Martha Quest:

Martha Quest Doris Lessing, 1995-09-01 Martha Quest is a passionate and intelligent young woman living on a farm in Africa feeling her way through the torments of adolescence and early womanhood to marriage She is a romantic idealist in revolt against the puritan snobbery of her parents trying to live to the full with every nerve emotion and instinct bared to experience For her this is a time of solidarity reading daydreams dancing and the first disturbing encounters with sex Martha Quest is the first novel in Doris Lessing's classic Children of Violence sequence of novels each a masterpiece in its own right and taken together an incisive all encompassing vision of our world in the twentieth century Martha Quest Doris Lessing, 2009-12-22 I read the Children of Violence novels and began to understand how a person could write about the problems of the world in a compelling and beautiful way And it seemed to me that was the most important thing I could ever do Barbara Kingsolver Intelligent sensitive and fiercely passionate Martha Quest is a young woman living on a farm in Africa feeling her way through the torments of adolescence and early womanhood She is a romantic idealistic in revolt against the puritan snobbery of her parents trying to live to the full with every nerve emotion and instinct laid bare to experience For her this is a time of solitary reading daydreams dancing and the first disturbing encounters with sex The first of Doris Lessing's timeless Children of Violence novels Martha Quest is an endearing masterpiece Martha Quest Doris Lessing, 1993 The opening book in the Nobel Prize for Literature winner's Children of Violence series tracing the life of Martha Quest from her childhood in colonial Africa to old age in post nuclear Britain When we first meet Martha Quest she is a girl of fifteen living with her parents on a poor African farm She is eager for life and resentful of the deadening narrowness of home and escapes to take a job as a typist in the local capital Here in the big city she encounters the real life she was so eager to know and understand As a picture of colonial life Martha Quest succeeds by the depth of its realism alone but always at its centre is Martha a sympathetic figure drawn with unrelenting objectivity Martha's Africa is Doris Lessing's Africa the restrictive life of the farm the atmosphere of racial fear and antagonism the superficial sophistication of the city And both Martha and Lessing are Children of Violence the generation that was born of one world war and came of age in another whose abrasive relationships with their parents with one another and with society are laid bare brilliantly by a writer who understands them better than any other Martha Quest Doris May Lessing, 1970 Loving Arms Karen Schneider, 1997-01-01 Loving Arms examines the war related writings of five British women whose words explore the connections among gender war and story telling While not the first study to relate the subjects of gender and war it is the first within a growing body of criticism to focus specifically on British culture during and after World War II How a story is narrated and by whom are matters of no small importance As widely defined and accepted war stories are men's stories If we are to hear another story of war then we must listen to the stories women tell Many of the war stories written by women insist that war is not the condition of men but rather the condition of humanity beginning with relations between the sexes For the five women whose work is examined in

Loving Arms Stevie Smith Katharine Burdekin Virginia Woolf Elizabeth Bowen and Doris Lessing this last point was particularly relevant Their positions as women within a patriarchal militarist culture that was externally threatened by an overtly fascist one led to an acute ambivalence says Schneider Though all five women perceived the war from substantially different perspectives each in her own way exposed and critiqued the seductive power of war and war stories with their densely interwoven tropes of masculinity and nationalism Yet these writers conflicting impulses of loyalty to England and resistance to the war betray their ambivalence Ariadne's Lives Nina daVinci Nichols,1995 Indeed relatively little work has been done on the Cretan myth cycle as a whole a mixture of heroic Greek legend and savage pre Greek elements generally considered to be antithetical to evolved literary languages As a result although Ariadne has been extremely important in Western art from the time of ancient Greece through the nineteenth century she is rarely included in studies of Greek myth

Image and Power Sarah Sceats,Gail Cunningham,2014-09-11 Image and Power is an important work of literary and cultural criticism This collection of essays focuses on some of the major issues addressed by women s writing in the twentieth century concerning genre subjectivity and social and cultural expectations issues which in the past have been regarded from an essentially male perspective The text introduces women writers whose novels have been widely read and provides an important contribution to the debate about women in literature

Rereading Doris Lessing Claire Sprague,2014-07-02 According to Sprague doubling in Lessing s novels is a perfect correlative for the complexity and contradiction Lessing perceives as central to the private and collective human experience Her doubles and multiples not only indicate the fracturing or the formation of identity but they also are among the several strategies used to project complex private and societal concerns This study of Lessing s dialectical imagination extends and revises earlier feminist approaches Originally published in 1987 A UNC Press Enduring Edition UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value

The Fiction of Doris Lessing Ratna Raman,2021-10-15 Doris Lessing 1919 2013 a prolific contemporary author was awarded the Nobel Prize in Literature in 2007 for her life work Examining five decades of Lessing s unique life narrative strategies and the literary traditions that she drew upon and improvised this book highlights her extraordinary significance as a writer of our times and for our times Lessing s fiction and non fiction provide a seminal understanding of the key issues that shaped the twentieth century Autodidactic and keenly interested in the world around her Lessing flagged the problems of racism in Africa the inequity of class in modern England the limitations of white middle class women s movements that overlooked the rights of women across race and class the marginalisation of individuals the horror of nuclear war and the need for disarmament and the hazardous global expansion in the face of unrelenting technological progress Further she raised the concern of the atomisation of modern families violence and the urgent need for alternate modes of viewing voicing anxieties decades ahead of other contemporary writers Making futuristic projections through innumerable genres of writing such as realistic narratives memoirs diaries and science fiction Lessing examines myth psychoanalysis and Marxist perspectives engaging with a gamut of experiences that have defined modernity and sets up feminist blueprints that challenge atrophying patriarchal hegemonies Phenomenological Perspectives on Place, Lifeworlds, and Lived Emplacement David Seamon, 2023-03-17 Phenomenological Perspectives on Place Lifeworlds and Lived Emplacement is a compilation of seventeen previously published articles and chapters by David Seamon one of the foremost researchers in environmental architectural and place phenomenology These entries discuss such topics as body subject the lived body place ballets environmental serendipity homeworlds and the pedagogy of place and placemaking The volume's chapters are broken into three parts Part I includes four entries that consider what phenomenology offers studies of place and placemaking These chapters illustrate the theoretical and practical value of phenomenological concepts like lifeworld natural attitude and bodily actions in place Part II incorporates five chapters that aim to understand place and lived emplacement phenomenologically Topics covered include environmental situatedness architectural phenomenology environmental serendipity and the value of phenomenology for a pedagogy of place and placemaking Part III presents a number of explications of real world places and place experience drawing on examples from photography Andr Kert sz's Meudon television Alan Ball's Six Feet Under film John Sayles Limbo and Sunshine State and imaginative literature Doris Lessing's The Four Gated City and Louis Bromfield's The World We Live in Seamon is a major figure in environment behavior research particularly as that work has applied value for design professionals This volume will be of interest to geographers environmental psychologists architects planners policymakers and other researchers and practitioners concerned with place place experience place meaning and place making

Post-colonial Women Writers Sunita Sinha, 2008 Madness in Context: Historical, Poetic and Artistic Perspectives, 2020-09-25 A group of twenty scholars from different disciplinary and cultural backgrounds developed a series of dialogues and discussions on the notion experience and representation of madness This volume is the result of those discussions (Un)like Subjects Gerardine Meaney, 2012-08-21 What is the relationship between feminist critical theory and literature This book deals with the relationship between women and writing mothers and daughters the maternal and history It addresses the questions about language writing and the relations between women which have preoccupied the three most influential French feminists and three important contemporary British women novelists Treating both fiction and theory as texts she traces the connections between the theorists Hélène Cixous Luce Irigaray and Julia Kristeva and the novelists Doris Lessing Angela Carter and Muriel Spark This reading of the work of these six major women writers explores new forms of women's identity subjectivity and narrative and demonstrates how theoretical and literary texts can illuminate each other to bridge the gap between theory and literary criticism The Novel and the Problem of New Life Aaron Matz, 2021-07-15 The novel since the nineteenth century has displayed a thorny ambivalence toward the question of having children In its representation of human vitality it can seem to promote the giving of life but again and again it betrays a nagging doubt about the moral implications of procreation The Novel and the Problem of New Life identifies this tension as a defining quality of the modern British and European novel Beginning with the procreative skeptical writings of Flaubert Butler and Hardy then turning to the high modernist work of Lawrence Woolf and Huxley and culminating in the postwar fiction of Lessing and others this book chronicles the history of the novel as it came to accommodate greater misgivings about the morality of reproduction This is the first study to examine in literature a problem that has long troubled philosophers environmental thinkers and so many people in everyday life

Doris Lessing Harold Bloom,2003 Essays of critical interpretation portray views of Doris Lessing s work including The Golden Notebook Marriages and The Grass is Singing

The Cambridge Guide to Women's Writing in English Lorna Sage,1999-09-30 This Guide aims to consolidate and epitomise the re reading of women s writing that has gone on in the last twenty five years This is an opportunity for stock taking a timely project when so much writing has been rediscovered reclaimed and republished There are entries on writers on individual texts and on general terms genres and movements all printed in a single alphabetical sequence The earliest written documents in medieval English the visionary writings of Julian of Norwich and Margery Kempe are covered in an historical and geographical sweep that takes us up to the present day The book reflects the spread of literacy the history of colonisation and the development of post colonial cultures using and changing the English language The entries are written by contributors from all the countries covered The result is a work of reference with a unique feeling for the vitality wealth and diversity of women s writing

Narrative Authority and Homeostasis in the Novels of Doris Lessing and Carmen Martín Gaité Linda E. Chown,2019-10-02 This study originally published in 1990 assesses a shift in the presentation of self consciousness in two pairs of novels by Doris Lessing and Carmen Mart n Gaité 1 Lessing s The Summer Before the Dark 1973 and Mart n Gaité s Retah las 1974 and 2 Lessing s The Memoirs of a Survivor 1974 and Mart n Gaité s The Back Room 1978 Three major structural divisions facilitate examining implications of the novels for 1 feminism 2 literary narrative and 3 the lives of people at large

Home Matters R. Rubenstein,2001-02-23 Despite its typically regressive associations with homesickness the longing associated with nostalgia may also function progressively as a vehicle for imaginatively fixing the past in two senses securing and mending or repairing Considering fiction by two British and six American women writers of different generations and ethnicities this study explores tensions between home and exile insider and outsider longing and belonging loss and recovery Rubenstein argues that nostalgia functions narratively as a strategy for interrogating not only notions of home homesickness and homeland but also cultural historical dislocation aging and moral responsibility These narratives re frame a significant locus of concern in contemporary female experience personal and or cultural displacement and longing for home are ultimately transmuted imaginatively at least by a restorative vision that enables healing and emotional repair

Remarkable Reads J. Peder Zane, 2004 In personal essays that read like short stories writers describe their life altering encounters with books Tapping classic works such as The Catcher in the Rye and The Cat in the Hat as well as obscure novels they reveal how literature tempts enchants and changes readers
