Mundane Reasoning By Parallel Constraint Satisfaction:

Mundane Reasoning by Parallel Constraint Satisfaction Carnegie-Mellon University. Computer Science Dept, Mark Derthick, 1988 Mundane Reasoning by Parallel Constraint Satisfaction Mark Derthick, 1990 Parallelism and Programming in Classifier Systems Stephanie Forrest, 1991 By Stephanie Forrest Principles of Knowledge Representation and Reasoning Bernhard Nebel, Charles Rich, William R. Swartout, 1992 Stringently reviewed papers presented at the October 1992 meeting held in Cambridge Mass address such topics as nonmonotonic logic taxonomic logic specialized algorithms for temporal spatial and numerical reasoning and knowledge representation issues in planning diagnosis and natural language

Meta-level Inference Systems Frank Van Harmelen, 1991 Parallel Processing for Artificial Intelligence 1 L.N. Kanal, H. Kitano, V. Kumar, C.B. Suttner, 2014-06-28 Parallel processing for AI problems is of great current interest because of its potential for alleviating the computational demands of AI procedures The articles in this book consider parallel processing for problems in several areas of artificial intelligence image processing knowledge representation in semantic networks production rules mechanization of logic constraint satisfaction parsing of natural language data filtering and data mining The publication is divided into six sections The first addresses parallel computing for processing and understanding images The second discusses parallel processing for semantic networks which are widely used means for representing knowledge methods which enable efficient and flexible processing of semantic networks are expected to have high utility for building large scale knowledge based systems The third section explores the automatic parallel execution of production systems which are used extensively in building rule based expert systems systems containing large numbers of rules are slow to execute and can significantly benefit from automatic parallel execution The exploitation of parallelism for the mechanization of logic is dealt with in the fourth section While sequential control aspects pose problems for the parallelization of production systems logic has a purely declarative interpretation which does not demand a particular evaluation strategy In this area therefore very large search spaces provide significant potential for parallelism In particular this is true for automated theorem proving The fifth section considers the problem of constraint satisfaction which is a useful abstraction of a number of important problems in AI and other fields of computer science It also discusses the technique of consistent labeling as a preprocessing step in the constraint satisfaction problem Section VI consists of two articles each on a different important topic The first discusses parallel formulation for the Tree Adjoining Grammar TAG which is a powerful formalism for describing natural languages The second examines the suitability of a parallel programming paradigm called Linda for solving problems in artificial intelligence Each of the areas discussed in the book holds many open problems but it is believed that parallel processing will form a key ingredient in achieving at least partial solutions It is hoped that the contributions sourced from experts around the world will inspire readers to take on these challenging areas of inquiry Computational Architectures Integrating Neural and Symbolic Processes Ron Sun, Lawrence A. Bookman, 1994-11-30 Computational

Architectures Integrating Neural and Symbolic Processes A Perspective on the State of the Art focuses on a currently emerging body of research With the reemergence of neural networks in the 1980s with their emphasis on overcoming some of the limitations of symbolic AI there is clearly a need to support some form of high level symbolic processing in connectionist networks As argued by many researchers on both the symbolic AI and connectionist sides many cognitive tasks e g language understanding and common sense reasoning seem to require high level symbolic capabilities How these capabilities are realized in connectionist networks is a difficult question and it constitutes the focus of this book Computational Architectures Integrating Neural and Symbolic Processes addresses the underlying architectural aspects of the integration of neural and symbolic processes In order to provide a basis for a deeper understanding of existing divergent approaches and provide insight for further developments in this field this book presents 1 an examination of specific architectures grouped together according to their approaches their strengths and weaknesses why they work and what they predict and 2 a critique comparison of these approaches Computational Architectures Integrating Neural and Symbolic Processes is of interest to researchers graduate students and interested laymen in areas such as cognitive science artificial intelligence computer science cognitive psychology and neurocomputing in keeping up to date with the newest research trends It is a comprehensive in depth introduction to this new emerging field

Neural Networks for Knowledge Representation and Inference Daniel S. Levine, Manuel Aparicio IV, 2013-04-15 The second published collection based on a conference sponsored by the Metroplex Institute for Neural Dynamics the first is Motivation Emotion and Goal Direction in Neural Networks LEA 1992 this book addresses the controversy between symbolicist artificial intelligence and neural network theory A particular issue is how well neural networks well established for statistical pattern matching can perform the higher cognitive functions that are more often associated with symbolic approaches This controversy has a long history but recently erupted with arguments against the abilities of renewed neural network developments More broadly than other attempts the diverse contributions presented here not only address the theory and implementation of artificial neural networks for higher cognitive functions but also critique the history of assumed epistemologies both neural networks and AI and include several neurobiological studies of human cognition as a real system to guide the further development of artificial ones Organized into four major sections this volume outlines the history of the AI neural network controversy the strengths and weaknesses of both approaches and shows the various capabilities such as generalization and discreteness as being along a broad but common continuum introduces several explicit theoretical structures demonstrating the functional equivalences of neurocomputing with the staple objects of computer science and AI such as sets and graphs shows variants on these types of networks that are applied in a variety of spheres including reasoning from a geographic database legal decision making story comprehension and performing arithmetic operations discusses knowledge representation process in living organisms including evidence from experimental psychology behavioral neurobiology and electroencephalographic responses to sensory stimuli Rationality In An Uncertain World Nick Chater, Mike Oaksford, 2004-08-02 The essays in this work focus on problems with logic based approaches to human reasoning showing how a probabilistic approach can provide a more psychologically plausible computationally viable and philosophically respectable account of human 11th Annual Conference Cognitive Science Society Pod Cognitive Science Society, 2014-01-02 First published in 1989 This Program discusses The Eleventh Annual Conference of the Cognitive Science Society August 1989 in Ann Arbor Michigan The book begins with 66 paper presentations and concludes with 59 poster presentations across over 1000 pages This program also includes a comprehensive author listing with affiliations and titles
