Oliver Cromwells Letters And Speeches With Elucid:

Oliver Cromwell's Letters and Speeches Oliver Cox, Thomas Carlyle, 1873 Oliver Cromwell's Letters and Speeches Oliver Cromwell, Thomas Carlyle, 1929 Oliver Cromwell's Letters and Speeches Thomas Carlyle, 1926 Works: Oliver Cromwell's letters and speeches Thomas Carlyle, 1885 Imperfect Histories Ann Rigney, 2018-09-05 Imperfect Histories puts imperfection at the heart of a theory of historical representation Ann Rigney shows how historical writing involves dealing with intractable subjects that resist our efforts to know and to shape them Those who write history she says engage in an ongoing struggle to match up what they find relevant in the past with the information and interpretive models at their disposal Chronic dissatisfaction is at the heart of historical practice This is especially evident in the various attempts made over the last two centuries to write an alternative history of everyday experience Focusing on historical writing in the last decades of the eighteenth century and the first half of the nineteenth Rigney analyzes a wide range of works by Walter Scott Jules Michelet Augustin Thierry and Thomas Carlyle She shows how the attempt to write an alternative history brought historical writing into a close yet fraught relationship with literature The result is a new account of that relationship as it took shape in the romantic period and as it continues to influence contemporary practices Carlyle and the Burden of History John D. Rosenberg, 1985 Catalogue of the London Library, St. James Square, London. Historicism and the Human Sciences in Victorian Britain Mark Bevir, 2017-03-10 Historicism and the Human Sciences in Victorian Britain explores the rise and nature of historicist thinking about such varied topics as life race character literature language economics empire and law The contributors show that the Victorians typically understood life and society as developing historically in a way that made history central to their intellectual inquiries and their public culture Although their historicist ideas drew on some Enlightenment themes they drew at least as much on organic ideas and metaphors in ways that lent them a developmental character This developmental historicism flourished alongside evolutionary motifs and romantic ideas of the self The human sciences were approached through narratives and often narratives of reason and progress Life individuals society government and literature all unfolded gradually in accord with underlying principles such as those of rationality nationhood and liberty This book will appeal to those interested in Victorian Britain historiography and intellectual history Report of the British and Foreign School Society British and Foreign School Society, 1906
