Alternative Visions of Post-War Reconstruction John Pendlebury,Erdem Erten,Larkham Peter,2014-08-19 The history of post Second World War reconstruction has recently become an important field of research around the world Alternative Visions of Post War Reconstruction is a provocative work that questions the orthodoxies of twentieth century design history This book provides a key critical statement on mid twentieth century urban design and city planning focused principally upon the period between the start of the Second World War to the mid sixties The various figures and currents covered here represent a largely overlooked field within the history of 20th century urbanism In this period while certain modernist practices assumed an institutional role for post war reconstruction and flourished into the mainstream such practices also faced opposition and criticism leading to the production of alternative visions and strategies Spanning from a historically informed modernism to the increasing presence of urban conservation the contributors examine these alternative approaches to the city and its architecture

Cultural Landscapes of Post-Socialist Cities Mariusz Czepczynski,2016-04-22 The cultural landscapes of Central European cities reflect over half a century of socialism and are marked by the Marxists vision of a utopian landscape Architecture urban planning and the visual arts were considered to be powerful means of expressing the people s power However since the velvet revolutions of 1989 this urban scenery has been radically transformed by new forces and trends infused by the free market democracy and liberalization This has led to landscape cleansing and recycling as these former communist nations used new architectural functional and social forms to transform their urbanscapes their meanings and uses Comparing case studies from different post socialist cities this book examines the culturally conditional variations between local powers and structures despite the similarities in the general processes and systems It considers the contemporary cultural landscapes of these post socialist cities as a dynamic fusion of the old communist forms and new free market meanings features and democratic practices of global influences and local icons The book assesses whether these urbanscapes clearly reflect the social cultural and political conditions and aspirations of these transitional countries and so a critical analysis of them provides important insights
