Negotiating Public Services in the Congo Tom De Herdt, Kristof Titeca, 2019-06-15. The Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC) has been widely derided as a failed state unable to meet the basic needs of its citizens. But while state infrastructure continues to decay, many essential services continue to be provided at the local level, often through grassroots initiatives. So while, for example, state funding for education is almost non-existent, average school enrolment remains well above average for Sub-Saharan Africa. This book addresses this paradox, bringing together key scholars working on public services in the DRC to elucidate the evolving nature of governance in developing countries. Its contributions encompass a wide range of public services, including education, justice, transport, and health. Taking stock of what functions and why it contributes to the debate on public services in the context of real or hybrid governance, beyond the state: does the state still have a function, or is it no longer useful and relevant? Crucially, how does international aid help or complicate this picture? Rich in empirical detail, the contributors provide a valuable work for students and scholars interested in the role played by non-state actors in organizing statehood, a role too often neglected in debates on post-conflict reconstruction.

Ernie McClintock and the Jazz Actors Family Elizabeth M. Cizmar, 2023-01-19. Ernie McClintock and the Jazz Actors Family is a critical biography examining the life and work of Ernie McClintock, the founder of the Jazz Acting Method and 1997 recipient of the Living Legend Award from the National Black Theatre Festival, whose inclusive contributions to acting and actor training have largely remained on the fringes of scholarship and practice. Based on original archival research and interviews with McClintock's students and peers, this book traces his life from his childhood in Chicago to Harlem in the 1960s, at the height of the Black Arts Movement, to Richmond, Virginia, in 2003, paying particular attention to his Black Power-influenced, culturally specific acting theory and versatile Black theatrical productions. As a biographical study, this book establishes McClintock as a leading figure of the Black Theatre Movement, proven by the Jazz Acting technique, his critically acclaimed productions, and his leadership positions in organizations such as the Black Theatre Alliance. Ernie McClintock and the Jazz Actors Family explores how the Jazz Acting technique was applied in productions such as N. R. Davidson's El Hajj Malik, Derek Walcott's Dream on Monkey Mountain, Cheryl West's Before It Hits Home, Endesha Mae Holland's From the Mississippi Delta, and many collectively authored pieces. The book also investigates why he has been excluded from dominant theatre histories, especially considering how, as a gay Black man, he persistently defied the status quo, questioning practices of administrators of theatres and mainstream theatrical standards. Ernie McClintock and the Jazz Actors Family is situated at the intersection of Black acting theory, Black Arts Movement history, and Black queer studies, and is an illuminating study of an important figure for actors acting teachers acting students and cultural historians This is an essential resource for readers who are seeking histories and approaches outside of a white straight Eurocentric framework
