On Exhibit Barbara J. Black, 2000 Why did the Victorians collect with such a vengeance and exhibit in museums Focusing on this key nineteenth century enterprise Barbara J Black illuminates British culture of the period by examining the cultural power that this collecting and exhibiting possessed Through its museums she argues Victorian London constructed itself as a world city Using the tools of cultural criticism social history and literary analysis Black roots Victorian museum culture in key political events and cultural forces British imperialism exploration and tourism advances in science and changing attitudes about knowledge the commitment to improved public taste through mass education the growth of middle class dominance and the resulting bourgeois fetishism and commodity culture and the democratization of luxury engendered by the French and industrial revolutions She covers a wide range of genres from poetry to museum guidebooks to the triple decker novel and treats three London museums as case studies Sir John Soane s house museum the Natural History Museum and the exemplary South Kensington While On Exhibit provides a fascinating analysis of Victorian society it also reminds us how modern the Victorians were how in crucial ways our culture derives from the Victorian era Forging connections among museums urbanism and modernity Black provokes us to examine cultural imperialism and the costs and advantages of cultural consensus Historic House Museums in the United States and the United Kingdom Linda Young, 2016-12-13 Historic House Museums in the United States and the United Kingdom A History addresses the phenomenon of historic houses as a distinct species of museum Everyone understands the special nature of an art museum a national museum or a science museum but house museum nearly always requires clarification In the United States the term is almost synonymous with historic preservation in the United Kingdom it is simply unfamiliar the very idea being conflated with stately homes and the National Trust By analyzing the motivation of the founders and subsequent keepers of house museums Linda Young identifies a typology that casts light on what house museums were intended to represent and their significance or lack thereof today This book examines heroes houses once inhabited by great persons e g Shakespeare's birthplace Washington's Mount Vernon artwork houses national identity as specially visible in house design style and technique e g Frank Lloyd Wright houses Modernist houses collectors houses a microcosm of collecting in situ domesticu subsequently presented to the nation as the exemplars of taste e g Sir John Soane s Museum Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum English country houses the palaces of the aristocracy maintained thanks to primogeniture but threatened with redundancy and rescued as museums to be touted as the peak of English national culture English country houses the palaces of the aristocracy maintained for centuries thanks to primogeniture but threatened by redundancy and strangely rescued as museums now touted as the peak of English national culture Everyman woman's social history houses the modern demotic response to elite houses presented as social history but tinged with generic ancestor veneration e g tenement house museums in Glasgow and New York Animals, Museum Culture and Children's Literature in Nineteenth-Century Britain Laurence Talairach, 2021-05-27

Animals Museum Culture and Children's Literature in Nineteenth Century Britain Curious Beasties explores the relationship between the zoological and palaeontological specimens brought back from around the world in the long nineteenth century be they alive stuffed or fossilised and the development of children's literature at this time Children's literature emerged as dizzying numbers of new species flooded into Britain with scientific expeditions from giraffes and hippopotami to kangaroos wombats platypuses or sloths As the book argues late Georgian Victorian and Edwardian children's writers took part in the urge for mass education and presented the world and its curious creatures to children often borrowing from their museum culture and its objects to map out that world This original exploration illuminates how children's literature dealt with the new ordering of the world offering a unique viewpoint on the construction of science in the long nineteenth century

Napoleonic Objects and their Afterlives Matilda Greig, Nicole Cochrane, 2025-01-09 Two centuries after Napoleon Bonaparte's death this edited volume brings together a diverse group of historians art historians and museum professionals to critically examine the enduring power of visual and material culture in the making of Napoleonic memory While most discussions surrounding the legendary figure explore his impact on legislative political or military reform this innovative volume explores the global dimensions of the trade in Napoleonic collectibles art and relics over time Representing new avenues of research and scholarship Napoleonic Objects and their Afterlives investigates the material objects and cultural forms that Napoleon inspired through a range of themes These include art collecting the circulation and display of objects political and imperial symbolism and the flexibility and ambiguity of Napoleon's enduring legacy. The essays examine how and why despite his contentious role in contemporary memory Napoleon continues to escape much historical and popular censure They explore the ways people have connected with the idea of him on stage and screen in museums and galleries and most intimately of all by gathering items said to have belonged to him right down to his toothbrush and locks of his hair Napoleonic items can be official or personal serious or comical luxury or disposable yet little work has been done to bring together these diverse cultural histories into conversation with one another With its broad multi disciplinary approach including perspectives from art history film studies cultural history and museum curation the book provides a deep critical insight into the cult of personality surrounding Napoleon and its effect on our understanding of celebrity culture today and in the future Includes an additional foreword by Napoleon s biographer Ruth Scurr author of In Gardens and Shadows 2021

rediscovered in the modern world With its material remnants somewhat paradoxically symbolic of both antiquity and modernity in the very currentness of Egyptological excavations ancient Egypt was at once evocative of ancient magical power and of cutting edge science a tension that might be productively conceived of as alchemical Allusions to ancient Egypt simultaneously lent an air of legitimacy to depictions of the supernatural while projecting a sense of enchantment onto representations of cutting edge science Examining literature and other cultural forms including art photography and early film Eleanor Dobson traces the myriad ways in which magic and science were perceived as entwined and ancient Egypt evoked in parallel with various fields of study from imaging technologies and astronomy to investigations into the electromagnetic spectrum and the human mind itself In so doing counter to linear narratives of nineteenth century progress and demonstrating how ancient Egypt was more than a mere setting for Orientalist fantasies or nightmares the book establishes how conceptions of modernity were inextricably bound up in the contemporary reception of the ancient world and suggests how such ideas that took root and flourished in the Victorian era persist to this day Museums and Biographies Kate Hill, 2012 Exploring the relationship between museums and biographies this collection of essays examines examples from the early 19th century to the present day The Lives of Chinese Objects Louise Tythacott, 2011-06-01 This is the biography of a set of rare Buddhist statues from China Their extraordinary adventures take them from the Buddhist temples of fifteenth century Putuo China's most important pilgrimage island to their seizure by a British soldier in the First Opium War in the early 1840s and on to a starring role in the Great Exhibition of 1851 In the 1850s they moved in and out of dealers and antiguarian collections arriving in 1867 at Liverpool Museum Here they were re conceptualized as specimens of the Mongolian race and later as examples of Oriental art The statues escaped the bombing of the Museum during the Second World War and lived out their existence for the next sixty years dismembered corroding and neglected in the stores their histories lost and origins unknown As the curator of Asian collections at Liverpool Museum the author became fascinated by these bronzes and selected them for display in the Buddhism section of the World Cultures gallery In 2005 guite by chance the discovery of a lithograph of the figures on prominent display in the Great Exhibition enabled the remarkable lives of these statues to be reconstructed Greece and Rome at the Crystal Palace Kate Nichols, 2015 The marble halls of the British Museum might seem the natural habitat for classical sculpture but in the nineteenth century its sombre displays were far from being the only place that people encountered antiquities From 1854 a rival collection of classical sculpture comprising plaster casts from major European museums and scaled down architectural features was on show in the South London suburb of Sydenham in the Crystal Palace which had housed the Great Exhibition of 1851 By the late 1850s two million visitors were passing through the glass doors of the Sydenham Crystal Palace each year more than twice as many as recorded at the British Museum Many more people and from a greater variety of social strata saw the painted cast of the Parthenon frieze in Sydenham than the original in Bloomsbury Utilizing an extensive variety of archival material including diaries scrapbooks and photographs Greece and Rome at the Crystal Palace evokes visitor experiences at Sydenham and examines the discussion that arose around the presentation of classical plaster casts to a mass audience It uncovers the social political and aesthetic role of ancient Greek and Roman sculpture in modern Britain assessing how classical art figured in debates over design reform taste beauty and morality class and gender and race and imperialism Briggs, 2016-03-02 Engages with nineteenth century visual culture in an unusually broad way juxtaposing photography fashion broadside ballads popular prints and caricature in order to re examine Victorian society between Chartism and the Great Exhibition Routledge Handbook of Critical African Heritage Studies Ashton Sinamai, John D. Museums of the Mind: German Modernity and the Dynamics of Collecting, A Place That Matters Yet Sara Byala, 2013-06-15 A Place That Matters Yet unearths the little known story of Johannesburg's MuseumAfrica a South African history museum that embodies one of the most dynamic and fraught stories of colonialism and postcolonialism its life spanning the eras before during and after apartheid Sara Byala in examining this story sheds new light not only on racism and its institutionalization in South Africa but also on the problems facing any museum that is charged with navigating colonial history from a postcolonial perspective Drawing on thirty years of personal letters and public writings by museum founder John Gubbins Byala paints a picture of a uniquely progressive colonist focusing on his philosophical notion of three dimensional thinking which aimed to transcend binaries and thus quite explicitly racism Unfortunately Gubbins died within weeks of the museum s opening and his hopes would go unrealized as the museum fell in line with emergent apartheid politics Following the museum through this transformation and on to its 1994 reconfiguration as a post apartheid institution Byala showcases it as a rich and problematic archive of both material culture and the ideas that surround that culture arguing for its continued importance in the establishment of a unified South Africa

Heritage and Identity Marta

Anico, Elsa Peralta, 2008-11-26 Heritage and Identity explores the complex ways in which heritage actively contributes to the construction and representation of identities in contemporary societies providing a comprehensive account of the diverse conceptions of heritage and identity across different continents and cultures. This collection of thought provoking articles from experts in the field captures the richness and diversity of the interlinked themes of heritage and identity. Heritage is more than a simple legacy from the past and incorporates all elements past and present that have the ability to represent particular identities in the public sphere. The editors introduce and discuss a wide range of interconnected topics including multiculturalism and globalization local and regional identity urban heritage difficult memories conceptions of history ethnic representations repatriation ownership controversy contestation and ethics and social responsibility. The volume places empirical data within a theoretical and analytical framework and presents an interdisciplinary approach to the study of the representation of the past invaluable for anyone interested in heritage and museum studies.
