On History And Other Essays:

What is History? Michael Oakeshott, 2004 This is a collection of 30 pieces by Michael Oakeshott almost all of which are previously unpublished covering every decade of his intellectual career The essays were intended mostly for lectures or seminars and retain an informal style that makes them accessible to readers On History and Other Essays Michael Oakeshott, 1999 Table of Contents Foreword ix Three Essays on History I Present Future and Past 1 II Historical Events The fortuitous the causal the similar the correlative the analogous and the contingent 49 III Historical Change Identity and continuity 105 The Rule of Law 129 The Tower of Babel 179 Index 211 Landscape in History; And Other Essays Archibald Geikie, 2025-08-31 Reproduction of the original The Antigonos publishing house specialises in the publication of reprints of historical books We make sure that these works are made available to the public in good condition in order to preserve their cultural heritage The 'Whig' View of Australian History and Other Essays Allan William Martin, 2007 Includes essays on topics such as federation and nationalism the middle class in the 1950s the first Vietnamese refugees as well as all the essays on Robert Menzies that Martin wrote while writing Menzies biography Freedom and History and Other Essays Richard P. McKeon, 1990 This volume of essays is an important introduction to the thought of one of the twentieth century's most significant yet underappreciated philosophers Richard McKeon The originator of philosophical pluralism McKeon made extraordinary contributions to philosophy to international relations and to theory formation in the communication arts aesthetics the organization of knowledge and the practical sciences This collection which includes a philosophical autobiography as well as the out of print title essay Freedom and History and a previously unpublished essay on Philosophic Semantics and Philosophic Inquiry is a testimony to the range and systematic power of McKeon's thinking for the social sciences and the humanities The Ethnographer's Magic and Other Essays in the History of Anthropology George W. Stocking, 1992 George Stocking has been widely recognized as the premier historian of anthropology ever since the publication of his first volume of essays Race Culture and Evolution in 1968 As editor of several publications including the highly acclaimed History of Anthropology series he has led the movement to establish the history of anthropology as a recognized research specialization In addition to the study Victorian Anthropology his work includes numerous essays covering a wide range of anthropological topics The eight essays collected in The Ethnographer's Magic consider the emergence of anthropology since the late nineteenth century as an academic discipline grounded in systematic fieldwork Drawing extensively on unpublished manuscript materials the essays focus primarily on Franz Boas and Bronislaw Malinowski the leading figures in the American and the British academic fieldwork traditions According to George Marcus of Rice University the essays represent the most informative and insightful writings on Malinowski and Boas and their legacies that are yet available Beyond their biographical material the essays here touch upon major themes in the history of anthropology its powerfully mythic aspect and persistent strain of romantic primitivism the contradictions of its relationship to the larger sociopolitical sphere its problematic integration of a variety of natural scientific and humanistic inquiries and the tension between its scientific aspirations and its subjectively acquired data To provide an overview against which to read the other essays Stocking has also included a sketch of the history of anthropology from the ancient Greeks to the present For this collection Stocking has written prefatory commentaries for each of the essays as well as two more extended contextualizing pieces An introductory essay Retrospective Prescriptive Reflections places the volume in autobiographical and historiographical context the Afterword Postscriptive Prospective Reflections reconsiders major themes of the essays in relation to the recent past and present situation of academic anthropology

"On Second Thought" and Other Essays in the History of Medicine and Science Owsei Temkin, 2002-01-11 Over the course of a career spanning most of the twentieth century distinguished historian Owsei Temkin has argued passionately for the necessity of chronicling and analyzing the history of medicine The essays presented in this book span Dr Temkin's career bringing together new pieces and many previously unavailable outside the journals in which they were originally published Here the reader will find new thoughts and ideas that deviate from Dr Temkin's earlier beliefs and reflect a lifetime of research into the historical and ethical foundations of modern medicine

Oakeshott on History Luke O'Sullivan, 2015-10-15 This book challenges the common view that Michael Oakeshott was mainly important as a political philosopher by offering the first comprehensive study of his ideas on history It argues that Oakeshott's writings on the philosophy of history mark him out as the most successful of the philosophers who attempted to establish historical study as an autonomous form of thought during the twentieth century It also contends that his work on the history of political thought is best seen in the context of debates over the origins of the liberal state For the first time extensive use has been made of unpublished material in the collection of Oakeshott's papers at the LSE resulting in an intellectual biography that should be of interest both to first time students and those already familiar with his published works

Full History Steven G. Smith, 2016-12-15 How can we take history seriously as real and relevant Despite the hazards of politically dangerous or misleading accounts of the past we live our lives in a great network of cooperation with other actors past present and future We study and reflect on the past as a way of exercising a responsibility for shared action In each of the chapters of Full History Smith poses a key question about history as a concern for conscious participants in the sharing of action starting with What Is Historical Meaningfulness and ending with How Can History Have an Aim Constructing new models of historical meaning while engaging critically with perspectives offered by Ranke Dilthey Rickert Heidegger Eliade Sartre Foucault and Arendt Smith develops a philosophical account of thinking about history that moves beyond postmodernist skepticism Full History seeks to expand the cast of significant actors establishing an inclusive version of the historical that recognizes large scale cumulative actions but also encourages critical revision and expansion of any paradigm of shared action
