

Reflection about Family in My Autobiography

2 pages | 341 words

I was born on September 30, 1993 in Leesville, Louisiana. My parents name me Tunisia Cierra Wilson as a little kid I always like to go different places and see new things. My mother was in the army so I got to do a lot of site seeing when I was young. I have family in Alabama on my mother and daddy side. As I got older my mother had to get out the army because she got hurt doing some type of task and they put her on the disable list for a long time. While my mother was put on the disable list in the army she was also pregant with my sister. So when my mother had my sister my mother and daddy seem like they hated each other and later on became divorce.

When my parents got there divorce I did not know what to do I had so much anger built up in me and i will just take it out on anybody. I love both of my parents to death and still do but when i went to court and they gave my mother custtody of us I cried till i could not cry no more. It was a lot of thoughts going through my head at once but i do remeber few of them thoughts like moving to Alabama and makimng new friends, If my mother and daddy will ever get back together and how long will this last.

I already knew that if my mother have full custody of us that we will be living in Alabama our whole life. I thought Alabama was a country state and full of farms, i would have never thought that Alabama has what it has. like:malls, movie theater, and places to shop. my family mostly live in pedimont al. I went to there middle school all my years, then when my mother got her own house in anniston i been going to anniston high school were i graduate as a proud bulldog with the graduating class of 2012.

Methodology is the first comprehensive and interdisciplinary overview of the developing methodology of narrative inquiry. The Handbook outlines the historical development and philosophical underpinnings of narrative inquiry as well as describes different forms of narrative inquiry. This one of a kind volume offers an emerging map of the field and encourages further dialogue, discussion and experimentation as the field continues to develop. Key Features: Offers coverage of various disciplines and viewpoints from around the world. Leading international contributors draw upon narrative inquiry as conceptualized in Anthropology, Sociology, Psychology and Philosophy. Illustrates the range of forms of narrative inquiry. Both conceptual and practical in depth descriptions of narrative inquiry are presented. Portrays how narrative inquiry is used in research in different professional fields. Particular attention is paid to representational issues, ethical issues and some of the complexities of narrative inquiry with indigenous and cross cultural participants as well as child participants. Intended Audience: The Handbook of Narrative Inquiry is a must have resource for narrative methodologists and students of narrative inquiry across the social sciences. Individuals in the fields of Nursing, Psychology, Anthropology, Education, Social Work, Sociology, Organizational Studies and Health research will be particularly well served by this masterful work.

A Companion to Mill
 Christopher Macleod, Dale E. Miller, 2018-04-12. This Companion offers a state of the art survey of the work of John Stuart Mill, one which covers the historical influences on Mill, his theoretical, moral and social philosophy as well as his relation to contemporary movements. Its contributors include both senior scholars with established expertise in Mill's thought and new emerging interpreters. Each essay acts as a go to resource for those seeking to understand an aspect of Mill's thought or to familiarise themselves with the contours of a debate within the scholarship. The Companion is a key reference on Mill's theory of liberty and utilitarianism but also provides a valuable resource on lesser known aspects of his work including his epistemology, metaphysics and philosophy of language. The volume is divided into six sections. Part I covers Mill's life, his immediate posthumous reputation and his own telling of his life story. Part II brings together an accessible and comprehensive summary of the various influences on Mill's thought. Part III offers an account of the foundations of Mill's philosophy and his thought on key philosophic topics. Parts IV and V tackle issues from Mill's moral and social philosophy. Part VI concludes with a treatment of the broader aspects of Mill's thought, tracing his relation to major movements in philosophy.
