Sequence Rory Donnelly, 1996-01-01      Sequence Rory D. Stephens, 1982      Basic Writing George Otte, Rebecca Williams Mlynarczyk, 2010-03-15 Framed by historic developments from the Open Admissions movement of the 1960s and 1970s to the attacks on remediation that intensified in the 1990s and beyond Basic Writing traces the arc of these large social and cultural forces as they have shaped and reshaped the field      Politics Of Remediation Mary Soliday, 2002-09-01 While some students need more writing instruction than others The Politics of Remediation reveals how that need also pertains to the institutions themselves Mary Soliday argues that universities may need remedial English to alleviate their own crises in admissions standards enrollment mission and curriculum and English departments may use remedial programs to mediate their crises in enrollment electives and relationships to the liberal arts and professional schools Following a brief history of remedial English and the political uses of remediation at CCNY before during and after the open admissions policy Soliday questions the ways in which students need for remedial writing instruction has become widely associated with the need to acculturate minorities to the university In disentangling identity politics from remediation she challenges a powerful assumption of post structuralist work that a politics of language use is equivalent to the politics of access to institutions

Writing Program Architecture Bryna Siegel Finer, Jamie White-Farnham, 2017-11-01 Writing Program Architecture offers an unprecedented abundance of information concerning the significant material logistical and rhetorical features of writing programs Presenting the realities of thirty diverse and award winning programs contributors to the volume describe reporting lines funding sources jurisdictions curricula and other critical programmatic matters and provide insight into their program histories politics and philosophies Each chapter opens with a program snapshot that includes summary demographic and historical information and then addresses the profile of the WPA program conception population served funding assessment technology curriculum and more The architecture of the book itself makes comparison across programs and contexts easy not only among the programs described in each chapter but also between the program in any given chapter and the reader's own program An online web companion to the book includes access to the primary documents that have been of major importance to the development or sustainability of the program described in a Primary Document section of each chapter The metaphor of architecture allows us to imagine the constituent parts of a writing program as its foundation beams posts scaffolding the institutional structures that alongside its people anchor a program to the ground and keep it standing The most extensive resource on program structure available to the field Writing Program Architecture illuminates structural choices made by leaders of exemplary programs around the United States and provides an authoritative source of standard practice that a WPA might use to articulate programmatic choices to higher administration Contributors Susan Naomi Bernstein Remica Bingham Risher Brent Chappelow Malkiel Chosed Angela Clark Oates Patrick Clauss Emily W Cosgrove Thomas Deans Bridget Draxler Leigh Ann Dunning Greg A Giberson Maggie Griffin Taylor Paula

McNenny, Sallyanne H. Fitzgerald, 2001-06 Explores the many facets of the mainstreaming movement in college level basic writing that are currently being debated Examines the theoretical political pedagogical concerns that arise as pressures push colleges to eliminate basic writing programs     Research in Basic Writing Martin Jacobi, Michael G. Moran, 1990-02-15 This reference handbook surveys research on the central issue associated with the teaching of unprepared writers Though basic writing has only been recognized as a distinct area of teaching and research since 1975 the existing bibliographic texts already seem limited due to their age or lack of annotation This volume provides current and extensive bibliographic essays and will help to define this new field of study for teachers and researchers Following an introduction that summarizes the origins and significant texts in basic writing the book is divided into three sections Social Science Perspectives Linguistic Perspectives and Pedagogical Perspectives The first section which contains three essays views the field through the lens of social psychological and political issues The second section also containing three essays examines contributions made from studies of grammar dialects and second language acquisition The third section in its four essays focuses on the design development administration and evaluation of basic writing courses the use of computers in basic writing classrooms the role of the writing lab and the preparation of basic writing teachers An appendix that reviews current textbooks for basic writing courses is also included as well as an index This book will be a valuable resource for teachers of basic writing in education courses and workshops that train teachers and tutors and in fields such as linguistics technical writing and Teaching English as a Second Language It will also be an important addition to public and university libraries and many education programs

Developing and Sustaining Adult Learners Carrie J. Boden, Kathleen P. King, 2013-10-01 Developing and Sustaining Adult Learners is the second volume in a series of scholarly publications associated with the annual Adult Higher Education Alliance AHEA The Alliance conference The title of this volume derived from the theme of the 2012 conference co sponsored by American Association of Adult and Continuing Education AAACE in Las Vegas NV encompasses significant issues and questions at the forefront of the field of adult education At the conference scholars practitioners and adult educators gave presentations and received feedback on some of the most significant and timely issues in their praxis The Alliance which values collaboration transformative dialogue and collegiality among professionals considers this volume a continuation of those conversations as the presentations were expanded into chapters We are glad that you are joining the conversation This volume confirms not only that adult learning higher education and both fields of research have many contexts but also that there is so much more to learn about different perspectives and opportunities for research and practice Opportunities for symbiotic relationship abound We hope that Developing and Sustaining Adult Learners will be a book that you pull off your bookshelf or open in your e reader often We know that as we engage in program and course planning design and teaching this book will provide needed refreshment and new vision When research ideas seem too similar this volume will also provide many seeds for new opportunities Dialogue on Writing Geraldine DeLuca, Len Fox, Mark -Ameen Johnson, Myra

McDonald, 2002 Teaching Writing Landmarks and Horizons edited by Christina Russell McDonald and Robert L McDonald is designed to present an overview of some of the major developments in the establishment of composition studies as a field during the past thirty five years The essays are theoretically grounded but are focused on pedagogy as well Divided into two parts the first presents nine landmark essays selected and introduced by distinguished composition scholars and the second brings together eight new essays by emerging scholars

Understanding Writing Transfer Randall Bass, Jessie L. Moore, 2023-07-03

While education is based on the broad assumption that what one learns here can transfer over there across critical transitions what do we really know about the transfer of knowledge The question is all the more urgent at a time when there are pressures to unbundle higher education to target learning particular subjects and skills for occupational credentialing to the detriment of integrative education that enables students to make connections and integrate their knowledge skills and habits of mind into a adaptable and critical stance toward the world This book the fruit of two year multi institutional studies by forty five researchers from twenty eight institutions in five countries identifies enabling practices for and five essential principles about writing transfer that should inform decision making by all higher education stakeholders about how to generally promote the transfer of knowledge This collection concisely summarizes what we know about writing transfer and explores the implications of writing transfer research for universities institutional decisions about writing across the curriculum requirements general education programs online and hybrid learning outcomes assessment writing supported experiential learning e portfolios first year experiences and other higher education initiatives This volume makes writing transfer research accessible to administrators faculty decision makers and other stakeholders across the curriculum who have a vested interest in preparing students to succeed in their future writing tasks in academia the workplace and their civic lives and offers a framework for addressing the tensions between competency based education and the integration of knowledge so vital for our society

Writing Program Administration and the Community College Heather

Ostman, 2013-10-01 From the history of the community college in the United States to current issues and concerns facing writing programs and their administrators and instructors Writing Program Administration and the Community College offers a comprehensive look into writing programs at public two year institutions

Toward an Understanding of Language

Peter H. Fries, Nancy M. Fries, 1985-01-01 Charles C Fries 1887 1967 was a major figure in American linguistics and language education during the first half of the 20th century Theoretical innovation and practical implementation were important threads that ran throughout his work Fries believed that the attempt to deal with practical problems was a vital part of developing linguistic theory He spent most of his effort exploring grammar as a tool for communicating meaning Charles C Fries was quite influential in the development of linguistics in the United States and yet in some ways remained outside of the mainstream of the linguistics he helped to develop The contributors to this volume were asked to present and evaluate some aspect of Fries work and to show how similar ideas are being used today

Transnational Writing

Program Administration David S. Martins, 2015-03-15 While local conditions remain at the forefront of writing program administration transnational activities are slowly and thoroughly shifting the questions we ask about writing curricula the space and place in which writing happens and the cultural and linguistic issues at the heart of the relationships forged in literacy work Transnational Writing Program Administration challenges taken for granted assumptions regarding program identity curriculum and pedagogical effectiveness logistics and quality assurance faculty and student demographics innovative partnerships and research and the infrastructure needed to support writing instruction in higher education Well known scholars and new voices in the field extend the theoretical underpinnings of writing program administration to consider programs activities and institutions involving students and faculty from two or more countries working together and highlight the situated practices of such efforts The collection brings translingual graduate students at the forefront of writing studies together with established administrators teachers and researchers and intends to enrich the efforts of WPAs by examining the practices and theories that impact our ability to conceive of writing program administration as transnational This collection will enable writing program administrators to take the emerging locations of writing instruction seriously to address the role of language difference in writing and to engage critically with the key notions and approaches to writing program administration that reveal its transnationality
