Authorial Personality and the Making of Renaissance Texts Douglas S. Pfeiffer, 2020-09-03 How did we first come to believe in a correspondence between writers lives and their works When did the person of the author both as context and target of textual interpretation come to matter so much to the way we read This book traces the development of author centrism back to the scholarship of early Renaissance humanists Working against allegoresis and other traditions of non historicizing textual reception they discovered the power of engaging ancient works through the speculative reconstruction of writers personalities and artistic motives To trace the multi lingual and eventually cross cultural rise of reading for the author this book presents four case studies of resolutely experimental texts by and about writers of high ambition in their respective generations Lorenzo Valla on the forger of the Donation of Constantine Erasmus on Saint Jerome the poet George Gascoigne on himself and Fulke Greville on Sir Philip Sidney An opening methodological chapter and exhortative conclusion frame these four studies with accounts of the central lexicon character intention ethos persona and the range of genre evidence that contemporaries used to discern and articulate authorial character and purpose Constellated throughout with examples from the works of major contemporaries including John Aubrey John Hayward Galileo Machiavelli and Shakespeare this volume resurrects a vibrant culture of biographism continuous with modern popular practice and yet radically more nuanced in its strategic reliance on the explanatory power of probabilism and historical conjecture the discursive middle ground now obscured from view by the post Enlightenment binaries of truth and fiction history and story fact and fable Nietzsche's "Ecce Homo" Nicholas Martin,Duncan Large,2020-12-16 Friedrich Nietzsche s intellectual autobiography Ecce Homo has always been a controversial book Nietzsche prepared it for publication just before he became incurably insane in early 1889 but it was held back until after his death and finally appeared only in 1908 For much of the first century of its reception Ecce Homo met with a sceptical response and was viewed as merely a testament to its author s incipient madness This was hardly surprising since he is deliberately outrageous with the megalomaniacal self advertisement of his chapter titles and brazenly claims I am not a man I am dynamite as he attempts to explode one preconception after another in the Western philosophical tradition In recent decades there has been increased interest in the work especially in the English speaking world but the present volume is the first collection of essays in any language devoted to the work Most of the essays are selected from the proceedings of an international conference held in London to mark the centenary of the first publication of Ecce Homo in 2008 They are supplemented by a number of specially commissioned essays Contributors include established and emerging Nietzsche scholars from the UK and USA Germany and France Portugal Sweden and the Netherlands ICLLE 2019 Syahrul R ,Zulfadhli,Muhammad Adek,Kundharu Saddhono,2019-07-19 As an annual event International Conference on Language Literature and Education in Digital Era ICLLE 2019 continued the agenda to bring together researcher academics experts and professionals in examining selected theme by language literature and education in digital era In 2019 this event held in 19 20 July 2019 at Padang Indonesia The conference from any kind of stakeholders related with Language and literature especially in education Each contributed paper was refereed before being accepted for publication The double blind peer reviewed was used in the paper selection Federal Communications Commission (Parts 0 - 19) , The Animation Studies Reader Nichola Dobson,Annabelle Honess Roe,Amy Ratelle,Caroline Ruddell,2018-10-18 The Animation Studies Reader brings together both key writings within animation studies and new material in emerging areas of the field The collection provides readers with seminal texts that ground animation studies within the contexts of theory and aesthetics form and genre and issues of representation The first section collates key readings on animation theory on how we might conceptualise animation and on some of the fundamental qualities of animation New material is also introduced in this section specifically addressing questions raised by the nature style and materiality of animation The second section outlines some of the main forms that animation takes which includes discussions of genre Although this section cannot be exhaustive the material chosen is particularly useful as it provides samples of analysis that can illuminate some of the issues the first section of the book raises The third section focuses on issues of representation and how the medium of animation might have an impact on how bodies gender sexuality race and ethnicity are represented These representations can only be read through an understanding of the questions that the first two sections of the book raise we can only decode these representations if we take into account form and genre and theoretical conceptualisations such as visual pleasure spectacle the uncanny realism etc

The Fruits of Listening Colleen C. B. Weaver, 2024-10-31 Theological seminaries and Bible institutes find themselves at the crossroads of preserving biblical faithfulness and of maintaining contextual relevance What does faithful contextual relevance look like How can theological institutions steer a course that will engage and serve the church through the men and women they equip for ministry and service In pursuit of answers to those questions a qualitative research project was designed and conducted in the Protestant evangelical community in Madrid Spain It presented a unique situation where seminary faculty and students and church attenders could be invited to share their perspectives experiences and hopes for transformative theological education Congregants offered a vision of theological education that equips leaders to relationally empower the church to give witness in the society Intentional listening was prioritized on three seminary campuses where faculty and students shared their stories of theological formation and described the unique contextual challenges they face as Protestant believers in Spain They voiced narratives of how they must find ways to persevere amid pervasive scarcity and in a rapidly changing society Seminaries and churches around the world may recognize details of their own experiences in these stories and importantly receive resources for relevant contextualization in this work
