Martin Luther King Jr. Lewis V. Baldwin, Rufus Burrow, 2013-07-03 Clarence B Jones close King advisor and draft speechwriter has done much to reinforce a conservative hijacking of King's image with the publication of his controversial books What Would Martin Say 2008 and Behind the Dream 2011 King emerges from Jones's books not as a prophetic radical who attacked systemic racial injustice economic exploitation and wars of aggression but as a fiercely conservative figure who would oppose affirmative action and illegal immigration The Domestication of Martin Luther King Jr offers a critique of Jones's work and the larger effort on the part of right wing conservatives to make King a useful symbol or the sacred aura in a protracted campaign to promote their own agenda for America This work establishes the need to rethink King's legacy of ideas and activism and its importance for our society and culture Contributors include Lewis V Baldwin Rufus Burrow Jr Adam Fairclough Walter Earl Fluker Shirley T Geiger Cheryl A Kirk Duggan Michael G Long Rosetta E Ross George Russell Seay Jr Traci C West

Staged Minou Arjomand, 2018-09-11 Theater requires artifice justice demands truth Are these demands as irreconcilable as the pejorative term show trials suggests After the Second World War canonical directors and playwrights sought to claim a new public role for theater by restaging the era's great trials as shows The Nuremberg trials the Eichmann trial and the Auschwitz trials were all performed multiple times first in courts and then in theaters Does justice require both courtrooms and stages In Staged Minou Arjomand draws on a rich archive of postwar German and American rehearsals and performances to reveal how theater can become a place for forms of storytelling and judgment that are inadmissible in a court of law but indispensable for public life She unveils the affinities between dramatists like Bertolt Brecht Erwin Piscator and Peter Weiss and philosophers such as Hannah Arendt and Walter Benjamin showing how they responded to the rise of fascism with a new politics of performance Linking performance with theories of aesthetics history and politics Arjomand argues that it is not subject matter that makes theater political but rather the act of judging a performance in the company of others Staged weaves together theater history and political philosophy into a powerful and timely case for the importance of theaters as public institutions

Martin Luther King's Biblical Epic Keith D. Miller, 2011-11-15 In his final speech I've Been to the Mountaintop Martin Luther King Jr delivered his support of African American garbage workers on strike in Memphis Although some consider this oration King's finest it is mainly known for its concluding two minutes wherein King compares himself to Moses and seems to predict his own assassination But King gave an hour long speech and the concluding segment can only be understood in relation to the whole King scholars generally focus on his theology not his relation to the Bible or the circumstance of a Baptist speaking in a Pentecostal setting Even though King cited and explicated the Bible in hundreds of speeches and sermons Martin Luther King's Biblical Epic is the first book to analyze his approach to the Bible and its importance to his rhetoric and persuasiveness Martin Luther King's Biblical Epic argues that King challenged dominant Christian supersessionist conceptions of Judaism in favor of a Christianity that affirms Judaism as its wellspring In his final speech King implicitly but strongly argues that one can grasp Jesus only by first grasping Moses and the Hebrew prophets This book also traces the roots of King s speech to its Pentecostal setting and to the Pentecostals in his audience In doing so Miller puts forth the first scholarship to credit the mostly unknown but brilliant African American architect who created the large yet compact church sanctuary which made possible the unique connection between King and his audience on the night of his last speech Reframing Rhetorical History Kathleen J. Turner, Jason Edward Black, 2022-05-17 Collection of essays that reassesses history as rhetoric and rhetorical history as practice Loving Our Enemies Through Seasons of Bitterness Lex Kohn, 2025-06-30 In a nation crumbling under the weight of bitterness where government is the people s god the way through is neither legislation nor activism but loving the least loveable A study of internet influence conflict theory and nineteenth century wisdom reveals that people do not have to solve their disagreements if they can relearn how to love their enemies as Christ commanded This book highlights courageous men and women of faith from biblical times up through the present who obeyed this commandment the Scriptures they followed and how they managed it so that people today too might learn to substitute love instead of bitterness Ripples Of Hope Joshua Gottheimer, 2009-04-21 Ripples of Hope brings together the most influential and important civil rights speeches from the entire range of American history from the colonial period to the present Gathered from the great speeches of the civil rights movement of African Americans Asian Americans gays Hispanic Americans and women Ripples of Hope includes voices as diverse as Sister Souljah Spark Matsui and Harvey Milk which taken as a whole constitute a unique chronicle of the modern civil rights movement Featuring a foreword by President Bill Clinton and an afterword by Mary Frances Berry this collection represents not just a historical first but also an indispensable resource for readers searching for an alternative history of American rhetoric Edited and with an introduction by former Clinton speechwriter Josh Gottheimer the stirring speeches that make up this volume provide an important perspective on our nation s development and will inform the future debate on civil rights Reading the Two Books of God Thomas W. Mann, 2022-09-29 Thomas W Mann is a biblical scholar and retired parish minister and the author of numerous books and articles He is particularly interested in how experiences in nature prompt theological reflection based in the Bible shaping our sense of sacred time and place and how the lectionary readings of the church year also provide a spiritual calendar for the seasons of our lives The result is a conversation inspired by poets and writers like Mary Oliver Wendell Berry and John Muir but also by philosophers and theologians ranging from Abraham Joshua Heschel to David Kelsey Along the way we enter beach time and take backpacking trips in the Sierras but also join the triumphal entry parade on Palm Sunday and listen to the stable animals on Christmas Eve We perceive the beauty of creation through the eyes of science as well as religion sensually as well as intellectually We celebrate our communion with all creatures from fungus to forests inspired with awe and reverence and with a responsibility to care for the earth so threatened by climate change Heaven on Earth Michael Battle, 2017-02-23 Much of the literature on the book of Revelation paints a frightening apocalyptic vision of the end times Michael Battle offers an alternative look at Revelation in this new work seeing it instead as a hopeful call to bring heaven on earth Battle explores the problematic imagery found in Revelation before showing how similar problems play out in our contemporary world Battle sees Revelation as a guide that shows us that we can live out God's call for heaven on earth by living in community with one another as exhibited through the writings of Martin Luther King Jr Desmond Tutu Rowan Williams and Ubuntu theology He writes I seek to imagine in my particular Christian context how a view of heaven need not lead to culture wars and further excuses for oppressing others Heaven as envisioned by John of Patmos has much greater purpose
