Old Yorkshire:

Old Yorkshire, 1890 Yorkshire Dialect in the Nineteenth Century Paul Cooper, 2025-03-25 This book draws on a framework of enregisterment and indexicality to chart the ways in which the Yorkshire dialect came to be associated with particular linguistic repertoires and social stereotypes from the nineteenth century through to today Cooper situates the work within a historical enregisterment framework rooted in an ideological approach to the study of language Focusing on representations of the Yorkshire dialect in a corpus of nineteenth century writing comprising poetry ballads songs and plays Cooper explores how the dialect came to be enregistered and indexical of social values such as friendliness directness or authenticity and how sub varieties impacted the division of communities along ideological lines The volume also includes qualitative analyses of metalinguistic commentary from such historical sources as dictionaries glossaries and magazines Taken together the book offers a holistic picture of the evolution of the Yorkshire dialect and in turn stereotypes of Yorkshireness which persist to this day Cooper shows how an enregisterment approach can offer a deeper understanding of the historical relationships between dialect and identity and in turn contemporary perceptions of dialects and their speakers This volume will be of interest to students and scholars in historical sociolinguistics dialectology and English language

Accents of English: Volume 2 John C. Wells, 1982-04-08 Accents of English is about the way English is pronounced by different people in different places Volume 1 provides a synthesizing introduction which shows how accents vary not only geographically but also with social class formality sex and age and in volumes 2 and 3 the author examines in greater depth the various accents used by people who speak English as their mother tongue the accents of the regions of England Wales Scotland and Ireland volume 2 and of the USA Canada the West Indies Australia New Zealand South Africa India Black Africa and the Far East volume 3 Each volume can be read independently and together they form a major scholarly survey of considerable originality which not only includes descriptions of hitherto neglected accents but also examines the implications for phonological theory Readers will find the answers to many questions Who makes good rhyme with mood Which accents have no voiced sibilants How is a Canadian accent different from an American one a New Zealand one from an Australian one a Jamaican one from a Barbadian one What are the historical reasons for British American pronunciation differences What sound changes are currently in progress in New York in London in Edinburgh Dr Wells has written principally for students of linguistics phonetics and English language but the motivated general reader will also find the study both fascinating and rewarding Journal of the Royal Agricultural Society of England Royal Agricultural Society of England, 1864 Vols for 1933 include the society's Farmers guide to agricultural research The Meteorology of Enland James Glaisher, 1863

Encyclopedia Of Freemasonry And Its Kindred Sciences, Volume 3: M-R Albert G. Mackey, Dr Albert G Mackey appears as author of this Encyclopedia of Freemasonry and its Kindred Sciences which being a library in itself superseded most of the Masonic works which have been tolerated by the craft chiefly because none better could be obtained Here is a work which fulfils the hope which sustained the author through ten years literary labor that under one cover he would furnish every Mason who might consult its pages the means of acquiring a knowledge of all matters connected with the science the philosophy and the history of his order Up to the present time the modern literature of Freemasonry has been diffuse lumbering unreliable and out of all reasonable proportions There is in Mackey s Encyclopaedia of Masonry well digested well arranged and confined within reasonable limits all that a Mason can desire to find in a book exclusively devoted to the history the arts science and literature of Masonry This is volume three out of four and covering the letters M to R
