American Penology Thomas G. Blomberg,2017-07-12 The purpose of American Penology is to provide a story of punishment s past present and likely future The story begins in the 1600s in the setting of colonial America and ends in the present As the story evolves through various historical and contemporary settings America s efforts to understand and control crime unfold The context ideas practices and consequences of various reforms in the ways crime is punished are described and examined Though the book s broader scope and purpose can be distinguished from prior efforts it necessarily incorporates many contributions from this rich literature While this enlarged second edition incorporates select descriptions and contingencies in relation to particular eras and punishment ideas and practices it does not limit itself to individual histories of these eras Instead it uses history to frame and help explain particular punishment ideas and practices in relation to the period and context from which they evolved The authors focus upon selected demographic economic political religious and intellectual contingencies that are associated with historical and contemporary eras to show how these contingencies shaped America s punishment ideals and practices In offering a new understanding of received notions of crime control in this edition Blomberg and Lucken not only provide insights into the future of punishment but also show how the larger culture of control extends beyond the field of criminology to have an impact on declining levels of democracy freedom and privacy

Perspectives on Elderly Crime and Victimization Peter C. Kratcoski, Maximilian Edelbacher, 2025-09-26 The updated second edition of this textbook focuses on understanding and addressing the criminality and victimization experienced by the elderly population globally It offers insights into the prevalence of elderly crime and victimization through international comparisons and explores effective strategies to tackle this issue The book covers a wide range of topics including the types of crimes committed by the elderly the characteristics of older offenders and the responses of the criminal justice system such as diversion programs and community based treatments It also delves into specialized programs providing health and mental health services for older prisoners Furthermore the new edition expands on processing and rehabilitation approaches for elderly offenders along with services aimed at preventing protecting and caring for elderly victims It also includes comparative international research on crime prevention methods and legislative measures making it a valuable resource for students in criminology criminal justice sociology and gerontology

Environmental Psychology Tony Cassidy, 2013-10-31 This text contains an up to date survey of theory research and practice in environmental psychology drawing on international literature It adopts the perspective that physical and social factors are inextricably linked in their influence on human behaviour and experience and that the world in which we live is changed and often damaged by human action Throughout the text the issues which are important in contemporary psychology such as levels of explanation methodological diversity and the relationship between psychology and other disciplines are brought to the fore The text covers established areas of environmental concern and also brings together research on rarely covered topics such as the effects of smell colour and light and the way in which physical environments influence social identity

Ageing, Crime and Society Azrini Wahidin, Maureen Cain, 2013-05-13 The relationship between ageing and crime has been a much neglected issue the focus rather being on youth This books aims to redress this imbalance bringing together a group of leading authorities to address key issues on the subject of crime and ageing considering older people as both victims and perpetrators of crime and looking too at conditions faced by older prisoners The book draws upon both criminology and gerontology as well as sociology and social policy to help understand the complex relationship between ageing and the criminal justice system and argues that the needs of elders must be far more firmly on the penal policy agenda than is the case currently Ageing Crime and Society will be concerned with unsilencing a group who because of their age and status have been muted by the criminal justice system Trends in History ,1990
