

An aerial photograph of a busy street in Cairo, Egypt. The street is filled with a dense flow of vehicles, including cars, buses, and taxis, moving in both directions. Pedestrians are visible on the sidewalks and crossing the street. The surrounding urban environment is visible in the background, with buildings and more traffic. The overall scene depicts a bustling, high-density urban environment.

Markets Of Dispossession:

Markets of Dispossession Julia Elyachar, 2005-10-26 A case study of economic development in Cairo that sheds light on issues of agency and empowerment in the age of neoliberal globalization Building Dignified Worlds Gerda Roelvink, 2016-03-22 Building Dignified Worlds examines how contemporary collectives are designing alternative economies Contemporary collectives differ markedly from previous groups associated with revolutionary politics Instead of assembling large groups of workers around labor issues these new collectives creatively arrange diverse peoples animals natural environments and technologies around economic concerns Like older forms of leftist organizing these collectives seek to bring about change However rather than working to overthrow and replace an underlying capitalist system with an equally totalizing alternative like socialism they experiment with new forms of economic life This book explores how socially and politically concerned groups actually establish alternative economies Building Dignified Worlds investigates social movements that do not simply protest but actively forge functional alternatives The market model described by many scholars and activists as the enemy of these recent social movements rarely exists in today s world As Gerda Roelvink notes current markets are better conceptualized as dynamic social networks open to intervention by innovative social movements Radical scholars have theorized social transformation as a performative act They have provided extensive analysis of how discourse shapes the world through language and is materialized in bodies and practices Until now though little has been written about the geographical nature of collective associations performing new worlds Roelvink takes actor network and performativity theories of action as starting points for thinking about how contemporary collectives bring the new into being This approach enables an understanding of how collectives initiate change and begins to map the forces through which they operate Roelvink s work reveals in particular how the relational and geographical nature of performative action is central to the ways in which hybrid collectives strive to create alternative economies Handbook of Critical Agrarian Studies Akram-Lodhi, A. H., Dietz, Kristina, Engels, Bettina, McKay, Ben M., 2021-12-14 Exploring the emerging and vibrant field of critical agrarian studies this comprehensive Handbook offers interdisciplinary insights from both leading scholars and activists to understand agrarian life livelihoods formations and processes of change It highlights the development of the field which is characterized by theoretical and methodological pluralism and innovation Politics in the Crevices Sarah El-Kazaz, 2023-09-29 In Politics in the Crevices Sarah El Kazaz takes readers into the world of urban planning and design practices in Istanbul and Cairo In this transnational ethnography of neighborhoods undergoing contested rapid transformations she reveals how the battle for housing has shifted away from traditional political arenas onto private crevices of the city She outlines how multiple actors from highly capitalized international NGOs and corporations to city dwellers bureaucrats and planning experts use careful urban design to empower conflicting agendas whether manipulating property markets to protect affordable housing or corner luxury real estate El Kazaz shows that such contemporary politicizations of urban design stem from unresolved struggles at the heart of messy transitions from the welfare state to neoliberalism which have shifted the politics of redistribution from contested political arenas to design practices operating within market logics ultimately relocating political struggles onto the city's most intimate crevices. In so doing she raises critical questions about the role of market reforms in redistributing resources and challenges readers to rethink neoliberalism and the fundamental ways it shapes cities and polities.

Left Behind Lily Geismer, 2022-03-01 The 40 year history of how Democrats chose political opportunity over addressing inequality and how the poor have paid the price. For decades the Republican Party has been known as the party of the rich arguing for business friendly policies like deregulation and tax cuts. But this incisive political history shows that the current inequality crisis was also enabled by a Democratic Party that catered to the affluent. The result is one of the great missed opportunities in political history a moment when we had the chance to change the lives of future generations and were too short sighted to take it. Historian Lily Geismer recounts how the Clinton era Democratic Party sought to curb poverty through economic growth and individual responsibility rather than asking the rich to make any sacrifices. Fueled by an ethos of doing well by doing good microfinance charter schools and privately funded housing developments grew trendy. Though politically expedient and sometimes profitable in the short term these programs fundamentally weakened the safety net for the poor. This piercingly intelligent book shows how bygone policy decisions have left us with skyrocketing income inequality and poverty in America and widened fractures within the Democratic Party that persist to this day.

Privatization Becky Mansfield, 2009-03-25 Contemporary privatization remakes nature society as property and transforms people's relationships to themselves each other and the natural world. This groundbreaking collection provides the first systematic analysis of neo liberal privatization. Rich case studies of privatization in the making reveal both the pivotal role that privatization plays in neoliberalism and new opportunities for challenging neo liberal hegemony. Rich case studies linked to broader questions on neoliberalism. Illustrates the importance of property relation and the complexities existing in the meaning and practice of property. Extends current geographical scholarship on neoliberalism including neoliberalism and nature. Each essay touches on the disciplinary regulatory dimensions of privatization. Highlights the importance of privatization both broadly and specifically.

Speculative Markets Kristin Peterson, 2014-08-25 In this unprecedented account of the dynamics of Nigeria's pharmaceutical markets Kristin Peterson connects multinational drug company policies oil concerns Nigerian political and economic transitions the circulation of pharmaceuticals in the Global South Wall Street machinations and the needs and aspirations of individual Nigerians. Studying the pharmaceutical market in Lagos Nigeria she places local market social norms and credit and pricing practices in the broader context of regional transnational and global financial capital. Peterson explains how a significant and formerly profitable African pharmaceutical market collapsed in the face of U.S. monetary policies and neoliberal economic reforms and she illuminates the relation between that collapse and the American turn to speculative capital during the 1980s. In the process she reveals the mutual constitution of financial speculation in the drug industry and the structural adjustment plans that the IMF imposed on African nations Her book is a sobering ethnographic analysis of the effects of speculation and development as they reverberate across markets and continents and play out in everyday interpersonal transactions of the Lagos pharmaceutical market

Palestine Is Throwing a Party and the Whole World Is Invited Kareem Rabie, 2021-03-29 In 2008 Palestinian Prime Minister Salam Fayyad invited international investors to the first ever Palestine Investment Conference which was designed to jump start the process of integrating Palestine into the global economy As Fayyad described the conference Palestine is throwing a party and the whole world is invited In this book Kareem Rabie examines how the conference and Fayyad's rhetoric represented a wider shift in economic and political practice in ways that oriented state scale Palestinian politics toward neoliberal globalization rather than a diplomatic two state solution Rabie demonstrates that private firms international aid organizations and the Palestinian government in the West Bank focused on large scale private housing development in an effort toward state scale economic stability and market building This approach reflected the belief that a thriving private economy would lead to a free and functioning Palestinian state Yet as Rabie contends these investment based policies have maintained the status quo of occupation and Palestine's subordinate and suspended political and economic relationship with Israel

Market Justice Brent Z. Kaup, 2012-12-24 Market Justice explores the challenges for the new global left as it seeks to construct alternative means of societal organization Focusing on Bolivia Brent Z Kaup examines a testing ground of neoliberal and counter neoliberal policies and an exemplar of bottom up globalization Kaup argues that radical shifts towards and away from free market economic trajectories are not merely shaped by battles between transnational actors and local populations but also by conflicts between competing domestic elites and the ability of the oppressed to overcome traditional class divides Further the author asserts that struggles against free markets are not evidence of opposition to globalization or transnational corporations They should instead be understood as struggles over the forms of global integration and who benefits from them

Whole Person Promotion, Women, and the Post-Pandemic Era: Impact and Future Outlooks Crosby, Michelle, Faludi, Julianna, 2022-05-20 The COVID 19 pandemic both accelerated social and household inequalities and made them more visible as the spatial and social divide between work and home life was broken down Historically during times of crisis or huge systematic change women have served as shock absorbers Shock absorption of systemic change by women as well as that of our planet's natural resources is not a new phenomenon and this dynamic persisted even during state socialism however in the current institutional setups there seems to be no logical solution because of the orientation around marketization and externalization by central actors Currently during a time of great precarity in our digital revolution old institutions are still counting on women the planet and other vulnerable groups to support this transformation with no clear protection of whole personhood Whole Person Promotion Women and the Post Pandemic Era Impact and Future Outlooks provides the latest empirical research findings in the post pandemic era with the household as the central unit of analysis It improves understanding of how old institutions persist and are even reinforced during times of crisis as well as generates a discussion about to what extent there is variation in experiences how satisfied we are with these dynamics and what internal and external interactions we can attribute to the world that we envision Covering topics such as individual wellbeing platform capitalism and gender inequality this premier reference source is a dynamic resource for lawyers policymakers government officials politicians business leaders managers economists non profit organizations libraries students and faculty of higher education sociologists anthropologists researchers and academicians

The Reconstruction of Post-War Labour Markets in The Southern African Development Community Saint José Inaka, Christopher Changwe Nshimbi, Leon Mwamba Tshimpaka, 2023-08-12 This book provides a comprehensive overview of post war labour market reconstructions in the context of a regional bloc whose member states have experienced conflict Focusing on the Southern African Development Community SADC region the book explores how major conflicts often expose shortcomings in affected countries particularly on their post war labour market reconstruction processes The authors discuss how countries in the SADC region in particular are equipped to navigate such processes This key question drives the overview of relationships between labour market issues and wars of liberation from colonial rule and apartheid rights to self determination and racial inequality and the need to succinctly explain how labour market issues shaped civil wars in some post independent SADC member states The book examines the role of the state in reconstruction processes of post war labour markets and the contribution of labour market institutions to these reconstructions It further analyses private sector participation in remaking labour markets and workers experiences in finding employment in labour markets under reconstruction The book provides specific insights from experiences in the Democratic Republic of the Congo DRC

Altered States Sune Haugbolle, Mark LeVine, 2022-08-22 Building on Timothy Mitchell's seminal 1991 exploration of the Limits of the State this book brings together contributions on the state in the Arab world from the past and present in an edited volume Altered States views the state less as a matter of people and institutions and more as sets of practices regimes of truth and capabilities of power and the effects they have on those under their control Through analysing case studies including Tunisia Syria Lebanon Egypt Palestine UAE Rojova and the Islamic State the concept of the state is applied and questioned This book examines the roots of policies that led to the uprisings focusing on how the authoritarian bargain which helped define Arab politics broke down with the rise of neoliberalism It also assesses how boundaries between state and society have been redrawn as various dynamics have brought state forces into more open conflict with citizens and each other The rapid pace of change in the Arab world has necessitated constant modification of themes and theoretical lens of analysis This book will therefore be of interest to practitioners graduate students and academics of the Arab world statehood and political science Rights in Context Reza Banakar, 2016-03-23 This volume offers snapshots of how rights are debated and employed in public discourse to reshape legal and political relations at the beginning of the twenty first century It explores how rights are used to challenge the state of affairs by individuals and groups who seek justice and the strategies devised to defy the existing rights by those who wish to recast the social and political order This volume discusses rights firstly in relation to actual events and issues faced by policy makers courts international agencies or ordinary people These range from the demands of minority groups living in the West to freely practice their culture and or religion to the threat of terrorism the regulation of asylum rights the investor s rights to disclosure and the rights of artists to freedom of expression Secondly rights discourse is examined in relation to attempts to redefine the form and content of rights for example by banning the right to wear religious symbols in public institutions or detaining terrorism suspects without trial Thirdly rights discourse is explored in connection with the attempts to develop new notions of rights such as human security which can more effectively respond to the challenges of late modern societies Finally the statuses of rights in sociological theory and socio legal research are briefly discussed and analysed

Extractivism Across Production and Social Reproduction

Coşku Çelik,2024-12-02 This book examines the political economy of natural resource extraction in the Global South across production and social reproduction Building on a fieldwork which stretched over six years the book argues that natural resource extraction in the agrarian South is a multi dimensional development strategy whose holistic analysis necessitates attention to i the significance of the natural resource in question for macro development plans and global value chains ii the formation of the classes of extractive labour across production and social reproduction iii gender division of labour within rural extractive households and rural labour markets and iv labour process and control strategies in the spheres of production and social reproduction

The Ways of the World David Harvey,2016-02-05 David Harvey is one of most famous Marxist intellectuals in the past half century as well as one of the world s most cited social scientists Beginning in the early 1970s with his trenchant and still relevant book Social Justice and the City and through this day Harvey has written numerous books and dozens of influential essays and articles on topics across issues in politics culture economics and social justice In The Ways of the World Harvey has gathered his most important essays from the past four decades They form a career spanning collection that tracks not only the development of Harvey over time as an intellectual but also a dialectical vision that gradually expanded its reach from the slums of Baltimore to global environmental degradation to the American imperium While Harvey s coverage is wide ranging all of the pieces tackle the core concerns that have always animated his work capitalism past and present social change freedom class imperialism the city nature social justice postmodernity globalization and the crises that inhere in capitalism A career defining volume The Ways of the World will stand as a comprehensive work that presents the trajectory of Harvey s lifelong project in full

Raced Markets Lisa Tilley,Robbie Shilliam,2021-05-30 Despite rich archives of work on race and the global economy most notably by scholars of colour and Global South intellectuals the discipline of Political Economy has largely avoided an honest confrontation with how race works within the domains it studies not least within markets By way of corrective this book draws together scholarship on the material function of race at various scales in the global political economy The collective provocation of the contributors to this volume is that race has been integral to the formation of capitalism as extensively laid out by the racial capitalism literature and takes on new forms in the novel market spaces of neoliberalism The chapters within this volume also reinforce that the current political conjuncture marked by the ascension of neo fascist power cannot be defined by an exceptional intrusion of racism nor can its racism be dismissed as epiphenomenal Raced Markets will be of great value to scholars students and researchers interested in political economy and racial capitalism as well as those willing to explore how race takes on new forms in the novel market spaces of contemporary neoliberalism The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the New Political Economy

Up Down and Sideways is an ethnographic examination of such phenomena as debt culture global financial crises food insecurity indigenous land and resource appropriation the mismanagement of health care and corporate surrogacy within family life With a preface by Laura Nader this is essential reading for anyone seeking solid theories and concrete methods to inform activist scholarship

Global Justice, Markets and Domination Fausto Corvino, 2020-11-27 This thought provoking book analyses the process of labour commodification through which the individual's ability to earn a basic living becomes dependent on the conditions of the market relationship Building on the premise that the separation of a group of individuals from the means of production is an intrinsic element of capitalism Fausto Corvino theorises that this implies a form of domination in a neo republican sense
