Married To The Wind:

Married to the Wind Wayne Lynch, 1984 Married to the Wind Samantha Holloway, 2015-09-29 Everything has changed Annissa now of the Clans and carrying a heavy burden of power knows that the world is not as her entire land has been told all their lives and she must bear this knowledge back home to end the war that is destroying the world bit by bit But she must do it alone for though her friends back home are gathering an army for her she s lost Ardeth to Air and she s the only one who can face the Dark if she can convince Glorisa the other half of her soul to do it with her In a world torn by the clash of Light and Dark where ancient powers alter the lives of mortals and gods alike can she do what needs to be done to save the world And will she save it by fixing it or will she too change it utterly Married to the Wind Samantha Holloway, 2015-06-18 Nothing is as it seems Annissa and Ardeth have escaped the Wall and the troubles brewing in their home kingdom But Annissa is not well and Ardeth is being torn apart by Air and the more they find out about the lies and secrets that have hedged their lives the more questions are raised Captive guests of the Clans they had been told are barbarians on a quest for knowledge and understanding that takes them across the Wastes and the lands beyond both must come to grips with their power with their places in the world and with their growing feelings for each other And back at home war changes the fates of friend and foe alike The Wind's Story Anne B. Udy, 2015-11-30 This is a story she told herself over many months It just grew and grew until it had to be written down A king rejects his son s choice of a wife A princess lives in a slum unaware of her father s identity A prince works as a gardener to make ends meet Royalty are not always royal but everyone has to find ways to surmount obstacles Getting Married to the Wind... Indra, 2018 Elders, Shades, and Women Richard T. Curley, 2023-04-28 In Elders Shades and Women Richard T Curley describes the ceremonial life of a Nilotic community in northern Uganda and traces the alterations in its ceremonial activities from the turn of the twentieth century to the beginning of extensive contact between the Langi and Europeans in the 1960s Setting his analysis within the broad context of Lango social organization Curley discusses the makeup of the community and shows how the innovations of the colonial period led to changes in kinship relations and residential patterns He is particularly attentive to the husband wife relationship and to the changing status of women within a patrilineal system After describing Lango social organization and the changes that it has undergone Curley turns to the three complexes of Lango ceremonial activity One of these traditionally performed by older men has virtually disappeared a victim of altered political relationships The second set comprising eight separate ceremonies performed for married women concerns the problem of incorporating a women into her husband s lineage while recognizing that she was born in her father s The third complex centering on spirit possession has become increasingly popular and women participate to a much greater extent than men The author treats his religious material within the framework of structural functionalism by concentrating on ceremonial activities rather than on belief and by relating the ceremonies to social processes He departs from structural functionalism however in borrowing heavily from
