The Crisis in Historical Materialism S. Aronowitz,2016-07-27 In this provocative and famous book now substantially revised and with much new material Stanley Aronowitz lays bare the fundamental logical problems in Marxist theory with respect to nature gender and race relations the concept of class and historical time Aronowitz has written a stunning book offering an approach towards a new way of thinking about these problems a book which will be addressed by other Marxist scholars and by students of social and cultural theory in many disciplines On Pornography David Saunders,Dugald Williamson,2016-07-27 The policing of pornography remains a subject of widespread controversy On Pornography provides a history of this policing and an understanding of the current debate The authors show that obscenity law should not be understood negatively as censorship but as part of the positive administration of a particular practice of sexuality This book indicates that obscenity law is not as liberals claim a mistaken attempt to police moral ideas but rather forms part of the legitimate governmental regulation of a problematic social conduct Visual and Other Pleasures Laura Mulvey,1989-03-01 The essays collected in this book reflect some of the commitments and changes during the period that saw the women's movement shift into feminism and the development of feminism's involvement with the politics of representation, psychoanalytic film theory and avant garde aesthetics Separate and Unequal Huang Hoon Chng, 2002-08-22 This book argues for a multidisciplinary approach to the study of the language of judges with respect to the issue of gender discrimination. Drawing its inspiration from Dell Hymes' socially constituted linguistics, the author examines the language of the judicial opinions of four U.S. Supreme Court cases addressing social and legal discrimination against women. Through a linguistic analysis that is informed by a Foucauldian and feminist perspective, this book addresses the complex issues of the power of judges and ideologies, the politics of language use and feminist contributions to the subject of discrimination and women's rights. This book is most suitable for researchers and students in cultural studies, ethnography, feminist legal studies, forensic linguistics, gender studies, ideology research, pragmatics, semiotics and social studies. James Joyce and the Revolution of the Word Colin McCabe, 1983-12-15 McCabe is the most lucid, least blinkered expounder of the post-structuralist mysteries I have ever come across. This is an important, challenging book which no Joycean can afford to ignore. David Lodge: this is the most exciting and original book on Joyce to have appeared for many years. Terry Eagleton, New Statesman Discourses on Language and Integration Gabrielle Hogan-Brun, Clare Mar-Molinero, Patrick Stevenson, 2009-03-20 One of the most pressing issues in contemporary European societies is the need to promote integration and social inclusion in the context of rapidly increasing migration. A particular challenge confronting national governments is how to accommodate speakers of an ever-increasing number of languages within what in most cases are still perceived as monolingual indigenous populations. This has given rise to public debates in many countries on controversial policies imposing a requirement of competence in a national language and culture as a condition for acquiring citizenship. However, these debates are frequently conducted almost entirely at a national level within each state with little if any attention paid to the broader European context. At the same time, further EU enlargement and the ongoing rise in the rate of migration into and across Europe suggest that the salience of these issues is likely to continue to grow. This volume offers a critical analysis of these debates and emerging discourses on integration and challenges the assumptions underlying the new language testing regimes On the Standardization of Chinese Legislative Language Xiaobo Dong, Yafang Zhang, 2023-05-20 By integrating different research angles and methods of philosophy of law, sociology of law, applied linguistics and legal translation, this book presents a groundbreaking approach to the non-standardization phenomenon in Chinese legislative language, unveils the underlying causes and adverse effects thereof and provides potential principles, strategies and methods to be followed in the standardization of Chinese legislative language. Divided into three parts, this book firstly talks about the fuzziness of language, addressing both the active and negative influences thereof on the legislation; secondly, approaches the non-standardization phenomenon in Chinese legislative language from the perspective of philosophy of law; and thirdly, offers a comprehensive study on the standardization of Chinese legislative language, offering possible solutions to address the above mentioned problems and promote the standardized development of law making This book facilitates the legal practitioners jurists law students legal translators as well as the non experts to get a better understanding of the mechanism and process of legislation and improve their skills and capacities in apprehending and translating Chinese laws and regulations Communication Yearbooks Vols 6-33 Set Various,2021-12-02 The Communication Yearbook annuals originally published between 1977 and 2009 publish diverse state of the discipline literature reviews that advance knowledge and understanding of communication systems processes and impacts across the discipline Topics dealt with include Communication as Process Research Methodology in Communication Communication Effects Taxonomy of Communication and European Communication Theory Information Systems Division Mass Communication Research Mapping the Domain of Intercultural Communication Public Relations Feminist Scholarship Communication Law and Policy Visual Communication Communication and Cross Sex Friendships Across the Life Cycle Television Programming and Sex Stereotyping InterCultural Communication Training Leadership and Relationships Media Performance Assessment Cognitive Approaches to Communication
