Old Wine New Bottles A Humanist Teacher At Work:

Old Wine, New Bottles Moses Hadas,1962      Liberal Education and the Canon Laura Christian Ford,1994 Liberal Education and the Canon is not written for the specialist it is intended to be both informative to scholars and accessible to persons with no prior familiarity with the five texts discussed Written in lucid jargon free prose it is a unique blending of the timeless with the timely Drawing from sources as long ago as Homer and as recent as current headlines this book makes the continuity of the human experience evident      The Idea of the Book in the Middle Ages Jesse Gellrich,2019-03-15 This book assess the relationship of literature to various other cultural forms in the Middle Ages Jesse M Gellrich uses the insights of such thinkers as Levi Strauss Foucault Barthes and Derrida to explore the continuity of medieval ideas about speaking writing and texts      Don Quixote, Don Juan, and Related Subjects James A. Parr,2004 This is a study of major figures texts and periods in Spanish literature prior to 1700 It applies and interrogates modern critical theory Contributing to its cohesiveness are the time span addressed 1330 1630 and the emphasis throughout on literary tradition and critical approaches It is inspired partly by Ramiro de Maeztu s 1926 monograph Don Quixote Don Juan y la Celestina devoted to the three characters Maeztu felt to be the most important in the Spanish literary canon include Celestina The volume is divided into three parts The first of these deals with Don Quixote the second centers around the Don Juan figure created by Tirso de Molina while the third ventures farther back in time to treat the major texts of the fourteenth fifteenth and sixteenth centuries along with the problematic period concepts Renaissance and Baroque James A Parr is Professor of Spanish at the University of California Riverside      Ventures in Social Interpretation Henry Winthrop,1968      Man and Management T. G. Spates,1965      Bulletin from Virginia Kirkus' Service Kirkus Service,1962      The Alcalde ,1965-03 As the magazine of the Texas Exes The Alcalde has united alumni and friends of The University of Texas at Austin for nearly 100 years The Alcalde serves as an intellectual crossroads where UT s luminaries artists engineers executives musicians attorneys journalists lawmakers and professors among them meet bimonthly to exchange ideas Its pages also offer a place for Texas Exes to swap stories and share memories of Austin and their alma mater The magazine s unique name is Spanish for mayor or chief magistrate the nickname of the governor who signed UT into existence was The Old Alcalde      The Classical World ,1917      New York Times Saturday Book Review Supplement ,1962-12      American Book Publishing Record ,1968      The Legacy of Isocrates and a Platonic Alternative James R. Muir,2018-07-27 Bringing together the history of educational philosophy political philosophy and rhetoric this book examines the influence of the philosopher Isocrates on educational thought and the history of education Unifying philosophical and historical arguments Muir discusses the role of Isocrates in raising two central questions What is the value of education By what methods ought the value of education to be determined Tracing the historical influence of Isocrates ideas of the nature and value of education from Antiquity to the modern era Muir questions normative assumptions about the foundations of education and considers the future status of education as an academic discipline     Classical Views ,1971     The Classical Weekly ,1918     The School Library Media Center Ruth Ann Davies,1974 Examines current changes and trends in school librarianship and suggests guidelines for achieving an effective library media program     Adult Catalog: Subjects Los Angeles County Public Library,1970     Beyond Reception Patrick Baker,Johannes Helmreich,Craig Kallendorf,2019-04-01 Beyond Reception applies a new concept for analyzing cultural change known as transformation the study of Renaissance humanism Traditional scholarship takes the Renaissance humanists at their word that they were simply viewing the ancient world as it actually was and recreating its key features within their own culture Initially modern studies in the classical tradition accepted this claim and saw this process as largely passive Transformation theory emphasizes the active role played by the receiving culture both in constructing a vision of the past and in transforming that vision into something that was a meaningful part of the later culture A chapter that explains the terminology and workings of transformation theory is followed by essays by nine established experts that suggest how the key disciplines of grammar rhetoric history poetry and philosophy in the Renaissance represent transformations of what went on in these fields in ancient Greece and Rome The picture that emerges suggests that Renaissance humanism as it was actually practiced both received and transformed the classical past at the same time as it constructed a vision of that past that still resonates today     Human Nature in an Age of Biotechnology Tamar Sharon,2013-10-11 New biotechnologies have propelled the question of what it means to be human or posthuman to the forefront of societal and scientific consideration This volume provides an accessible critical overview of the main approaches in the debate on posthumanism and argues that they do not adequately address the question of what it means to be human in an age of biotechnology Not because they belong to rival political camps but because they are grounded in a humanist ontology that presupposes a radical separation between human subjects and technological objects The volume offers a comprehensive mapping of posthumanist discourse divided into four broad approaches two humanist based approaches dystopic and liberal posthumanism and two non humanist approaches radical and methodological posthumanism The author compares and contrasts these models via an exploration of key issues from human enhancement to eugenics to new configurations of biopower questioning what role technology plays in defining the boundaries of the human the subject and nature for each Building on the contributions and limitations of radical and methodological posthumanism the author develops a novel perspective mediated posthumanism that brings together insights in the philosophy of technology the sociology of biomedicine and Michel Foucault's work on ethical subject constitution In this framework technology is neither a neutral tool nor a force that alienates humanity from itself but something that is always already part of the experience of being human and subjectivity is viewed as an emergent property that is constantly being shaped and transformed by its engagements with biotechnologies Mediated posthumanism becomes a tool for identifying novel ethical modes of human experience that are richer and more multifaceted than current posthumanist perspectives allow for The book will be essential reading for students and scholars working on ethics and technology philosophy of technology poststructuralism technology and the body and medical ethics     Hyperculture Stephen Bertman, 1998-04-30 The rampant illnesses of our society including the disintegration of the family the degradation of the environment unlimited commercialism and unrelenting stress are familiar to us all For the first time Stephen Bertman attempts to explain these disparate overwhelmingly negative phenomena with a single unifying principle that the accelerated pace of American society is eroding the essence of our most fundamental values In 1970 Alvin Toffler identified a psycho biological disease he called future shock caused by too much change in too short a time Now Bertman daringly diagnoses an even more serious condition hyperculture a chronic warping of morals and ethics caused by America s addiction to speed The treatment he argues in this book will require nothing less than a drastic slowdown we must reassert control over the technologies that now dominate us in order to insure a humane future for our children and ourselves We live according to Bertman in a society ruled by the power of now a power that gives us instant gratification even as it demands our instantaneous obedience As a result we have adapted our lives and values to match the speed of light electronic technologies that surround us But in so doing we have paid a high price in spirit and mind Cut off from the wisdom of the past and too rushed to consider the consequences of our actions we are caught up in a culture of sensationalism and transience in which the very definitions of personal identity and democracy are being transformed Hyperculture dares to suggest that the cure for our condition lies not in an information superhighway or third wave information revolution but in the radical and painful process of decelerating our lives enough to reclaim them It is a daunting challenge to be sure but one on which our happiness and even our survival depend     The Journal of Higher Education ,1966 Covers topics in higher education Includes book reviews
