Intercultural Voices in Contemporary British Literature L. Sauerberg, 2001-11-12 During the last decades of the twentieth century it has become increasingly difficult to consider British literature as national or mainstream The book investigates contemporary fiction and poetry written in or relating to Britain and uncovers a distinct sense of a new and different national and social reality Tracing literary effects of migration globalization and regionalization the book focuses on literary tradition as an inspiration or object of hate and frustration for the exploration and expression of post Imperial experiences The National Union Catalogs, 1963- ,1964 Changing the Story Gayle Greene, 1992-01-22 Changing the Story gives an excellent and well informed account of the differences between the American Canadian British and French attitudes towards feminism and feminist fiction and literary theory a very readable book which reminds us that literature can change us and that through it we can change ourselves Margaret Drabble A distinctive contribution clear elegant precise and well read to the feminist discussion of narrative of Anglo Canadian white North American novelists and to contemporary fiction Greene tracks how feminist novelists draw upon and negotiate with traditional narrative patterns and how their critical approach implicates and provokes social change The book brings us to an intelligent post humanism which does not scant the social meanings of metafictional critique And in addition this book remembers hope Rachel Blau DuPlessis Changing the Story is an invaluable guide to the feminist classics of the last three decades This is cultural criticism at its best engaged re visionary and politically astute Nancy K Miller Greene tells a very good tale about how feminist fiction emerged developed made changes in the world and now threatens to wane The Women's Review of Books Her probing analysis should captivate general readers as well as academics WLW Journal Changing the Story is an important work of feminist criticism certain to spark controversy within the feminist community American Literature The feminist fiction movement of the 1960s 1980s was and is as significant a movement as Modernism Gayle Greene focuses on the works of Doris Lessing Margaret Drabble Margaret Atwood and Margaret Laurence to trace the roots of this feminist literary explosion She also speculates on the future of feminist fiction in the current regressive period of post feminism Fiction Catalog H.W. Wilson Company, 1976 Fictions of the Female Self R. Parkin-Gounelas, 1991-10-23 Women's novels have traditionally been read as subjective Through an examination of three generations of women's fiction in the post Romantic period this book challenges traditional readings of women's novels and argues that fiction writing for women has often been a matter of self erasure rather than self inscription In particular it examines the changing strategies sometimes collusive and sometimes rebellious which Charlotte Bronte Olive Schreiner and Katherine Mansfield employed in their tentative project of inscribing female subjectivity into the novel and story form Fiction, 1876-1983: Titles R.R. Bowker Company. Department of Bibliography, R.R. Bowker Company. Publications Systems Department, 1983 The Manuscript Inventories and the Catalogs of Manuscripts, Books, and Periodicals: Book catalog, Mae-Pin Arthur and Elizabeth Schlesinger Library on the History of Women in America, 1984 Doris Lessing Harold Bloom, 2003 Essays of critical interpretation portray views of Doris Lessing's work including The Golden Notebook Marriages and The Grass is Singing Postcolonial Nostalgias Dennis Walder, 2010-11-17 This book offers an original and informed critique of a widespread yet often misunderstood condition nostalgia a pervasive human emotion connecting people across national and historical as well as personal boundaries Often seen as merely escapist nostalgia also offers solace and self understanding for those displaced by the larger movements of our time Walder analyses the writings of some of those entangled in the aftermath of empire tracing the hidden connections underlying their yearnings for a common identity and a homeland and their struggles to recover their histories Through a series of comparative reflections upon the representation in literary and related cultural forms of memory he shows how admitting the past into the present through nostalgia enables former colonial or diasporic subjects to gain a deeper understanding of the networks of power within which they are caught in the modern world and beyond which it may yet be possible to move Considering authors as varied as V S Naipaul J G Ballard Doris Lessing W G Sebald and Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie as well as versions of Bushman song Walder pursues the often wayward ambiguous paths of nostalgia as it has been represented beyond but also within Europe so as to identify some of those processes of communal and individual experience that constitute the present and by implication the future The National Union Catalog, 1952-1955 Imprints, 1961 American Book Publishing Record, 1985 Doris Lessing Margaret Moan Rowe, 1994-10-03 Through close readings of Doris Lessing's novels from The Grass is Singing to The Fifth Child Margaret Moan Rowe maps many of the literary and cultural negotiations that make Doris Lessing both a maverick and a mainstream novelist Examining the pull of paternal and maternal biographical and literary identification in Lessing Rowe relates them to the tensions between the ordinary and the visionary in her fiction Home Matters R. Rubenstein,2001-02-23 Despite its typically regressive associations with homesickness the longing associated with nostalgia may also function progressively as a vehicle for imaginatively fixing the past in two senses securing and mending or repairing Considering fiction by two British and six American women writers of different generations and ethnicities this study explores tensions between home and exile insider and outsider longing and belonging loss and recovery Rubenstein argues that nostalgia functions narratively as a strategy for interrogating not only notions of home homesickness and homeland but also cultural historical dislocation aging and moral responsibility These narratives re frame a significant locus of concern in contemporary female experience personal and or cultural displacement and longing for home are ultimately transmuted imaginatively at least by a restorative vision that enables healing and emotional repair Catalog of the African Collection Northwestern University (Evanston, Ill.).
