Re-viewing Le Morte Darthur Kevin Sean Whetter, Raluca L. Radulescu, 2005 New articles offer a variety of fresh perspectives on some of the most important areas of Malory criticism Women of Words in Le Morte Darthur Siobhán M. Wyatt, 2016-10-05 Offering a new reading of Malory's famed text Le Morte Darthur this book provides the first full length survey of the alterations Malory made to female characters in his source texts Through detailed comparisons with both Old French and Middle English material Siobhán M Wyatt discusses how Malory radically altered his French and English source texts to create a gendered pattern in the reliability of speech depicting female discourse as valuable and truthful Malory's authorial crafting indicates his preference for a certain type of female character self governing opinionated and strong Simultaneously the portrayal of this very readable type yields characterization While late medieval court records indicate an increasingly negative attitude towards female speech and a tendency to punish vociferous women as scolds Malory makes the words of chiding damsels constructive While his contemporary writers suppress the powers of magical women Malory empowers his enchantress characters while the authors of his French source texts accentuate Guinevere's flaws Malory portrays her with sympathy Handbook of Medieval Studies Albrecht Classen, 2010-11-29 This interdisciplinary handbook provides extensive information about research in medieval studies and its most important results over the last decades The handbook is a reference work which enables the readers to quickly and purposely gain insight into the important research discussions and to inform themselves about the current status of research in the field The handbook consists of four parts The first large section offers articles on all of the main disciplines and discussions of the field The second section presents articles on the key concepts of modern medieval studies and the debates therein The third section is a lexicon of the most important text genres of the Middle Ages The fourth section provides an international bio bibliographical lexicon of the most prominent medievalists in all disciplines A comprehensive bibliography rounds off the compendium The result is a reference work which exhaustively documents the current status of research in medieval studies and brings the disciplines and experts of the field together A New Companion to Malory Megan G. Leitch, Cory Rushton, 2019 A comprehensive survey of one of the most important texts of the Middle Ages Cinema Arthuriana Kevin J. Harty, 2015-05-07 The legends of King Arthur have not only endured for centuries but also flourished in constant retellings and new stories built around the central themes With the coming of motion pictures Arthur was destined to hit the screen This edition of Cinema Arthuriana revised in 2002 presents 20 essays on the topic of the recurring presence of the legend in film and television from 1904 to 2001 They cover such films as Excalibur 1981 and Monty Python and the Holy Grail 1975 television productions such as The Mists of Avalon 2001 and French and German films about the quest for the Holy Grail and the other adventures of King Arthur and the Knights of the Round Table

Routledge Revivals: Women and Gender in Medieval Europe (2006) Margaret Schaus, 2017-07-12 First published in 2006 Women and Gender in Medieval Europe examines the daily reality of medieval women from all walks of life in Europe between 450 CE and 1500 CE This reference work provides a comprehensive understanding of many aspects of medieval women and gender such as art economics law literature sexuality politics philosophy and religion as well as the daily lives of ordinary women Masculinity in the middle ages is also addressed to provide important context for understanding women's roles Additional up to date bibliographies have been included for the 2016 reprint Written by renowned international scholars and easily accessible in an A to Z format students researchers and scholars will find this outstanding reference work to be a valuable resource on women in Medieval Europe

The History of British Women's Writing, 700-1500 Liz Herbert McAvoy, Diane Watt, 2015-12-26 This volume focuses on women's literary history in Britain between 700 and 1500 It brings to the fore a wide range of women's literary activity undertaken in Latin Welsh and Anglo Norman alongside that of the English vernacular demanding a rethinking of the traditions of literary history and ultimately the concept of writing itself

Eleanor of Aquitaine B. Wheeler, 2016-04-30 Eleanor's patrilineal descent from a lineage already prestigious enough to have produced an empress in the eleventh century gave her the lordship of Aquitaine But marriage re-emphasized her sex which in the medieval scheme of gender power relations relegated her to the position of Lady in relation to her Lordly husbands In this collection essays provide a context for Eleanor's life and further an evolving understanding of Eleanor's multifaceted career A valuable collection on the greatest heiress of the medieval period

Morgan le Fay, Shapeshifter Jill M. Hebert, 2013-03-12 This study re-examines Morgan le Fay in early medieval and contemporary Arthurian sources arguing that she embodies the concerns of each era even as she defies social and gender expectations Hebert uses leFay as a lens to explore traditional ideas of femininity monstrosity resistance identity and social expectations for women and men alike

Malory's Anatomy of Chivalry Paul Rovang, 2014-11-05 This book is the first systematic study in decades of Malory's development of his characters in the Morte Darthur Focusing on sixteen key figures in the most important medieval English treatment of the Arthurian saga it examines Malory's thematic characterization of individual rulers knights and ladies in keeping with the twin trajectories of his history of the Round Table and fifteenth century English history Looking at how Malory develops his characters as exemplars of kingship knighthood and womanhood the book traces the medieval author's exploration of the values constituting chivalry as embodied in individual characters a process that enabled him to formulate a vision of those values for his own troubled period of the Wars of the Roses This book further explores the contribution Malory's art of characterization makes to the literary and aesthetic power of the Morte Darthur Each chapter's focus on individual characters makes the book not only an integrated thematic overview but also a useful reference for focused study of particular Arthurian figures As such the book is designed to meet the interests and needs of both professional scholars and students of Arthurian and medieval literature

Disability and Knighthood in Malory's Morte Darthur Tory Pearman, 2018-10-03 This book considers the representation of disability and knighthood in Malory's Morte Darthur The study asserts that Malory's unique definition of knighthood which emphasizes the unstable nature of the knight's physical body and the body of chivalry to which he belongs depends upon disability As a result a knight must perpetually oscillate between disability and ability in order to maintain his status The knight's movement between disability and ability is also essential to the project of Malory's book as well as its narrative structure as it reflects the text's fixation on and alternation between the wholeness and fragmentation of physical and social bodies Disability in its many forms undergirds the book helping to cohere the text's multiple and sometimes disparate chapters into the whole book that Malory envisions The Morte thus construes disability as an ambiguous even liminal state that threatens even as it shores up the cohesive notion of knighthood the text endorses

Middle English Marvels Tara Williams, 2018-01-03 This multidisciplinary volume illustrates how representations of magic in fourteenth century romances link the supernatural spectacle and morality in distinctive ways Supernatural marvels represented in vivid visual detail are foundational to the characteristic Middle English genres of romance and hagiography In Middle English Marvels Tara Williams explores the didactic and affective potential of secular representations of magic and shows how fourteenth century English writers tested the limits of that potential Drawing on works by Augustine Gervase of Tilbury Chaucer and the anonymous poets of Sir Orfeo and Sir Gawain and the Green Knight among others Williams examines how such marvels might convey moral messages within and beyond the narrative She analyzes examples from both highly canonical and more esoteric texts and examines marvels that involve magic and transformation invoke visual spectacle and invite moral reflection on how one should relate to others Within this shared framework Williams finds distinct concerns chivalry identity agency and language that intersect with the marvelous in significant ways Integrating literary and historical approaches to the study of magic this volume convincingly shows how certain fourteenth century texts eschewed the predominant trends and developed a new theory of the marvelous Williams's engaging erudite study will be of special interest to scholars of the occult the medieval and early modern eras and literature

Worldmaking Tom Clark, Emily Finlay, Philippa Kelly, 2017-01-19 In 1978 Nelson Goodman explored the relation of worlds to language and literature formulating the term worldmaking to suggest that many other worlds can as plausibly exist as the world we know right now We cannot catch or know the world as such all we can catch are the world versions descriptions views or workings of the world that are expressed in symbolic systems words music dancing visual representations Over the twenty five years since then creative works have played a crucial role in realigning reshaping and renegotiating our understandings of how worlds can be made and preserved in the face of globalizing trends The volume is divided into three sections each engaging with worlds as malleable constructs Central to all of the contributions is the question how can we understand the relationships between natural political cultural fictional literary linguistic and virtual worlds and why does this matter

The Complete Romances of Chrétien de Troyes David Staines, 1991-01-22 Eminently readable a translator who understands the spirit as well as the letter of the original and renders it with style Speculum This new translation brings to life for a new generation of readers the stories of King Arthur Lancelot Guinevere Gawain Perceval Yvain and the other knights and ladies of Chrétien de Troyes famous chivalric romances A pleasure to read Library Journal These are above all stories of courtly love and of knights tested in their devotion to chivalric ideals but they are also thrilling wonder stories of giants wild men tame lions razor sharp bridges and visits to the Other World Washington Post Book World This tastefully produced book will be the standard general translation for many years to come Choice Chrétien is where the literary tradition of the Arthurian romance can be seen to begin His poems are the earliest we have that portray knights errant questing through dangerous forests to challenge unknown opponents and to learn the meaning of love Times Literary Supplement

Naming and Namelessness in Medieval Romance Jane Bliss, 2008 A survey of the significance of names or their absence in medieval English French and Anglo Norman romance Naming and namelessness are among the major themes of medieval romance Because the genre is so difficult to define scholars have viewed romance as containing a critical number of themes this book treats naming as a major theme of romance and furthermore examines romance's relationship with contemporary naming theory A new genre it is able to play with naming in a way that previously established genres are not The book begins with a discussion of the medieval background to romance and explores a series of naming patterns found across a broad range of texts It continues with detailed analysis of twenty one romances in English French and Anglo Norman from 1130 to 1500 to show how naming themes are treated differently in each and to demonstrate the importance of name as a generic marker Finally an appendix provides details of each romance's context together with indications for further research JANE BLISS is an independent scholar she gained her PhD from Oxford Brookes University
