

BELIEF PERSEVERANCE

Belief perseverance is a phenomenon in which an individual maintains their belief or attitude even when faced with conflicting evidence or new data.

DEFINITION

According to Schneider et al (2011),
“...belief perseverance means that people tend to maintain their initial ideas or beliefs despite exposure to disconfirming ideas” (p. 370).

This phenomenon is related to confirmation bias, a psychological concept that describes how people tend to give more weight to information supporting their existing beliefs and often ignore the evidence against them.

EXAMPLES

- Political bias: A person may search for information confirming their beliefs about certain political issues, overlooking evidence that challenges those views.
- Groupthink: Groupthink occurs when individuals conform to the opinions held by the majority without considering alternate points of view.
