Markets And Moralities Ethnographies Of Postsocialism:

Markets and Moralities, 2020 Before the collapse of the Eastern Bloc private marketeering was regarded not only as criminal but even immoral by socialist regimes Ten years after taking on board western market orientated shock therapy post socialist societies are still struggling to come to terms with the clash between these deeply engrained moralities and the daily pressures to sell and consume This book explores the new market and its resulting contradictions in a rapidly developing Eastern Europe and Russia Will Western fast food industries irrevocably alter local culinary practices What effect has the privatization of land had upon ownership and exchange What role do new commodities play within the household Based on original first hand ethnography this book is a long awaited addition to existing literature on post socialist societies It will be essential reading for students of anthropology sociology European and cultural studies as well as professional groups working in Eastern Europe and Russia including NGOs development organizations and businesses

Ethnographies of Grey Zones in Eastern Europe Ida Harboe Knudsen, Martin Demant Frederiksen, 2015-04-15

Over the last two decades Eastern European countries have experienced extensive changes in geo political relocations and relations leading to everyday uncertainty Based on ethnographic cases this anthology explores how grey zones of governance borders relations and invisibilities affect everyday life in contemporary Eastern Europe

Ethnographies of Moral Reasoning K.

Sykes, 2008-12-22 Rather than measure the actions of their subjects by reference to either universal rationality or cultural relativism contributors in this volume describe ordinary people as they value human relationships and reason through the commonplace contradictions of their local way of life in a global age

The Informal Post-Socialist Economy Jeremy Morris, Abel Polese, 2013-12-13

From smugglers to entrepreneurs blue collar workers and taxi drivers this book deals with the multitude of characters engaged in informal economic practices in the former socialist regions Going beyond a conception of informality as opposed to the formal sector its authors demonstrate the fluid nature of informal transactions straddling the crossroads between illegal illicit socially acceptable and symbolically meaningful practices Their argument is informed by a wide range of case studies from Central Europe to the Baltics and Central Asia each of which is constructed around a single informant Each chapter narrates the story of a composite person or household that was carefully selected or constructed by an author with long standing ethnographic research experience in the given field site Wide in geographical empirical and theoretical scope the book uses ethnographic narrative accounts of everyday life to make links between ordinary meanings of informality Challenging reductively economic perspectives on cross border trading undeclared work and other informal activities the authors illustrate the wide variety of interpretive meanings that people ascribe to such practices Alongside getting by and getting ahead in recently marketised societies these meanings relate to sociality kinship ties and solidarity along with more surprising political and moral reasonings

Mobility and Armenian Belonging in Contemporary Turkey

Salim Aykut Öztürk, 2023-01-26 What remains and becomes Armenian in a historically informed moment of increased mobility

Taking an anthropological approach with ethnographic data collected from Turkey and Armenia over the course of almost 10 years this book focuses on themes of migration human movement community making and the conditions that facilitate mobility and place making Looking at case studies ranging from bus and taxi drivers travelling between Armenia and Turkey to undocumented migrants deported from Turkey and now living in Armenian cities and Armenian residents of Istanbul the author provides a vivid description of contemporary non Muslim life in Turkey through the lives of Armenian Turkish citizens and undocumented migrants from Armenia as well as Greek Jewish and Kurdish communities The author provides both a critical account of how historical and more contemporary forms of violence and structural discrimination have targeted Armenians in the country and also focuses on the re articulations and the appropriation of a sense of belonging by these and other minority communities

Migration and Identity in Central Asia Rano Turaeva,2015-11-19 This book is an ethnographic and sociolinguistic study of Uzbek migrants in the capital city of Uzbekistan The ethnographic details of the book represent post Soviet urban realities on the ground where various forms of belonging clash and kinship ties are reinforced within social safety networks Theoretically it challenges the existing theories of identity and identification which often considered the relations between We and Them taking the We for granted The book offers in depth insights into the communication strategies of migrants the formation of collective consciousness and the relations within the We domain Constructed around contradictions regarding Uzbek identity and how various groups relate to one another as different ethnic groups the theoretical argument of the book is built through such methods and analytical tools as strategic rhetoric and discourse analysis communication and identity theories and the analysis of power and dependence The book will be of interest to students and scholars of Central Asian Studies Migration Studies and Central Asian Culture and Society

New Lithuania in Old Hands Ida Harboe Knudsen,2012 Based on detailed ethnographic material New Lithuania in Old Hands analyzes the impact that European Union accession has had upon the country s aging smallscale farmers and describes how the reality of Lithuania s EU membership has been a far cry from the scenarios of wealth and overabundance once promised The text reveals that in many instances membership has resulted in a return to subsistence production increased insecurity and a reinforcement of kinship obligations Thus instead of treating the European Union as an elite project and voicing the support of various other segments of the population this volume shows how broad parts of the rural population have been affected by and engaged in processes of change following Lithuania s accession changes that threaten to have a large impact upon the future of the country s family structures and its farming demographic

Circulating Culture Jennifer Cearns,2023-08-15 Tracing the flows of people material items and digital content between Havana and Miami as well as between Cuba and Panama Guyana and Mexico this book demonstrates the worldmaking of marginalized Cuban communities in a transnational setting

Remains of the Soviet Past in Estonia Francisco Martinez,2018-07-06 What happens to legacies that do not find any continuation In Estonia a new generation that does not remember the socialist era and is open to global influences has grown up As a result the impact of the Soviet memory in people s conventional values is losing its effective power opening new opportunities for repair and revaluation of the past Francisco Martinez brings together a number of sites of interest to explore the vanquishing of the Soviet legacy in Estonia the railway bazaar in Tallinn where concepts such as market and employment take on distinctly different meanings from their Western use Linnahall a grandiose venue whose Soviet heritage now poses difficult questions of how to present the building s history Tallinn s cityscape where the social spatial and temporal co evolution of the city can be viewed and debated Narva a city that marks the border between the Russian Federation NATO and the European Union and represents a place of continual negotiation of belonging and the new Estonian National Museum in Raadi an area on the outskirts of Tartu that has been turned into a memory field The anthropological study of all these places shows that national identity and historical representations can be constructed in relation to waste and disrepair too also demonstrating how we can understand generational change in a material sense

Praise for Remains of the Soviet Past in Estonia By adopting the tropes of repair and waste this book innovatively manages to link various material registers from architecture intergenerational relations affect and museums with ways of making the past present Through a rigorous yet transdisciplinary method Mart nez brings together different scales and contexts that would often be segregated out In this respect the ethnography unfolds a deep and nuanced analysis providing a useful comparative and insightful account of the processes of repair and waste making in all their material social and ontological dimensions Victor Buchli Professor of Material Culture at UCL This book comprises an endearingly transdisciplinary ethnography of postsocialist material culture and social change in Estonia Mart nez creatively draws on a number of critical and cultural theorists together with additional research on memory and political studies scholarship and the classics of anthropology Grappling concurrently with time and space the book offers a delightfully thick description of the material effects generated by the accelerated post Soviet transformation in Estonia inquiring into the generational specificities in experiencing and relating to the postsocialist condition through the conceptual anchors of wasted legacies and repair This book defies disciplinary boundaries and shows how an attention to material relations and affective infrastructures might reinvigorate political theory Maria M Ilksoo Senior Lecturer Brussels School of International Studies at the University of Kent

Traders, Informal Trade and Markets between the Caucasus and China Susanne Fehlings, 2022-12-01 The book is about the economic practices of traders and businesspeople from the Caucasus and China who work in local bazaars in Tbilisi and Beijing It describes their activities their motivations their socio cultural backgrounds their work environments and their interactions with one another Contributing to a broader debate on the nature and role of informal economic practices in the post Soviet periphery and processes of globalization from below the book aims at providing a thick description of the embeddedness of bazaar traders economic behaviors and strategies in local and global political economic and cultural contexts markets and supply chains

first decades of the transition from planned to free market economy in Central Asia Contributions from both Eastern and Western scholars Includes both theoretical NGO research and practical examples taken from experience During the important early years of post socialist transformation in the Caucasus Central Asia and Mongolia the Open Society Institute Soros Foundation was arguably the largest and most influential network in the region How NGOs React follows the Soros Foundation s educational reform programs there and raises larger questions about the role of NGOs in a centralist government relationships NGOs have with international donors and development banks and strategies NGOs use to interpret global reforms locally The authors all former or current educational experts of the Soros Foundation analyze the post socialist reform package at the country level highlighting the common features such as decentralization privatization vouchers and liberalization of the textbook publishing market They look at the global reforms and their variations as they were transferred to Armenia Azerbaijan Georgia Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Mongolia Tajikistan Turkmenistan and Uzbekistan over the past decade A unique combination of perspectives from Western as well as Eastern scholars based in the region makes this collection an essential retrospective on key processes involved in transforming educational systems since the collapse of the socialist bloc Contributors Tatiana Abdushukurova Erika Dailey Valentin Deichman Natsagdorj Enkh TUYA Alexandr Ivanov Saule Kalikova Elmina Kazimzade Anna Matiashvili and Armenuhi Tadevosyan Sex, Love, and

Migration Alexia Bloch, 2017-12-15 Sex Love and Migration goes beyond a common narrative of women s exploitation as a feature of migration in the early twenty first century a story that features young women from poor countries who cross borders to work in low paid and often intimate labor Alexia Bloch argues that the mobility of women is marked not only by risks but also by personal and social transformation as migration fundamentally reshapes women s emotional worlds and aspirations Bloch documents how as women have crossed borders between the former Soviet Union and Turkey since the early 1990s they have forged new forms of intimacy in their households in Moldova Ukraine Belarus and Russia but also in Istanbul where they often work for years on end Sex Love and Migration takes as its subject the lives of post Soviet migrant women employed in three distinct spheres sex work the garment trade and domestic work Bloch challenges us to decouple images of women on the move from simple assumptions about danger victimization and trafficking She redirects our attention to the aspirations and lives of women who despite myriad impediments move between global capitalist centers and their home communities Governance Beyond the Law Abel Polese, Alessandra Russo, Francesco Strazzari, 2019-03-29

This volume explores the continuous line from informal and unrecorded practices all the way up to illegal and criminal practices performed and reproduced by both individuals and organisations The authors classify them as alternative subversive forms of governance performed by marginal and often invisible peripheral actors The volume studies how the informal and the extra legal unfold transnationally and in particular how and why they have been are being progressively criminalized and integrated into the construction of global and local dangerhoods how the above mentioned phenomena are embedded into a post liberal security order and whether they shape new states of exception and generate moral panic whose ultimate function is regulatory disciplinary and one of crafting practices of political ordering

Neo-Socialist Property Rights Cheuk-Yuet Ho, 2015-07-15 Neo Socialist Property Rights The Predicament of Housing Ownership in China examines how urban dwellers practices of acquiring and defending property rights reshape state property family relationality in China Ubiquitous housing ownership has emerged together with a pervasive yet particularized rights discourse and practice in the past two decades Ho Cheuk Yuet considers them to be a condensation and vindication of the principles of family values and emergent neo socialist governance However there are manifested and latent contradictions between rights as interests and rights as a moral principle This book concludes that private property rights are at once enabling and disabling when understood in the light of both the rigorous pursuit of well being in a market economy and the contestation by those who resist forced eviction or the infringement of owners rights In this book Ho provides rarely available ethnographic record of the encounters between evictees and evictors engaged in housing demolition and approaches the topic of urban housing ownership from the investing perspective in contrast to most anthropologists consumption focus analysis Neo Socialist Property Rights links property rights practice to the broader human rights discourse as both a working hypothesis and a historical question

Kazakhstan - Ethnicity, Language and Power Bhavna Dave, 2007-09-13 Kazakhstan is emerging as the most dynamic economic and political actor in Central Asia It is the second largest country of the former Soviet Union after the Russian Federation and has rich natural resources particularly oil which is being exploited through massive US investment Kazakhstan has an impressive record of economic growth under the leadership of President Nursultan Nazarbaev and has ambitions to project itself as a modern wealthy civic state with a developed market economy At the same time Kazakhstan is one of the most ethnically diverse countries in the region with very substantial non Kazakh and non Muslim minorities Its political regime has used elements of political clientelism and neo traditional practices to bolster its rule Drawing from extensive ethnographic research interviews and archival materials this book traces the development of national identity and statehood in Kazakhstan focusing in particular on the attempts to build a national state It argues that Russification and Sovietization were not simply top down processes that they provide considerable scope for local initiatives and that Soviet ethnically based affirmative action policies have had a lasting impact on ethnic lite formation and the rise of a distinct brand of national consciousness

Intimate Divisions Detelina Tocheva, 2017 Tocheva Intimate Divisions The resurgence of the Russian Orthodox Church after the fall of the Soviet Union has rendered it a popular source of identification even though few Russians bother to observe the faith strictly What makes the tie between the Church and society so strong This book based on ethnographic fieldwork in urban parishes in the Saint Petersburg Region argues that at the level of the street post Soviet inequalities have contributed to the entanglements between Russian society and the Orthodox Church by shaping the structure and meaning of everyday religious interaction By rebuilding churches participating in the parish economy and Orthodox schooling pondering over almsgiving and providing charitable support to common needy agents of many kinds experience reproduce and critique Russia's social order

Business Culture in Putin's Russia John Kennedy, 2021-11-10 This book examines how Russia's entrepreneurs operate in a business environment beset with risk and uncertainty. The challenges they may encounter include an unreliable judicial system, insecure property rights, arbitrary interference from officials as well as corruption, harassment, suspicion and violence. Based on extensive original research including fieldwork within three businesses, this book explores how entrepreneurs survive and some thrive. It focuses on the kind of obstacles they face from day to day, details their motivations, rationale and methods, and describes the actual relationship between ordinary entrepreneurs and the state, providing new insights into business-state relations.

Informal Trade, Gender and the Border Experience Olga Sasunkevich, 2016-05-23 Detailing the history of a well-known phenomenon of post-socialism cross-border petty trade and smuggling as the history of a practice in daily life from a gendered perspective, this book considers how changes in these practices in a particular border region between Belarus and Lithuania have been accompanied and to some extent provoked by changes in the border regime. It looks at how the selective openness of the Belarus-Lithuania border worked during different periods over the last twenty years and how it influenced the involvement of different social groups in shuttle trade practices. Foremost, this book considers how political borders implement and/or intensify social boundaries and suggests that the selective openness of political borders is a prerequisite for the existence of female shuttle trade activities, which is primarily built upon people's social characteristics. However, it claims that what can be seen as the grounds for growing inequality at a global level at a local one may have an important resourceful meaning for various social groups, including those usually perceived as disadvantaged, such as widowed female retirees or unemployed single women with children.

Balkan Blues Yusef Jung, 2019-02-01 An exploration of how a state transitions from the collectivized production and distribution of socialism to the consumer-focused culture of capitalism. In Balkan Blues, Yusef Jung considers the state as an economic agent in upholding rights and responsibilities in the shift to a global market. Taking Bulgaria as her focus, Jung shows how impoverished Bulgarians developed a consumer-oriented society and how the concept of need adapted in surprising ways to accommodate this new culture. Different legal frameworks arose to ensure the rights of vulnerable or deceived consumers. Consumer advocacy NGOs and government officers scrambled to navigate unfamiliar EU-imposed models for consumer affairs departments. All of these changes involved issues of responsibility, accountability and civic engagement, which brought Bulgarians new ways of viewing both their identities and their sense of agency. Yet these opportunities also raised questions of inequality, injustice and social stratification. Jung's study provides a compelling argument for reconsidering the role of the state in the construction of twenty-first century consumer cultures. A good contribution to post-socialist and Balkan studies, showing well that the concept of post-socialism can still be useful, not only in the context of Central and Eastern Europe but also in the Balkans. The book is based on long-term deep ethnography.

and is well written I recommend it to anyone who wants to try to understand social political and economic differences in Europe and everyday practices related to the imaginaries of the state Karolina Bielenin Lenczowska Ethnologia Polona

Economies of Favour after Socialism David Henig, Nicolette Makovsky, 2016-12-15 Since the onset of the global economic crisis activists policy makers and social scientists have been searching for alternative paradigms through which to re imagine contemporary modes of thinking and writing about economic orders These attempts have led to their re engagement with fundamental anthropological categories of economic analysis such as barter debt and the gift Focusing on favours and the paradoxes of action meaning and significance they engender this volume advocates for their addition to this list of economic universals It presents a critical re interrogation of the conceptual relationships between gratuitous and instrumental behaviour and raises novel questions about the intersection of economic actions with the ethical and expressive aspects of human life Scholars of post socialist politics and society have often used favour as a by word for corruption and clientelism The contributors to this volume treat favours and the doing of favours as a distinct mode of acting rather than as a form of masked economic exchange or simply an expression of goodwill Casting their comparative net from post socialist Central Eastern and South Eastern Europe to the former Soviet Union Mongolia and post Maoist China the contributors to this volume show how gratuitous behaviour shapes a plethora of different actions practices and judgements across religious and political life imaginative practices and local moral economies They show that favours do not operate outside or beyond the economic sphere Rather they constitute a distinct mode of action which has economic consequences without being fully explicable in terms of transactional cost benefit analyses
