On Our Own New Zealand In The Emerging Tripolar World

Colin James

On Our Own New Zealand In The Emerging Tripolar World:

New Zealand in World Affairs: 1972-1990 Bruce Brown, 1977 The eighteen years from 1972 to 1990 encompassed a near revolution in New Zealand's foreign relations In the early seventies New Zealand's approaches to Asia were piecemeal decolonisation in the Pacific had just begun apartheid remained firmly entrenched in South Africa and New Zealand's trade arrangement with Australia was distinguished as much by the bickering it produced as by its limited trading advantages By 1990 all of these things had changed all of them dramatically Back cover

China, New Zealand, and the Complexities of Globalization Tim Beal, Yuanfei Kang, 2016-12-12 The book examines the expansion of investment and trade between China and New Zealand and its changing composition within the political framework especially the 2008 Free Trade Agreement Particular attention is paid to China's volatile agri-food market where New Zealand dairy products play an important role for both countries The New Zealand China economic relationship asymmetrical and complementary but with increasing competition from domestic production is a case study of the complexities of globalization and the interplay of economic imperatives political pressures and cultural factors China is now New Zealand's main economic partner and a major source of migrants tourists and students This proposed study on how New Zealand and China manage their grave dissimilarities and disparities in growing ever close economic ties will be of interest to academics policy analysts economic trade decision makers and business practitioners

New Zealand's Foreign Service Ian McGibbon, 2022-10-06 Since 1943 during war humanitarian and natural disasters and flashpoints of global tension one government department has been charged with the critical role of representing New Zealand's interests overseas In doing so the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade and its predecessors has needed to respond to ever evolving political and military allegiances trade globalization economic threats natural disasters and military conflict on behalf of a small nation that seeks to engage on the global stage while maintaining the principles that underpin its political institutions For more than 75 years the ministry has been served by some remarkable people dedicated to an organization that has reflected New Zealand's developing sense of nationhood and place in world This history of the foreign service edited by one of New Zealand's foremost historians captures the high stakes skill and intelligence involved in the development of a unique organization

Tending the Flame of Democracy Geoffrey Whitehead, 2004 Geoffrey Whitehead believes that the West has been selling itself short in terms of world opinion because of market failures in the communications industry over recent decades He argues that more must be done to nurture democracy at home if the case for democracy is to be advocated successfully as a workable model to others This book therefore looks ahead to the needs of people as citizens not just as consumers between now and 2025 and says that national governments need to re-visit their policies urgently in the wake of the 11 September 2001 terrorist attacks on the US Geoffrey Whitehead has worked internationally in communications both as a print radio and television journalist including time as Reuters Whitehall Correspondent and as the BBC's Deputy Political Editor at Westminster England before becoming chief executive of Radio New Zealand and then of the Australian Broadcasting Corporation ABC He gained a Diploma in International Affairs at London University and has now applied his research for a Master of International Relations degree at Victoria University of Wellington New Zealand to his practical experience in the communications industry in three countries Britain Australia and New Zealand

Interdependence and Foreign Policy Malcolm McKinnon, 2013-10-01 Independence and Foreign Policy is the first interpretive study of New Zealand foreign policy to cover the period 1935 the second provides illuminating insights into recent issues in New Zealand foreign policy such as the Vietnam War relations with South Africa and the anti nuclear movement Independence and Foreign Policy has become a standard reference in its field

New Territory Colin James, 2015-12-21 New Territory is an analysis of the turbulent years of the late 1980s and early 1990s by one of New Zealand's leading political commentators Colin James looks at the way Labour's structural reforms shattered the prosperity consensus that had gone before setting the changes of the 1980s in a broader political and economic context In a thoughtful and even handed study taking into account different views of these immensely controversial reforms James brings a global perspective to an often fragmented and incoherent debate

British Review of New Zealand Studies, 1996

Sovereignty under Siege? Chris Rudd, 2017-05-15 This collection of invaluable essays explores analyzes and critically evaluates the interaction between globalization and New Zealand sovereignty The volume is the first to seriously address this subject in a systematic fashion It pursues three interrelated lines of enquiry the impact of globalization on the policy making machinery of the New Zealand state the development of New Zealand political culture including its sense of national identity during the globalization era and New Zealand's role on the international stage in a globalizing world The book reveals the paradoxes of New Zealand's encounter with globalization It will provide essential reading for specialists of globalization and for general readers interested in the complex national experience of New Zealand

Diplomacy with a Difference: the Commonwealth Office of High Commissioner, 1880-2006 Lorna Lloyd, 2007-05-30 This book illuminates two familiar phenomena diplomacy and the Commonwealth from a new and unfamiliar angle the atypical way in which the Commonwealth's members came to and continue to engage in official relations with each other This innovative and wide ranging study is based on archival material from four states interviews and correspondence with diplomats and a wide range of secondary sources It shows how members of an empire found it necessary to engage in diplomacy and in so doing created a singular and often remarkably intimate diplomatic system The result is a fascinating multidisciplinary exploration of the evolving Commonwealth and the way in which its 53 members and Ireland conduct diplomacy with one another and in so doing have contributed a distinctive terminology to the diplomatic lexicon

Reviewing Britain's Presence East of Suez Maike Hausen, 2022-06-14 Maike Hausen presents a transnational multi perspective review of strategic and security discussions among the former British white settler colonies Australia Canada and New Zealand in the 1960s Focusing on the foreign policy debate surrounding the British decision to withdraw their military East of Suez from Southeast Asia she reviews

extensive source material to examine the transformation of political diplomatic and strategic ties between Great Britain and Australia Canada and New Zealand By embedding the East of Suez discussion into a larger framework of long term postcolonial transformations and developments of the Cold War and decolonization the study traces how the British decision upset the traditional conduct of concerted foreign policy and led to notions of crisis and uncertainty as well as to reviews that would ultimately contribute to more independent national outlooks and policies Collision Course Bryce Harland,1996 America is drifting towards another collision with Asian countries This book sets the situation in perspective by tracing the development of relations between them during the last two centuries No longer needing allies as it did during the Cold War the United States is now using its economic power to force them to open their markets to its exports and to move towards Western democracy American pressure is making Asians appreciate what they have in common and helping to overcome the divisions that have kept them dependent on outside powers But collision is not inevitable America has played a critical part in the transformation of East Asia It still has much to teach and it now has much to learn as well By studying Asian experience Americans can re learn the importance of self discipline and face Asian competition without relying on their power and resorting to protectionism APEC shows the way for the United States and other Western countries to benefit from the fast growth of Asian economies and make the whole of the Pacific area more prosperous New Zealand International Review ,2001 On Our Own Bryce Harland,1992 China and New Zealand James Kember,Paul Clark,2003 December 2002 marked thirty years of diplomatic relations between New Zealand and the People Republic of China In the nature of anniversaries it seemed appropriate to reflect not only on the past three decades rapidly developing and burgeoning as the relationship has been but also on some of the earlier linkages extending back into the nineteenth century It was in this thirtieth year of formal relations with China that the state offered its apology for the discrimination levelled in earlier decades against Chinese migrants But this anniversary also offered an opportunity to look ahead from the prism of late 2002 at how one of New Zealand's patently key bilateral relationships might develop in the years to come Introduction International Bibliography of the Social Sciences ,1994 The IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institution whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge of the social sciences RSA Journal Royal Society of Arts (Great Britain),1991 New Zealand Books in Print ,1999 A List of New Zealand Books in Print ,2002 Pacific Affairs ,1994 Political Science ,2008-12
