Sentenced to Death David Guest,1996      Sentenced to Die Stephen H. Gettinger,1979 Each chapter tells the story of one man sentenced to death in the United States Luis Jose Monge Charles Proffitt Richard Hager James David Raulerson George Vasil Clifford Hallman Jessie Lewis Pulliam Ronald O Bryan      Death by Law Harry Lyman Davis,1922      Arbitrary Death Rick Unklesbay ,2019-05-08 Over a career spanning nearly four decades Rick Unklesbay has tried over one hundred murder cases before juries that ended with sixteen men and women receiving the death sentence Arbitrary Death depicts some of the most horrific murders in Tucson Arizona the author s prosecution of those cases and how the death penalty was applied It provides the framework to answer the questions Why is America the only Western country to still use the death penalty Can a human run system treat those cases fairly and avoid unconstitutional arbitrariness It is an insider s view from someone who has spent decades prosecuting murder cases and who now argues that the death penalty doesn t work and our system is fundamentally flawed With a rational balanced approach Unklesbay depicts cases that represent how different parts of the criminal justice system are responsible for the arbitrary nature of the death penalty and work against the fair application of the law The prosecution trial courts juries and appellate courts all play a part in what ultimately is a roll of the dice as to whether a defendant lives or dies Arbitrary Death is for anyone who wonders why and when its government seeks to legally take the life of one of its citizens It will have you questioning whether you can support a system that applies death as an arbitrary punishment and often decades after the sentence was given      Real Justice: Fourteen and Sentenced to Death Bill Swan,2012-03-14 At fourteen Steve Truscott was a typical teenager in rural Ontario in the fifties mainly concerned about going fishing playing football and racing bikes with his friends One summer evening his twelve year old classmate Lynne Harper asked for a lift to the nearby highway on his bicycle and Steve agreed Unfortunately that made Steve the last person known to see Lynne alive His world collapsed around him when he was arrested and then convicted of killing Lynne Harper The penalty at the time was death by hanging Although the sentence was changed to life in prison Steve suffered for years behind bars for a murder he didn t commit When his case gained national attention the Supreme Court of Canada reviewed the evidence and confirmed his conviction It took over forty years and a determination to prove his innocence for him to finally clear his name He has since received an apology and compensation for his ordeal In this book young readers will discover how an innocent boy was presumed guilty by the justice system and how in the end that same justice system prodded by Truscott and his lawyers was able to acknowledge the terrible wrong done to him Fry reading level 4 8

Condemned Seán Ó Riain,2014-06-30 Condemned Letters from Death Row by Ray and Se n Riain is a collection of letters between a former Cork teacher and a death row inmate that develops into a unique friendship one that is in itself a subtle rallying cry against an American system that still honours the 3 000 year old adage an eye for eye serving as a reminder that as Gandhi observed An eye for an eye makes everyone blind Ray has been convicted of killing a man a crime he committed as a young man and that he admits and regrets For his crime Ray s sentence is death but what he seeks is not a pardon or pity or freedom Simply he hopes that his sentence will be commuted to life imprisonment without parole For most of us to hope for a future so bleak seems unimaginable but for Ray this is the focus of his appeals a chance to live Se n Riain has been writing to Ray for several years and while Se n s careful letters are included it is Ray s heartfelt depiction of death row life that form the heart and soul of the book Ray s letters are powerful in their understated descriptions of his difficult life circumstances from juvenile offender with addict parents and dependent siblings to his current situation The denied dreams the unfulfilled desires the loneliness and the fear are all brought to devastating reality in his simple words The men s letters are framed by commentaries facts and case studies from the American death penalty system clarifying the process of state sanctioned revenge in 36 of the US states a process directly in violation of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights A process currently viewed by 88% of American Criminologists and by most American police chiefs as the least effective deterrent to violent crime one that costs 114 million more annually than life imprisonment in one state alone Since the year 2000 almost 700 people have been executed in the 36 states that still enforcethe death penalty in the US InCondemned after several years of writing to Ray Riain makes us question the prevalence of the death sentence in the American legal system and asks should any state punishthe death of a citizen with more death Courting Death Carol S. Steiker, Jordan M. Steiker, 2016-11-07 Refusing to eradicate the death penalty the U S has attempted to reform and rationalize capital punishment through federal constitutional law While execution chambers remain active in several states Carol Steiker and Jordan Steiker argue that the fate of the American death penalty is likely to be sealed by this failed judicial experiment Cases and Materials on the Death Penalty Nina Rivkind, Steven F. Shatz, 2001 Death Penalty Sentencing United States. General Accounting Office, 1990 The Death Penalty Allison Krumsiek, 2017-12-15 When a violent crime is committed some people believe the only fair punishment is for the perpetrator to be put to death Others feel that this practice is inhumane and that no one should be deliberately killed regardless of what he or she may have done This volume examines the history of the death penalty the ways it is administered and the arguments for and against it Chapter questions encourage discussion among readers and detailed charts and compelling sidebars enhance readers understanding of this hotly debated topic Death Row: The Final Minutes Michelle Lyons, 2018-05-03 IN 12 YEARS MICHELLE LYONS WITNESSED NEARLY 300 EXECUTIONS First as a reporter and then as a spokesperson for the Texas Department of Criminal Justice Michelle was a frequent visitor to Huntsville s Walls Unit where she recorded and relayed the final moments of death row inmates lives before they were put to death by the state Michelle was in the death chamber as some of the United States most notorious criminals including serial killers child murderers and rapists spoke their last words on earth while a cocktail of lethal drugs surged through their veins Michelle supported the death penalty before misgivings began to set in as the executions mounted

During her time in the prison system and together with her dear friend and colleague Larry Fitzgerald she came to know and like some of the condemned men and women she saw die She began to query the arbitrary nature of the death penalty and ask the question do executions make victims of all of us An incredibly powerful and unique look at the complex story of capital punishment as told by those whose lives have been shaped by it Death Row The Final Minutes is an important take on crime and punishment at a fascinating point in America's political history

Executed on a Technicality David R. Dow, 2005 When David Dow was first asked to represent death row inmates he supported the death penalty Capital punishment was an abstraction to him and he imagined that death row was filled with characters like Charles Manson and Hannibal Lecter Dow gradually realized that his perception of the death penalty and those on death row was completely incorrect Dow began witnessing the profound injustices the inmates consistently endured from confessions coerced by the police to bizarrely incompetent lawyers from corrupt prosecutors and backward judges to racist juries None of his clients was a serial killer some had been unarmed and perhaps unwitting accomplices most were repentant one turned himself in several were obviously innocent Not one of them fit the media stereotype of the hardened heartless murderer incapable of rehabilitation undeserving of even a modicum of justice And yet these are the men Dow came to know as he fought often unsuccessfully for their lives In the end he is forced to concur with Supreme Court justice Potter Stewart's famous pronouncement that being sentenced to death in America is like being struck by lightning capital punishment isn't reserved for the most heinous criminals but is meted out arbitrarily The cases in this eye opening book are those of the men on death row who changed Dow's mind about capital punishment forever You'll meet Johnny Joe Martinez for instance who was executed despite the fact that Dow convinced the court that he had strong grounds for an appeal Martinez had exhausted his right of appeal when his lawyer wrote a mere seventeen line long appeal he was executed on a technicality Roger Coleman was denied an appeal because although his lawyers mailed the appeal notice on time it was received literally one day too late he was executed because his lawyers failed to use registered mail Another inmate was executed despite his court appointed lawyer's shocking and demonstrable incompetence the lawyer arrived at the courtroom drunk and snorted cocaine in the bathroom during breaks in the testimony All of these men were executed on technicalities These concrete accounts of the people Dow has known and represented prove that the death penalty is consistently unjust and it's precisely this fundamental and lethal injustice Dow convincingly argues that should compel us to abandon the system altogether

Texas Death Row Bill Crawford, 2008-01-29 A chilling catalog of the men and women who have paid the ultimate price for their crimes The death penalty is one of the most hotly contested and longest standing issues in American politics and no place is more symbolic of that debate than Texas Since the reinstatement of the death penalty in 1977 Texas has put more than 390 prisoners to death far more than any other state Texas Death Row puts faces to those condemned men and women with stark details on their crimes sentencing last meals and last words Definitive and objective Texas Death Row will provide ample fuel for readers on both sides of the death penalty debate      The Death Penalty as State Crime Laura L. Finley, 2024-03-27 This book offers a new perspective on the death penalty in the US examining capital punishment as state crime or state produced harm It addresses the death penalty showing how the state not only authorizes a system and a practice that tortures human beings but is also aware of its deep flaws and chooses not to address them Building on the vast literature on state crime together with case examples and interviews with activists seeking to abolish the death penalty this book offers a new and innovative critique of state punishment in the US It draws on a range of issues and topics such as arbitrariness inadequate counsel racial bias mental illness innocence conditions on death row the protocols and the equipment used for executions It emphasizes the need for abolition of the death penalty and highlights efforts being made to do so with a focus on successful elements of abolition campaigns The Death Penalty as State Crime is essential reading for all those engaged with capital punishment human rights and state crime and will be of interest to criminologists sociologists legal scholars and political scientists alike      Death Sentencing Issues United States.
