Australian Muslim Women Helen McCue, Abdullah Saeed, 2013-06-01 This book is a collection of essays that aims to identify the multitude of ways in which Australian Muslim women negotiate both Australian Family Law and Islamic Family Law in the key areas of marriage divorce child custody property settlement and inheritance The book also seeks to provide a timely and significant insight into the various legal cultural and social processes that Australian Muslim women use when disputes in these key areas arise Islamic Studies Series Volume 15 Islamic Divorce in North America Julie

Macfarlane, 2012-04-30 Policy makers and the public are increasingly attentive to the role of shari a in the everyday lives of Western Muslims with negative associations and public fears growing among their non Muslim neighbors in the United States and Canada The most common way North American Muslims relate to shari a is in their observance of Muslim marriage and divorce rituals recourse to traditional Islamic marriage and to a lesser extent divorce is widespread Julie Macfarlane has conducted hundreds of interviews with Muslim couples as well as with religious and community leaders and family conflict professionals Her book describes how Muslim marriage and divorce processes are used in North America and what they mean to those who embrace them as a part of their religious and cultural identity The picture that emerges is of an idiosyncratic private ordering system that reflects a wide range of attitudes towards contemporary family values and changes in gender roles Some women describe pervasive assumptions about restrictions on their role in the family system as well as pressure to accept these values and to stay married Others of both genders describe the gradual modernization of Islamic family traditions and the subsequent emergence of a Western shari a but a continuing commitment to the rituals of Muslim marriage and divorce in their private lives Readers will be challenged to consider how the secular state should respond in order to find a balance between state commitment to universal norms and formal equality and the protection of religious freedom expressed in private religious and cultural practices Feminist Activism, Women's Rights, and Legal Reform

Stiles, Ayang Utriza Yakin, 2022-09-16

Islamic Divorce in the 21st Century shows the wide range of Muslim experiences in marital disputes and in seeking Islamic divorces. For Muslims, having the ability to divorce in accordance with Islamic law is of paramount importance. However, Muslim experiences of divorce practice differ tremendously. The chapters in this volume discuss Islamic divorce from West Africa to Southeast Asia, and each story explores aspects of the everyday realities of disputing and divorcing Muslim couples face in the twenty-first century. The book's cross-cultural and comparative look at Islamic divorce indicates that Muslim divorces are impacted by global religious discourses on Islamic authority, authenticity, and gender, by global patterns of and approaches to secularity, and by global economic inequalities and attendant patterns of urbanization and migration. Studying divorce as a mode of Islamic law in practice shows us that the Islamic legal tradition is flexible, malleable, and context-dependent Islamic Law in Practice Mashood A. Baderin, 2017-03-02

Islamic law influences the lives of Muslims today as aspects of the law are applied as part of State law in different forms in many areas of the world. This volume provides a much-needed collection of articles that explore the complexities involved in the application of Islamic law within the contemporary legal systems of different countries today, with particular reference to Saudi Arabia, Morocco, Indonesia, Nigeria, Turkey, Malaysia, and Pakistan. The articles identify the relevant areas of difficulties and also propose possible ways of realising a more effective and equitable application of Islamic law in the contemporary world. The volume features an introductory overview of the subject as well as a comprehensive bibliography to aid further research Shari'a Councils and Muslim

Women in Britain Tanya Walker, 2016-10-11 The public debate on Shari'a councils in Britain has been heavily influenced by the assumption that the councils exist as religious authorities and that those who use them exercise their right to religious freedom. In Shari'a Councils and Muslim Women in Britain, Tanya Walker draws on extensive fieldwork from over 100 cases to argue for a radically different understanding of the setting and dynamics of the Shari'a councils. The analysis highlights the pragmatic manoeuvrings of Muslim women in pursuit of defined objectives within limited space, holding in tension both the constraints of particular frameworks of power and the realities of women's agency. Despite this needed nuance in a polarised debate, however, important questions about the rights of Muslim women remain Shari'a Law and Modern Muslim

Ethics Robert W. Hefner, 2016-08-29 Many Muslim societies are in the throes of tumultuous political transitions, and common to all has been heightened debate over the place of sharia law in modern politics and ethical life. Bringing together leading scholars of Islamic politics, ethics, and law, this book examines the varied meanings and uses of Islamic law so as to assess the prospects for democratic plural and gender equitable Islamic ethics today These essays show that contrary to the claims of some radicals Muslim understandings of Islamic law and ethics have always been varied and emerge not from unchanging texts but from real and active engagement with Islamic traditions and everyday life The ethical debates that rage in contemporary Muslim societies reveal much about the prospects for democratic societies and a pluralist Islamic ethics in the future They also suggest that despite the tragic violence wrought in recent years by Boko Haram and the Islamic State in Iraq we may yet see an age of ethical renewal across the Muslim world

Muslims and non Muslims see women in most Muslim countries as suffering from social economic and political discrimination treated by law and society as second class citizens subject to male authority This discrimination is attributed to Islam and Islamic law and since the late 19th century there has been a mass of literature tackling this issue Recently exciting new feminist research has been challenging gender discrimination and male authority from within Islamic legal tradition this book presents some important results from that research The contributors all engage critically with two central juristic concepts rooted in the Qur'an they lie at the basis of this discrimination One refers to a husband's authority over his wife his financial responsibility toward her and his superior status and rights The other is male family members right and duty of guardianship over female members e.g. fathers over daughters when entering into marriage contracts and the privileging of fathers over mothers in guardianship rights over their children The contributors brought together by the Musawah global movement for equality and justice in the Muslim family include Omayma Abou Bakr Asma Lamrabet Ayesha Chaudhry Saadiyya Shaikh Lynn Welchman Marwa Sharefeldin Lena Larsen and Amina Wadud Islamic Family Law in a Changing World 'Abd Allāh Aḥmad Na'im, 2002-08 In Islamic Family Law in a Changing World Abdullahi A. An-Na'im explores the practice of the Shari'a commonly known as Islamic Family Law An-Na'im shows that the practical application of Shari'a principles is often modified by theological differences of interpretation a country's particular customary practices and state policy and law Shi'i Materiality Beyond Karbala, 2024-05-21 This book examines material and multi sensorial expressions of Shi'i Islam in diverse and understudied demographic and geographic contexts It engages with conceptual debates and makes several propositions that push the frontiers of scholarship on Islamic and Religious Studies Material Religion Heritage Studies and Anthropology and Sociology of Religion The contributions presented in this volume demonstrate how material things and less thing like materialities make the praesentia and potentia of the Sacred tangible how they cultivate intimate relations between human and more than human beings and how they act as links and gateways to the Elsewhere and Otherworldly The volume posits that materialities of religion are integral to processes of heritagization shaped by competing social and political actors involved in the construction and canonization of religious in this case Shi'i heritage
