On Being A Poet:

On Being a Poet Judson Jerome, 1984 Examines the nature of poetry offers advice on developing the skills of writing poetry and discusses the use of poetry as a path to self discovery On Being Authentic Charles Guignon, 2004-08-02 To thine own self be true From Polonius's words in Hamlet right up to Oprah we are constantly urged to look within Why is being authentic the ultimate aim in life for so many people and why does it mean looking inside rather than out Is it about finding the real me or something greater than me even God And should we welcome what we find Thought provoking and with an astonishing range of references On Being Authentic is a gripping journey into the self that begins with Socrates and Augustine Charles Guignon asks why being authentic ceased to mean being part of some bigger cosmic picture and with Rousseau Wordsworth and the Romantic movement took the strong inward turn alive in today's self help culture He also plumbs the darker depths of authenticity with the help of Freud Joseph Conrad and Alice Miller and reflects on the future of being authentic in a postmodern global age He argues ultimately that if we are to rescue the ideal of being authentic we have to see ourselves as fundamentally social creatures embedded in relationships and communities and that being authentic is not about what is owed to me but how I depend on others Existential Hermeneutics Andrzej Wiercinski, 2020-03-10 Existential hermeneutics is phronetic existence with the aim of cultivating practical wisdom in human life It comes from life influences life and transforms life Understanding what is happening in life requires reaching the hermeneutic truth which is the truth of understanding The experience of hermeneutic truth calls for personal commitment and existential response and thus expresses the hermeneutic moral imperative Referring to Heidegger's phenomenological analytics of Dasein Gadamer emphasizes that understanding is not only one of the human capabilities but a way of Dasein's being in the world A Poet's High Argument Laurel Snow Corelle, 2008 In this original study of Elizabeth Bishop's lifelong engagement with Christianity Laurel Snow Corelle illuminates the ways in which Bishop's Protestant childhood and reading of Christian literature coupled with her deep commitment to agnosticism inform the works of this former poet laureate of the United States Corelle sees in Bishop's writing a sophisticated and sustained interrogation of orthodoxy that exquisitely balances Bishop's religious upbringing with her agnostic stance and that has until now escaped thorough examination To make her case Corelle immerses the reader in Bishop's works and world in order to convey the rigor subtlety and complexity of the poet's dialogue with historical Christianity and its literature At the heart of that engagement are some compelling peculiarities Bishop was a self proclaimed nonbeliever yet she grew up in two devout Protestant homes and she studied Christian literature throughout her life As a result some of the perspectives and prejudices voiced in her verse are transparently Protestant This study illustrates how she incorporated allusions to scripture and Protestant sacraments in a subversive critique of organized Christianity and how her appropriation of three traditional genres common to Christian literature allegory pastoral elegy and spiritual autobiography advanced her own poetic purposes BOOK JACKET 44

The Book of the Poets. (Chaucer to Beattie.) Illustrated with Forty-five Elegant Engravings on Steel, from Designs by Corbould, &c. With an Essay on English Poetry, 1846

Poetry, Poets, Readers Peter Robinson, 2002 Poetry Poets Readers is a defence of poetry against the protective moves which claim that poets never lie because they never affirm or that their poems exist in a separate world These much re iterated manoeuvres for safe guarding poetry by banishing it from an active role in life can paradoxically go hand in hand with a poet's yearning for the authority of a legislator Through detailed considerations of poetry by Shakespeare Keats Yeats Auden Elizabeth Bishop and Paul Muldoon along with sustained meditations on question forms in poems the role of fact in fictions the nature of literary value speech acts and performative utterances issued by poets the book sets out a fresh model for relationships between poetry poets and readers one which allows the historical fact of poems having made things happen to be itself happening Peter Robinson himself an award winning poet explores what we do by imagining when we read or write poems In describing how poetry poets and readers make things happen the poet offers us an invitation and implies a promise Taking up the one we find out how to keep the other Home as Found James
