Preaching the New Testament as Rhetoric Tim MacBride, 2014-11-05 Since the rise of the New Homiletic a generation ago it has been recognized that sermons not only say something to listeners they also do something A truly expository sermon will seek not merely to say what the biblical text said but also to do what the biblical text did in the lives of its original audience In Preaching the New Testament as Rhetoric MacBride looks how at the discipline of rhetorical criticism can help preachers discern the function of a New Testament text in its original setting as a means of crafting a sermon that can function similarly in contemporary contexts Focusing on the letters of Paul he shows how understanding them in light of Greco Roman speech conventions can suggest ways by which preachers can communicate not just the content of the letters but also their function In this way the power of the text itself can be harnessed leading to sermons that inform and most importantly transform

Preaching that Matters Lori J. Carrell, 2013-04-11 Listeners do love their pastors and they agree with the sermon content they hear Lori Carrell once explained to a group of pastors but most sermons don't ask for change and most listeners don't experience spiritual growth as a result of the sermon A participant responded Let s get practical I want my preaching to make a difference What changes are worth making and how do I make them In Preaching that Matters Lori Carrell shares answers to that question drawing on the experiences of thousands of people preachers and their listeners whose effort she has studied over many years In each chapter of this book she offers research revelations about high impact preaching that will encourage and challenge readers to continue to grow as preachers She then links these principles with Reflective Practice Challenges RPCs exercises that honor the rich experiences of pastors while opening opportunities for self analysis spiritual introspection conversation with a trusted other or implementation of research based preaching recommendations The activities have been used by hundreds of other pastors and each RPC has been carefully selected for its demonstrated contribution to the process of transforming sermon communication A selection of the RPCs are available as a downloadable file E mail resourcematerial rowman com for more information As a communication expert Carrell approaches preaching from a sermon communication paradigm She begins with the task of identifying the spiritually transformative purpose of the sermon and then explores exegeting organizing deepening and delivering the sermon as well as listening to the listeners and planning for continued transformation Her own goal is simple to inspire and equip clergy to make changes that will enhance the transformative power of their preaching To connect with others reading Preaching That Matters and to find an online accountability partner join the book s Google communities

Biblical Preaching Robert Curry, 2023-12-11 Preaching is a demand of the Bible that is fitted with a specific purpose and a strong theological base It is the proclamation of the word of God and is done in churches throughout the world Preaching plays a role in the spiritual formation of its hearers helping to form a community of faith whose members are sharing in and supporting one another in a spiritual journey The topics of preaching can be found in both the Old and New Testaments within several different genres but closer attention might be given to the genres of the parables of Jesus and the speeches in the book of Acts As a topic of preaching the parables can be understood as examples of allegory simile and or metaphor The speeches in Acts offer a picture window of a sort into the homiletical mindset of the apostles and other disciples as they proclaimed the gospel to the world as they knew it Preaching is a demand of the Bible and a specific task of those who are privileged to do it
