Now here were these young people on that beautiful spring morning sitting on the hill side a pleasant spectacle of fresh life pleasant as if they had sprouted like green things under the influence of the warm sun The girl was very pretty a little freckled a little tanned but with a face that glimmered and gleamed with quick and cheerful expressions a slender form not very large with a quick grace in its movements sunny hair that had a tendency to curl which she probably favored at such moments as her household occupation left her a sociable and pleasant child as both of the young men evidently thought Robert Hagburn one might suppose would have been the most to her taste a ruddy burly young fellow handsome and free of manner six feet high famous through the neighborhood for strength and athletic skill the early promise of what was to be a man fit for all offices of active rural life and to be in mature age the selectman the deacon the representative the colonel As for Septimius let him alone a moment or two and then they would see him with his head bent down brooding brooding his eyes fixed on some chip some stone some common plant any commonest thing as if it were the clew and index to some mystery and when by chance startled out of these meditations he lifted his eyes there would be a kind of perplexity a dissatisfied foiled look in them as if of his speculations he found no end Such was now the case while

Robert and the girl were running on with a gay talk about a serious subject so that gay as it was it was interspersed with little thrills of fear on the girl's part of excitement on Robert's. Their talk was of public trouble Septimius Felton; or, the elixir of life (1876) Nathaniel Hawthorne, 1876 Our Old Home Nathaniel Hawthorne, 1881 The Elixir of Life Manuscripts Nathaniel Hawthorne, 1977

Septimius Felton During the Revolutionary War Septimius Felton a scholar who seeks a method of attaining earthly immortality kills a British officer who has insulted his fiancée. On the hillside where he has buried the officer he meets Sybil Dacy a strange unearthly creature who is looking for a flower she expects to grow from the grave. Before he died the officer gave Septimius an old manuscript containing the formula for an elixir of life requiring the juice of the flower.
