A Common Good Approach to Development Mathias Nebel, Oscar Garza-Vázquez, Clemens Sedmak, 2022-04-26 This edited collection proposes a common good approach to development theory and practice Rather than focusing on the outcomes or conditions of development the contributors concentrate on the quality of development processes suggesting that a common good dynamic is key in order to trigger development Resulting from more than three years of research by an international group of over fifty scholars the volume advocates for a modern understanding of the common good rather than a theological or metaphysical good in societies by emphasising the social practice of commoning at its core It suggests that the dynamic equilibrium of common goods in a society should be at the centre of development efforts For this purpose it develops a matrix of common good dynamics accounting for how institutions social norms and common practices interconnect by identifying five key drivers not only of development but human development agency governance justice stability humanity Based on this matrix the contributors suggest a possible metric for measuring the quality of these dynamics The last section of the book highlights the possibilities enabled by this approach through a series of case studies The concept of the common good has recently enjoyed a revival and inspired practitioners keen to look beyond the shortcomings of political and economic liberalism This book builds on those efforts to think beyond the agenda of twentieth century development policies and will be of interest to those working in the fields of development economics sociology philosophy and political science

Reflections on the Future of Human Rights Gentian Zyberi, Johan

Karlsson Schaffer, Carola Lingaas, Eduardo Sánchez Madrigal, 2023-07-31 This book aims to prospectively conjecture about what the coming decades may hold for human rights. The authors in this volume discern where current trends are likely to lead and try to make sense of the future they herald. Human rights as a legal, political and social practice have experienced significant achievements and successes, some notable setbacks and failures, and numerous unprecedented and unforeseen events and developments. Sceptics even claim that the idea of human rights has failed to deliver on its radical promise of emancipation. The chapters in this volume deal with ways to reimagine the existing human rights framework, the future of the African human rights system, the place of human rights in economic policy, making reparations for chattel slavery and the right to free education for all children. The thematic and disciplinary breadth of contributions makes this book a resource for scholars, practitioners and students alike. In analysing and critically discussing matters of climate change, right to a healthy environment, preventing disasters and building resilience and resource management, it provides timely and important contributions. However, the book does not limit itself to discussing current day challenges; it also covers issues concerning the regulation of artificial intelligence and algorithmic decision making, as well as potential paths in the future relationship between the African and the European Human Rights Court. Reflections on the Future of Human Rights will be beneficial to students, scholars and researchers interested in international law, human rights and politics. Overall, the book is suitable for anyone interested in human rights and their evolution in theory and practice. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Nordic Journal of Human Rights. Becoming Human Again Bengt Kristensson

Uggla, 2017-01-26 One of the most influential Swedish theologians of the twentieth century, Gustaf Wingren's career spanned more than forty years of upheaval both in his field and around the globe. Provocative and challenging, Wingren revelled in a good argument and this attitude set the tone for much of his scholarship. A Swedish Lutheran, he made his name through his research into the theology of Martin Luther, breaking away from both traditional interpretations of Luther and the theology of his famous teachers, Karl Barth and Anders Nygren, before shifting his focus onto systematic theology. In a fresh take, Bengt Kristensson Uggla delves into the influence of Wingren's second wife, Greta Hofsten, on the direction of his theology. Hofsten, a left-wing political activist who was searching for a new language of faith, wove Wingren's work together with her own political philosophy to create an unusual kind of Christian socialism. Her thinking had a profound effect on Wingren, causing him to recontextualise his older work entirely. In Becoming Human Again, Uggla examines how Wingren's combative nature often served him well as a theologian, driving him to engage with innovations in the field and re-examine his older views.

Live a Life That Matters Jean Maalouf, 2018-05-25 What are you living for? OK, You've got the house and the car of your dreams, you've got the latest electronic devices, you were obsessed with, you've made all the trips of your reverie and imagination and you've achieved what you always wanted to achieve. But somehow something was and still is missing. Where are the promises of the happy ever after relationships, the fun of the rich and famous and the security of the good life, these things were supposed to deliver What is the meaning of it all Now what Sooner or later we will come to the conclusion that these things even if they are nice to have are not what matter most in life not by a long shot Otherwise why are we never satisfied and continue to want more Why do we play the happy persons when we really are not And after all our accumulated successes how in the world are we still missing what matters most our true self realization and the fulfillment of our fundamental goal In a unique style both profound and simple philosopher Maalouf points to the very core of what matters most His long years of studies two doctorates and writing experience more than forty published books led him to firmly suggest in this book that life is not only the total sum of the most comfortable income possessions position prestige and passion for every convenience Life is essentially and especially a continuous search for a deeper meaning that can be found in that everlasting hunger of our restless minds and hearts and in our most fundamental purpose and particular life mission We don't only exist we live a full life that is lived in the spirit of Saint Irenaeus's famous line The glory of God is a human being who is fully alive Otherwise no true fulfillment is possible Fully alive explains Dr Maalouf requires us to live a meaningful life not by aggrandizing the ego but by emptying it It takes what matters most to let go of the superficial mirages of the false self It takes the awakening of the holy hunger and divine longing to decipher the meaning of life that constitutes the true self In the end what really counts is not to live according to the creature's distractions but according to the Creator's statutes not to become what our culture prescribes but to incarnate what our fundamental purpose and mission inspire and not what makes a living but what makes a life

Ways of Being in Teaching Sean Wiebe, Ellyn Lyle, Peter R. Wright, Kimberly Dark, Mitchell McLarnon, Liz Day, 2017-09-13 As teachers we share experiences with one another It is a way to make sense of our teaching lives and teaching selves Ways of Being in Teaching is that kind of sharing it is a scholarly conversation that will appeal to teachers who are tired of the tips and tricks and want to talk more deeply about how to flourish in this profession Most of us know ways to strengthen and sustain self soul heart identity and how these key touchstones also strengthen teaching This book recognizes that who we are where we are and why is as much a social process as a personal one Attending to life purpose is a way of attending to teaching Chapters in this text are insightfully forthright challenging us to undertake the rigorous work of discovering who we are as human beings and how this impacts who we are with our students Canadian curriculum scholar Cynthia Chambers asks us to listen for what keeps us awake at night and with Ways of Being in Teaching we bring what we have heard into the daylight into the conversation This collection of reflections and conversations does more than provide provocative reading for the reflective teacher It invites practitioners to find their own place at the table of sharing and to welcome the stories that will certainly come as a result of engaging with this community of life writers Carmen Schlamb Professor Seneca College
