Multiple Identities Of The Middle East:

The Multiple Identities of the Middle East Bernard Lewis, 1999 The Middle East is the birthplace of ancient civilizations but most of the modern states that occupy its territory today are of recent origin as are many key concepts of communal and individual identity and loyalty that the peoples of the region now confront In The Multiple Identities of the Middle East eminent Middle East historian Bernard Lewis elucidates the critical role of identity in the domestic regional and international tensions and conflicts of the Middle East today Examining religion race and language country nation and state Lewis traces the rapid evolution of the identities of the Middle Eastern peoples from the collapse of the centuries old Ottoman Empire in 1918 to today s clash of old and new allegiances He shows how during the twentieth century imported Western ideas such as liberalism fascism socialism patriotism and nationalism have transformed Middle Easterners ancient notions of community their self perceptions and their aspirations To this fascinating historical portrait Lewis brings an understanding of the region and its peoples as well as a profound sympathy for the plight that the modern world has imposed on them The result is an invaluable tool in our understanding of an area that is of increasing global importance and concern today

Non-Muslims in Muslim Majority Societies Kajsa Ahlstand, Goran Gunner, 2011-09-29 In a world where almost all societies are multi religious and multi ethnic we need to study how social cohesion can be achieved in different contexts In some geographical areas as in the Middle East and the Indian subcontinent people of different religious belonging have through the ages lived side by side sometimes in harmony and sometimes in dissonance In other geographical regions as in Scandinavia societies have been quite religiously homogeneous but only recently challenged by immigration In both locations the relations between religious minority and majority are very much on the agenda In order to discuss the situation for non Muslims in Muslim majority societies a consultation was convened with both Muslim and Christian participants from Pakistan Palestine Lebanon and Sweden Some of the participants work in academic settings others in faith based organisations some in jurisprudence and others with theological issues Non Muslims in Muslim Majority Societies is the result of that consultation The intention of the book is to trigger reflection and further thinking through papers that discuss issues such as freedom of religion minority rights secular and religious legislation and inter religious dialogue in Muslim majority societies Although the articles are presented as works in progress and remain tentative in many of their conclusions this book is an important contribution to the global debate over religious tolerance and religious pluralism

Identity and Foreign Policy in the Middle East Shibley Telhami, Michael N. Barnett, 2002 Shibley Telhami and Michael Barnett together with experts on Egypt Iran Iraq Israel Jordan and Syria explore how the formation and transformation of national and state identities affect the foreign policy behavior of Middle Eastern states
