Omega A Novel:

Omega Jack McDevitt, 2004-10-26 A civilization destroying omega cloud has switched direction heading straight for a previously unexplored planetary system and its alien society And suddenly a handful of brave humans must try to save an entire world without revealing their existence

OMEGA Sidney St. James, 1900 OMEGA The Lost City of Altinova Omega Chronicles Book One Science fiction really is the only genre which lets you use your imagination without limitations When writing the Lost City of Altinova I found it was like taking the shackles off my imagination allowing me to go anywhere with this genre A thrill seeking professor William Knight a former recipient of the Nobel Prize in Archeology from Texas A M University and two of his graduate assistants one from Austin Texas and another from Calgary Canada attempt to cross the Atlantic Ocean in a hot air balloon built to support their journey for two weeks Their mission was to find an island that records from the University Library in College Station Texas showed the entranceway to a mystical island that would lead to the lost city of Altinova Would they find the legendary plaque that held the secret to a lost city Which X marked the spot Could the mountain of crystals be in fact a mountain of diamonds Could there possibly be gold found in them there hills Come tag along with the adventurers while they find clues to the hidden city Find out how they learned to tell time by the changing colors of sunlight Learn what perfect health over five hundred years will do to a human body Learn the whereabouts of the Land of No Return the Lake of Fire Frost Park and yes learn what happens to a woman from Cornelia Georgia when she is turned into half woman and half robot her punishment for trying to escape the lost city The Professor and his students knew the trip might encounter bad weather but what they didn't expect was what actually happened when they were but two days out to sea From the award winning author of Faith Seventy Times Seven and Adversity Keeping the Faith comes Book 1 in the Omega Chronicles Omega The Lost City of Altinova Come follow the adventurers quest to find the sister cities in the Atlantic Ocean The lost cities of Atlantis and Altinova have captivated mankind throughout all walks of life While there have been many books written about Atlantis this is the first put in writing about the sister city Altinova The ancient Greek philosopher Plato was the first to mention Atlantis Many people insist the lost city story is based on a real historical disaster Professor Knight intends to prove such a city exists and find the city of Altinova at the same time The educator takes on his journey Norman Clark and Dolphus Slaton to discover answers to on another faded out map found in the archives in the campus library at the University of Texas In these archives buried in a wrong section of writings Professor Knight read The founders of Altinova were half god and half human They created a utopian civilization and became a great naval power There is a great capital The page was torn off and nothing further was found From this writing the quest began for the search for The Lost City of Altinova

Omega Sara Marie Reine, 2015-03-18 Ten years ago Deirdre Tombs died When she was reborn the next day Deirdre had become a shapeshifter who can't shift shapes Nobody knows what animal she's supposed to be She's definitely not a werewolf The Alpha Rylie Gresham can't force her to transform like other members of her pack Now

Deirdre is considered an omega the weakest shapeshifter in the pack a vulnerable position when Everton Stark demands tribute from Rylie He wants to be the dominant Alpha The only Alpha And he plans to make her pack submit whether they want to or not Stark can make every shapeshifter obey him by force of will alone Every shapeshifter except Dierdre The shifter who can t shift is the only hope for Rylie to win the war against Stark It will take everything Deirdre has to survive undercover in his den But can an omega s will be stronger than that of a charismatic deadly Alpha like Everton Stark Page 4 of cover

Omega, The Man Lowell Howard Marrow,2024-08 Omega The Man by Lowell Howard Marrow is a gripping science fiction novel set in a futuristic society dominated by advanced technology and ethical dilemmas The story revolves around the central character Omega who is not just a man but also a product of genetic engineering and cybernetics blurring the lines between human and machine Set against a backdrop of a technologically advanced dystopia the novel explores the consequences of artificial intelligence and human machine interaction Omega as a character embodies the complexities of identity and morality in a world where genetic manipulation and cybernetic enhancements are commonplace As Omega navigates this future society readers are drawn into a thrilling narrative that delves into the ethical implications of scientific progress and the impact of technology on humanity Marrow s storytelling combines elements of futuristic thriller and philosophical inquiry challenging readers to confront the boundaries of what it means to be human in an increasingly technologically driven world Omega The Man not only entertains with its suspenseful plot and high stakes conflicts but also prompts reflection on the potential pitfalls and ethical considerations of advancing technologies It serves as a cautionary tale and a thought provoking exploration of the intersection between science ethics and the human condition in an imagined future

Solidarities with the Non/Human, or, Posthumanism in Literature Stefan Herbrechter, 2024-11-18 This volume collects essays written over the last decade by one of the founders and leading figures of the theoretical movement of critical posthumanism The readings of literary texts gathered here from Shakespeare Keats Camus Vittorini Kundera Haushofer Atwood Eagleman Crace and DeLillo focus on posthumanist moments in which questions of postanthropocentrism and the nonhuman become prominent are negotiated and ultimately foreclosed They show how a deconstructively minded way of reading humanistically motivated texts can help making these texts relevant for our so called posthuman times In doing so these critical posthumanist readings demonstrate that literature remains one of the privileged cultural institutions and practices from which solidarities both with and between the human and nonhuman can be formed and negotiated

Uncanny Bodies Scott T. Smith, José Alaniz, 2019-11-27 Superhero comics reckon with issues of corporeal control And while they commonly deal in characters of exceptional or superhuman ability they have also shown an increasing attention and sensitivity to diverse forms of disability both physical and cognitive The essays in this collection reveal how the superhero genre in fusing fantasy with realism provides a visual forum for engaging with issues of disability and intersectional identity race ethnicity class gender and sexuality and helps to imagine different ways of being in the world Working from the premise that the theoretical mode of the uncanny with its interest in what is simultaneously known and unknown ordinary and extraordinary opens new ways to think about categories and markers of identity Uncanny Bodies explores how continuums of ability in superhero comics can reflect resist or reevaluate broader cultural conceptions about disability The chapters focus on lesser known characters such as Echo Omega the Unknown and the Silver Scorpion as well as the famous Barbara Gordon and the protagonist of the acclaimed series Hawkeye whose superheroic uncanniness provides a counterpoint to constructs of normalcy Several essays explore how superhero comics can provide a vocabulary and discourse for conceptualizing disability more broadly Thoughtful and challenging this eye opening examination of superhero comics breaks new ground in disability studies and scholarship in popular culture In addition to the editors the contributors are Sarah Bowden Charlie Christie Sarah Gibbons Andrew Godfrey Meers Marit Hanson Charles Hatfield Naja Later Lauren
