Doherty, Ralph LaRossa, Walter R. Schumm, Suzanne K. Steinmetz, 2008-11-19 Origins We call this book on theoretical orientations and methodological strategies in family studies a sourcebook because it details the social and personal roots i e sources from which these orientations and strategies flow Thus an appropriate way to preface this book is to talk first of its roots its beginnings In the mid 1980s there emerged in some quarters the sense that it was time for family studies to take stock of itself A goal was thus set to write a book that like Janus would face both backward and forward a book that would give readers both a perspective on the past and a map for the future There were precedents for such a project The Handbook of Marriage and the Family edited by Harold Christensen and published in 1964 the two Contemporary Theories about the Family volumes edited by Wesley Burr Reuben Hill F Ivan Nye and Ira Reiss published in 1979 and the Handbook of Marriage and the Family edited by Marvin Sussman and Suzanne Steinmetz then in production

Intercultural Perspectives on Family Counseling expands cultural awareness in the practice of family counseling by offering cultural specific perspectives for addressing common issues that emerge in dyadic marital and family relationships around the globe The topics illuminated in the book serve to sharpen cultural mindfulness and expand the reader s knowledge and understanding of intercultural family counseling issues Each chapter examines a couple or family related clinical issue offering clinical intervention strategies within the context of a specific cultural population By representing various national and cultural identities this book showcases a transcultural understanding of family Students and practicing marriage and family counselors and therapists will benefit greatly from this clinical resource that exposes them to the similarities and differences in addressing client issues across cultures Marriage Vows and Racial Choices Jessica

Vasquez-Tokos,2017-02-14 Choosing whom to marry involves more than emotion as racial politics cultural mores and local demographics all shape romantic choices In Marriage Vows and Racial Choices sociologist Jessica Vasquez Tokos explores the decisions of Latinos who marry either within or outside of their racial and ethnic groups Drawing from in depth interviews with nearly 50 couples she examines their marital choices and how these unions influence their identities as Americans Vasquez Tokos finds that their experiences in childhood adolescence and young adulthood shape their perceptions of race which in turn influence their romantic expectations Most Latinos marry other Latinos but those who intermarry tend to marry whites She finds that some Latina women who had domineering fathers assumed that most Latino men shared this trait and gravitated toward white men who differed from their fathers Other Latina respondents who married white men fused ideas of race and class and perceived whites as higher status and considered themselves to be marrying up Latinos who married non Latino minorities African Americans Asian Americans and Native Americans often sought out non white partners because they shared similar experiences of racial marginalization Latinos who married Latinos of a different national origin expressed a desire for shared cultural commonalities with their partners but like those who married whites often associated their own national origin groups with oppressive gender roles Vasquez Tokos also investigates how racial and cultural identities are maintained or altered for the respondents children Within Latino white marriages biculturalism in contrast with Latinos adopting a white American identity is likely to emerge For instance white women who married Latino men often embraced aspects of Latino culture and passed it along to their children Yet for these children upholding Latino cultural ties depended on their proximity to other Latinos particularly extended family members Both location and family relationships shape how parents and children from interracial families understand themselves culturally As interracial marriages become more common Marriage Vows and Racial Choices shows how race gender and class influence our marital choices and personal lives Theoretical Perspectives for Direct Social Work Practice Nick Coody,Peter

Lehmann,2016-05-15 This expanded third edition of a popular textbook provides a completely revised and updated overview of the theories models and therapies that inform direct social work practice The text is grounded in generalist social work principles and values and promotes a problem solving model of social work practice as a framework for the eclectic use of theory as well as for integrating the artistic reflective elements of practice It provides in depth coverage of select psychodynamic cognitive behavioral humanistic critical and postmodern theories The third edition features a new section on Critical Theories where a new chapter on Empowerment Theory is included with a completely revised chapter on Feminist Theory A new chapter on Strengths based Social Work has been added to the section on meta theories for social work practice Other new chapters include Emotion focused Therapy and Collaborative Therapy These revisions are based on suggestions from an extensive survey of professors New to the Third Edition A new section on Critical Theories New chapters on Strengths based Social Work Emotion focused Therapy Empowerment Theory and Collaborative Therapy Updated research on the debate about the importance of theory technique versus common e g relationship factors and on the critique of the empirically supported treatment movement Key Features Grounds direct practice firmly in the principles and values of generalist social work Promotes a problem solving model of social work as a flexible structure for integrating the eclectic use of theory with the artistic reflective elementsof practice Organizes direct practice theories into like groupings and provides an overview of the main characteristics of each grouping Provides in depth coverage of topics in a clear logical and consistent format Includes editors and contributors from the U S and Canada Family Life Education Lane H.

Powell,Dawn Cassidy,2006-08-15 Contemporary family life educators must operate in a wide range of settings and with increasingly varied populations and families In the second edition of their successful Family Life Education Powell and Cassidy expertly expose readers to the diverse landscape of the field while laying a comprehensive practical foundation for future family life educators The authors both CFLE certified consider the Certified Family Life Educator certification requirements of the National Council on Family Relations throughout the text Their broad overview of the field features a blend of theory and practice with full chapters on sexuality education marriage education and parent educationareas that have received evaluation and certification attention A new chapter on global trends builds awareness and appreciation of diversity through interactive classroom exercises Each chapter in the book concludes with discussion questions research problems independent study activities and case study suggestions all designed to challenge readers to think for themselves

Making the Right Choice Asha L. Abeyasekera,2021-03-12 Making the Right Choice unravels the entangled relationship between marriage morality and the desire for modernity as it plays out in the context of middle class status concerns and aspirations for upward social mobility within the Sinhala Buddhist community in urban Sri Lanka By focusing on individual life histories spanning three generations the book illuminates how narratives about a gendered self and narratives about modernity are mutually constituted and intrinsically tied to notions of agency The book uncovers how becoming modern in urban Sri Lanka rather than causing inter generational conflict is a collective aspiration realized through the efforts of bringing up educated and independent women capable of making right choices The consequence of this collective investment is a feminist conundrum agency does not denote the right to choose but the duty to make the right choice hence agency is experienced not as a sense of freedom but rather as a burden of responsibility
