Creating Aging-Friendly Communities Andrew Scharlach, Amanda Lehning, 2015-11-16 Creating Aging Friendly Communities CAFC examines the need to redesign America s communities to respond to the realities of our rapidly aging society The text focuses on the interface between individuals and their environments and the ways in which communities can enhance individual and community well being What differentiates CAFC from other books is its breadth of focus its comprehensive and evidence based consideration of key concepts its inclusion of social as well as physical infrastructure characteristics and its intensive examination of models of community change for fostering aging friendliness It presents a conceptually and empirically based model of aging friendliness identifies environmental modifications that could enhance individual and community well being outlines a typology of community change approaches and considers the potential efficacy of those approaches This book identifies practical implications for policies programs and knowledge development designed to help communities become more aging friendly Creating Aging-friendly Communities Andrew E. Scharlach, Amanda J. Lehning, 2016 Creating Aging Friendly Communities examines the need to redesign America's communities to respond to our aging society What differentiates it from other books is its breadth of focus evidence based consideration of key infrastructure characteristics and examination of the strengths and limitations of promising approaches for fostering aging friendly communities The Global Age-Friendly Community Movement Philip B. Stafford, 2018-10-19 The age friendly community movement is a global phenomenon currently growing with the support of the WHO and multiple international and national organizations in the field of aging Drawing on an extensive collection of international case studies this volume provides an introduction to the movement The contributors both researchers and practitioners touch on a number of current tensions and issues in the movement and offer a wide ranging set of recommendations for advancing age friendly community development The book concludes with a call for a radical transformation of a medical and lifestyle model of aging into a relational model of health and social individual wellbeing Age in America Corinne T. Field, Nicholas L. Syrett, 2015-05-22 Eighteen Twenty one Sixty five In America today we recognize these numbers as key transitions in our lives precise moments when our rights and opportunities change when we become eligible to cast a vote buy a drink or enroll in Medicare This volume brings together scholars of childhood adulthood and old age to explore how and why particular ages have come to define the rights and obligations of American citizens Since the founding of the nation Americans have relied on chronological age to determine matters as diverse as who can marry work be enslaved drive a car or qualify for a pension Contributors to this volume explore what meanings people in the past ascribed to specific ages and whether or not earlier Americans believed the same things about particular ages as we do The means by which Americans imposed chronological boundaries upon the variable process of growing up and growing old offers a paradigmatic example of how people construct cultural meaning and social hierarchy from embodied experience Further chronological age always intersects with other socially constructed categories such as gender race and sexuality Ranging from the seventeenth century to the present taking up a variety of distinct subcultures from frontier children and antebellum slaves to twentieth century Latinas Age in America makes a powerful case that age has always been a key index of citizenship Encyclopedia of Health Services Research Ross M. Mullner, 2009-05-15 Today as never before healthcare has the ability to enhance the quality and duration of life At the same time healthcare has become so costly that it can easily bankrupt governments and impoverish individuals and families Health services research is a highly multidisciplinary field including such areas as health administration health economics medical sociology medicine political science public health and public policy The Encyclopedia of Health Services Research is the first single reference source to capture the diversity and complexity of the field With more than 400 entries

Aging and the Art of Living Jan Baars, 2012-10-01 Baars explores philosophers from Plato to Foucault as they consider the meaning of aging and wisdom in our society In this deeply considered meditation on aging in Western culture Jan Baars argues that in today's world living longer does not necessarily mean living better He contends that there has been an overall loss of respect for aging to the point that understanding and dealing with aging people has become a process focused on the decline of potential and the advance of disease rather than on the accumulation of wisdom and the creation of new skills To make his case Baars compares and contrasts the works of such modern era thinkers as Foucault Heidegger and Husserl with the thought of Plato Aristotle Sophocles Cicero and other Ancient and Stoic philosophers He shows how people in the classical period less able to control health hazards had a far better sense of the provisional nature of living which led to a philosophical and religious emphasis on cultivating the art of living and the idea of wisdom This is not to say that modern society's assessments of aging are insignificant but they do need to balance an emphasis on the measuring of age with the concept of living in time Gerontologists philosophers and students will find Baars discussion to be a powerful perceptive conversation starter

Handbook of Long-Term Care

Administration and Policy Cynthia Massie Mara, Laura Olson, 2008-03-27 Attitudes toward long term care contain a strong residue of negativity in today's society and current problems with the system augment such perceptions Unless dealt with now this will only get worse as the 85 and older crowd is the fastest growing part of the population and the first wave of Baby Boomers is approaching 60 Exploring and delineating

Extraordinary Forms of Aging Julia Velten, 2022-10-07 While aging and the life course appear to be normalized processes the complex construction of age at the intersection of biology society and culture remains opaque This study contributes to a deeper understanding of aging by exploring its construction through the analysis of extraordinary cases Focusing on life narratives of centenarians and children with progeria Julia Velten analyzes the way in which these people experience aging and shows how these experiences can contribute to our understanding of age Situated at the intersection of aging studies and medical humanities the study explores what extraordinary aging can tell us about aging processes in general

Rights of the Elderly Fred C. Pampel, 2008 Rights of the Elderly provides an overview of the history of this timely topic and the opinions surrounding it from the Social Security Act of 1935 to the current activism of groups such as AARP and the Gray Panthers Examining recent court cases such as Kathi Cooper et al v IBM Personal Pension Plan and IBM Corporation and documents such as The Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967 this new volume provides multiple perspectives and decisions surrounding this issue while also plotting a course for the future of legislative action A comprehensive and up to date overview essay capsule biographies a large annotated bibliography a chronology of significant events organization and agency listings and a glossary provide useful information for students teachers librarians older persons activists policy makers and the general reader interested in this controversial issue

Kinship and Cohort in an Aging Society Merrill Silverstein, Roseann Giarrusso, 2013-09 According to family sociologist Vern Bengtson generations within families are important sources of influence change and development Kinship and Cohort in an Aging Society brings together scholars whose common link is their intellectual intersection with the work of Vern Bengtson an esteemed family sociologist whose accomplishments include foundational theoretical contributions to the study of families and intergenerational relations as well as the development of the widely used Longitudinal Study of Generations data set The study began in 1971 and is the basis for Bengtson's highly influential concept and measurement model the intergenerational solidarity conflict paradigm This book serves as an excellent compendium of original research that examines how Bengtson's solidarity model, a theory that informs nearly all intergenerational and gerontology sociology work performed today, continues to be relevant to scholars and practitioners. Written by internationally recognized scholars, the book's fifteen chapters are mapped to five major thematic areas to which Bengtson's research contributed: family connections, grandparents in a changing demographic landscape, generations and cohorts, micro-macro dialectics, religion, and families in the context of continuity, change, and conflict, and global, cross-national, and cross-ethnic concerns. Key strengths of the book include the diversity of foci and data sources and the strong attention given to global and international issues. Kinship and Cohort in an Aging Society will appeal to scholars working in sociology, psychology, gerontology, family studies, and social work.

Spiritual Dimensions of Ageing Malcolm Johnson, Joanna Walker, 2016-11-24 Our understandings of both ageing and spirituality are changing rapidly in the twenty-first century, and grasping the significance of later life spirituality is now crucial in the context of extended longevity. Spiritual Dimensions of Ageing will inform and engage those who study or practise in all fields that relate to the lives of older people, especially in social, psychological, and health-related domains, but also wherever the maintenance and development of spiritual meaning and purpose are recognised as important for human flourishing. Bringing together an international group of leading scholars across the fields of psychology, theology, history, philosophy, sociology, and gerontology, the volume distils the latest advances in research on spirituality and ageing and engages in vigorous discussion about how we can interpret this learning for the benefit of older people and those who seek to serve and support them.

The Developing Person Through the Life Span Kathleen Stassen Berger, 2011-02-18 The seventh edition comes with significant revision of cognitive development throughout childhood, revised and updated chapters on adolescence, and more attention to emerging and early adulthood. It is a thorough revision with new research on everything from genetics to the timing of puberty, including brain development, life-span disorders, and cultural diversity. It also includes new learning features promoting critical thinking, revision, and application. Product description.

Aging Together Susan H. McFadden, John T. McFadden, 2014-03-15 Drawing on medicine, social science, philosophy, and religion to provide a broad perspective on aging, Aging Together offers a vision of relationships filled with love, joy, and hope in the face of a condition that all too often elicits anxiety, hopelessness, and despair.

Community Risk Reduction: Principles and Practices Beverley Walker, 2021-07-01 The first of its kind, this innovative new textbook provides a concise and comprehensive look at Community Risk Reduction for emergency services organizations.

Chasing Methuselah Todd T. W. Daly, 2021-02-04 The quest to live much longer has moved from legend to the laboratory. Recent breakthroughs in genetics and pharmacology have put humanity on the precipice of slowing down human aging to extend the healthy life span. The promise of longer, healthier life is enormously attractive and poses several challenging questions for Christians. Who wouldn't want to live 120 years or more before dying quickly? How do we make sense of human aging in light of Jesus' invitation to daily take up our crosses with the promise of the resurrection to come? Is there anything wrong with manipulating our bodies technologically to live longer?

If so how long is too long Should aging itself be treated as a disease In Chasing Methuselah Todd Daly examines the modern biomedical anti aging project from a Christian perspective drawing on the ancient wisdom of the Desert Fathers who believed that the incarnation opened a way for human life to regain the longevity of Adam and the biblical patriarchs through prayer and fasting Daly balances these insights with the christological anthropology of Karl Barth discussing the implications for human finitude fear of death and the use of anti aging technology weaving a path between outright condemnation and uncritical enthusiasm Robert N. Butler, MD Andy Achenbaum,2013-09-10 Robert Neil Butler 1927 2010 was a scholar researcher and Pulitzer Prize winning author who revolutionized the way the world thinks about aging Emphasizing the progressive aspects of his approach and insight Achenbaum affirms the ongoing relevance of Butler s work to gerontology geriatrics medicine social work and other fields Ageing, meaning and social structure Baars, Jan,Dohmen, Joseph,Grenier, Amanda,Phillipson, Chris,2014-08-20 Ageing meaning and social structure is a unique book advancing critical discourse in gerontology and makes a major contribution to understanding key social and ethical dilemmas facing ageing societies It confronts and integrates approaches that have been relatively isolated from each other and interrelates two major streams of thought within critical gerontology analyses of structural issues in the context of political economy and humanistic perspectives on issues of existential meaning The chapters from a wide range of contributors focus on major issues in ageing such as autonomy agency frailty lifestyle social isolation dementia and professional challenges in social work and participatory research This volume should be valuable reading for scholars and graduate students in gerontology and humanistic studies as well as for policy makers and practitioners working in the field of ageing
