Dawn Duke, 2008 This study examines Afro Cuban and Afro Brazilian women writers as well as analysing the roles of women of African descent in Cuban and Brazilian literature Initially literary imagination locked women into circumscribed roles a result of hierarchies embedded in slavery and colonialism and sustained by hierarchical theories on race and gender The discussion illustrates how these negative aspects have influenced the mainstream literary imagination that contrasts with the self portrayals created by women writers themselves Even as there continues to be disadvantageous constructions there is no doubt that a modification has occurred over time in images representation and articulation It is a change directly associated with the instances when women themselves are the writers The historiographic image of the Afro Cuban and Afro Brazilian woman as a written object is ideologically replaced by a vision of her as a writing subject It is here that the vision of a creative multifaceted and diversified literature becomes important AdI, 1983 The Negro in Brazilian Fiction

Since 1888 Gregory Rabassa, 1974 The Eruption of Insular Identities Brianna Medeiros, 2020-06-21 The Eruption of Insular Identities explores themes common to the literatures of the Azores and Cape Verde two isolated archipelagos in the former Portuguese empire but contemporaneously in the Portuguese speaking world In the 1930s writers from both archipelagoes initiated projects to explore acorianidade and caboverdianidade firmly placing narratives within their respective regional spaces a tradition that would be continued by following generations Despite vast differences in the realities in the two archipelagos in terms of race and politics the insularity lent itself to two bodies of literature with striking similarities The authors aim is to set out these similarities as a means to understanding the differences in rhetoric and treatment of this commonality Earlier scholarly work has suggested the comparison but this book is the first extensive study comparing the literatures of the two archipelagoes Within the field of Lusophone studies the study of Lusophone African literatures are gaining international literary appeal Cape Verdean writer Germano Almeida won the Premio Camoes in 2018 one of the most prestigious awards for Portuguese language authors His work is explored extensively in the volume The
