Midshipman W.H.G. Kingston,2022-05-08 Reprint of the original first published in 1862 Castle Magic and the Sinister

Encroaching Fir Wood Anne Poltera,2012 A frail fatherless boy whose mother is ill goes to stay unwillingly with cousins There he finds his strength makes unusual friends and discovers magic talents using them to save the world from falling into the hands of the pink witch The author has created characters both human and other together with gripping adventure which will enthrall and entertain The story weaves situations in childhood encompassing fears tears humour achievements dawning wisdom and sheer wonder Delightful Inspirational Unforgettable Grown ups can also enjoy reading Castle Magic Pamela Koutroulides As a child I had bad health and spent 3 years in hospital totally separated from my Mum and Dad Visits were few I retreated into my own world as there was no adult to share with I learnt to read and read avidly Sometimes I told stories to other children I didn't mix with ordinary children until I came out of hospital at 8 I was rather clumsy at it When I grew up I became a social worker wife mother and grandmother chesty illnesses following me throughout I often spent holidays in a flat in an English castle It was there that the seeds of this story grew In my fifties I journeyed into my imagination and began painting using pattern and bright colour During this time Stephen the hero of Castle Magic was born in my imagination In my sixties I began writing slowly discovering my own true voice and began the greatest adventure of my life Stephens talents like mine were enhanced by his circumstances sensitivity revealing the magic and wonder of the world around There is magic also within and Stephen wants to encourage everyone to find it www.annepoltera.com 50% profits from this book go to Demelza a charity providing hospice care for children See inside Marmaduke Merry: A Tale of Naval Adventures in Bygone Days William Henry Giles Kingston,2020-09-28 I belong to the family of the Merrys of Leicestershire Our chief characteristic was well suited to our patronymic Merry by name and merry by nature was a common saying among us Indeed a more good natured laughing happy set of people it would be difficult to find Right jovial was the rattle of tongues and the cachinnation which went forward whenever we were assembled together either at breakfast or dinner or supper our father and mother setting us the example so that we began the day with a hearty laugh and finished it with a heartier Laugh and grow fat is an apothegm which all people cannot follow but our mother did in the most satisfactory manner Her skin was fair and most thoroughly comfortably filled out her hair was light and her contented spirit beamed out from a pair of large laughing blue eyes so that it was a pleasure to look at her as she sat at the head of the table serving out the viands to her hungry progeny Our sisters were very like her and came fairly under the denomination of jolly girls and thoroughly jolly they were none of them ever had a headache or a toothache or any other ache that I know of Our father was a good specimen of a thorough English country gentleman he was thorough in everything honest faced stout and hearty not over refined perhaps but yet gentle in all his thoughts and acts a hater of a lie and every thing dishonourable hospitable and generous to the utmost of his means a protector of the poor and helpless and a friend to all his neighbours Yes and I may say more both he and my mother were humble sincere Christians and made the law of the Bible their rule of life He told a good story and laughed at it himself and delighted to see our mother and us laugh at it also Had he been bred a lawyer and lived in London he would have been looked upon as a first rate wit but I am certain that he was much happier with the lot awarded to him He had a good estate his tenants paid their rents regularly and he had few or no cares to disturb his digestion or to keep him awake at night and I am very certain that he would far rather have had us to hear his jokes and laugh at them with him than all the wits London ever produced He delighted in joining in all our sports either of the field or flood and we always looked forward to certain amusement when he was able to accompany us He was our companion and friend we had no secrets from him why should we He was always our best adviser and if we got into scrapes which one or the other of us was not unfrequently doing we were very certain that no one could extricate us as well as he could I don t mean to say that he forgot the proverb Spare the rod spoil the child or that we were such pieces of perfection that we did not deserve punishment but we had sense enough to see that he punished us for our good he did it calmly never angrily and without any unnecessarily severe remark and we certainly did not love him the less for the sharpest flogging he ever gave us Directly afterwards he would meet the culprit in his usual frank hearty way and seem to forget all about the matter
