection has been known for two and a half centuries this book covers for the first time the eclectic nature of the sculptures their actual condition and their quality pointing in some cases to mass production
