Commedia dell'Arte and the Mediterranean Erith Jaffe-Berg, 2016-03-09 Drawing on published collections and also manuscripts from Mantuan archives Commedia dell'arte and the Mediterranean locates commedia dell'arte as a performance form reflective of its cultural crucible in the Mediterranean The study provides a broad perspective on commedia dell'arte as an expression of the various cultural gender and language communities in Italy during the early modern period and explores the ways in which the art form offers a platform for reflection on power and cultural exchange While highlighting the prevalence of Mediterranean crossings in the scenarios of commedia dell arte this book examines the way in which actors embodied characters from across the wider Mediterranean region The presence of Mediterranean minority groups such as Arabs Armenians Jews and Turks within commedia dell arte is marked on stage and backstage where they were collaborators in the creative process In addition gendered performances by the first female actors participated in staging the Mediterranean by using the female body as a canvas for cartographical imaginings By focusing attention on the various communities involved in the making of theatre a central preoccupation of the book is to question the dynamics of exchange as it materialized within a spectrum inclusive of both cultural collaboration but also of taxation and coercion Mapping the Ottomans Palmira Brummett, 2015-05-19 Simple paradigms of Muslim Christian confrontation and the rise of Europe in the seventeenth century do not suffice to explain the ways in which European mapping envisioned the Turks in image and narrative Rather maps travel accounts compendia of knowledge and other texts created a picture of the Ottoman Empire through a complex layering of history ethnography and eyewitness testimony which juxtaposed current events to classical and biblical history counted space in terms of peoples routes and fortresses and used the land and seascapes of the map to assert ownership declare victory and embody imperial power's reach Enriched throughout by examples of Ottoman self mapping this book examines how Ottomans and their empire were mapped in the narrative and visual imagination of early modern Europe's Christian kingdoms The maps serve as centerpieces for discussions of early modern space time borders stages of travel information flows invocations of authority and cross cultural relations The Mapping of Power in Renaissance Italy Mark Rosen, 2015 This well illustrated study investigates the symbolic dimensions of painted maps as products of ambitious early modern European courts Frames that Speak: Cartouches on Early Modern Maps Chet Van Duzer, 2023-05-25 Listen to the New Books Network Podcast This lavishly illustrated book is the first systematic exploration of cartographic cartouches the decorated frames that surround the title or other text or imagery on historic maps It addresses the history of their development the sources cartographers used in creating them and the political economic historical and philosophical messages their symbols convey Cartouches are the most visually appealing parts of maps and also spaces where the cartographer uses decoration to express his or her interests so they are key to interpreting maps The book discusses thirty three cartouches in detail which range from 1569 to 1821 and were chosen for the richness of their imagery The book will open your eyes to a new way of looking at maps Worldly Consumers Genevieve Carlton, 2015-06-22 Though the practical value of maps during the sixteenth century is well documented their personal and cultural importance has been relatively underexamined In Worldly Consumers Genevieve Carlton explores the growing availability of maps to private consumers during the Italian Renaissance and shows how map acquisition and display became central tools for constructing personal identity and impressing one's peers Drawing on a variety of sixteenth century sources including household inventories epigrams dedications catalogs travel books and advice manuals Worldly Consumers studies how individuals displayed different maps in their homes as deliberate acts of self fashioning One citizen decorated with maps of Bruges Holland Flanders and Amsterdam to remind visitors of his military prowess for example while another hung maps of cities where his ancestors fought or governed in homage to his auspicious family history Renaissance Italians turned domestic spaces into a microcosm of larger geographical places to craft cosmopolitan erudite identities for themselves creating a new class of consumers who drew cultural capital from maps of the time

Vincenzo Scamozzi and the Chorography of Early Modern Architecture AnnMarie Borys, 2017-07-05 The first English language overview of the contributions to Renaissance architectural culture of northern Italian architect Vincenzo Scamozzi 1548 1616 this book introduces Anglophone architects and historians to a little known figure from a period that is recognized as one of the most productive and influential in the Western architectural tradition Ann Marie Borys presents Vincenzo Scamozzi as a traveler and an observer the first Western architect to respond to the changing shape of the world in the Age of Discovery Pointing out his familiarity with the expansion of knowledge in both natural history and geography she highlights that his truly unique contribution was to make geography and cartography central to the knowledge of the architect In so doing she argues that he articulated the first fully realized theory of place Showing how geographic thinking influences his output Borys demonstrates that although Scamozzi's work was conceived within an established tradition it was also influenced by major cultural changes occurring in the late 16th century

Exotic Animals in the Art and Culture of the Medici Court in Florence Angelica Groom, 2018-10-22 The book examines the roles that rare and exotic animals played in the cultural self fashioning and the political imaging of the Medici court during the family's reign first as Dukes of Florence 1532 1569 and subsequently as Grand Dukes of Tuscany 1569 1737 The book opens with an examination of global practices in zoological collecting and cultural uses of animals The Medici's activities as collectors of exotic species the menageries they established and their deployment of animals in the ceremonial life of the court and in their art are examined in relation to this wider global perspective The book seeks to nuance the myth promoted by the Medici themselves that theirs was the most successful princely serraglio in early modern Europe

Mapping Different Geographies Karel Kriz, William Cartwright, Lorenz Hurni, 2010-09-15 This book is the outcome of the work of contributors who participated in the workshop Mapping Different Geographies MDG in February 2010 held in Puchberg am Schneeberg Austria This meeting brought together cartographers artists and geoscientists who research and practice in applications that focus on enhancing or to one communication or develop and evaluate methodologies that provide innovative methods for sharing information The main intention of the workshop was to investigate how different geographies are being mapped and the possibilities for developing new theories and techniques for information design and transfer based on place or location So as to communicate these concepts it was important to appreciate the many contrasting meanings of mapping that were held by workshop participants

Also the many and varied viewpoints of what different geographies are were elaborated upon and discussed. Therefore as the focus on space and time was embedded within everyone's fields of investigation this was addressed during the workshop. This resulted in very engaging discourse which in some cases exposed the restrictions that certain approaches need to consider. For participants this proved to be most useful as this allowed them to appreciate the limits and restrictions of their own approach to understanding and representing different geographies. As well the workshop also was most helpful as a vehicle for demonstrating the common ground of interest held by the very diverse areas of endeavour that the workshop participants work within.

Provenance and Possession K. J. P. Lowe, 2024-04-09 A thought provoking study of how knowledge of provenance was not transferred with enslaved people and goods from the Portuguese trading empire to Renaissance Italy. In the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries Renaissance Italy received a bounty of goods from Portuguese trading voyages, fruits of empire that included luxury goods, exotic animals and even enslaved people. Many historians hold that this imperial opening up of the world transformed the way Europeans understood the global. In this book K J P Lowe challenges such an assumption showing that Italians of this era cared more about the possession than the provenance of their newly acquired global goods. With three detailed case studies involving Florence and Rome and drawing on unpublished archival material, Lowe documents the myriad occasions on which global knowledge became dissociated from overseas objects, animals and people. Fundamental aspects of these imperial imports including place of origin and provenance she shows failed to survive the voyage and make landfall in Europe. Lowe suggests that there were compelling reasons for not knowing or caring about provenance and concludes that geographical knowledge like all knowledge was often restricted and not valued. Examining such documents as ledger entries, journals and public and private correspondence as well as extant objects and asking previously unasked questions, Lowe meticulously reconstructs the backstories of Portuguese imperial acquisitions, painstakingly supplying the context. She chronicles the phenomenon of mixed ancestry children at Florence's foundling hospital, the ownership of inanimate luxury goods, notably those possessed by the Medicis, and the acquisition of enslaved people and animals. How and where goods were acquired, Lowe argues, were of no interest to fifteenth and sixteenth century Italians; possession was paramount.

Cartographies of Travel and Navigation James R. Akerman, 2010-11-15 Finding one's way with a map is a relatively recent phenomenon. In premodern times maps were used, if at all, mainly for planning journeys in advance, not for guiding travelers on the road. With the exception of navigational sea charts, the use of maps by travelers only became common in the modern era; indeed in the last two hundred years maps have become the most ubiquitous and familiar genre of modern cartography. Examining the historical relationship between travelers, navigation and maps, Cartographies of Travel and Navigation considers the cartographic response to the new modalities of modern travel brought about by technological and institutional developments in the twentieth century. Highlighting the ways in which the travelers, operators and planners of modern transportation systems value maps as both navigation tools and as representatives of a radical new mobility this collection brings the cartography of travel by road sea rail and air to the forefront placing maps at the center of the history of travel and movement Richly and colorfully illustrated Cartographies of Travel and Navigation ably fills the void in historical literature on transportation mapping

Rethinking the Power of Maps Denis Wood, 2010-04-16 A contemporary follow up to the groundbreaking Power of Maps this book takes a fresh look at what maps do whose interests they serve and how they can be used in surprising creative and radical ways Denis Wood describes how cartography facilitated the rise of the modern state and how maps continue to embody and project the interests of their creators He demystifies the hidden assumptions of map making and explores the promises and limitations of diverse counter mapping practices today Thought provoking illustrations include U S Geological Survey maps electoral and transportation maps and numerous examples of critical cartography participatory GIS and map art The book will be important reading for geographers and others interested in maps and their political uses It will also serve as a supplemental text in advanced undergraduate and graduate level courses such as Cartography GIS Geographic Thought and History of Geography

The Book of Marvels Larisa Grollemond, Kelin Michael, Elizabeth Morrison, Joshua O'Driscoll, 2024-07-16 This fascinating volume explores an important fifteenth century illustrated manuscript tradition that provides a revealing glimpse of how western Europeans conceptualized the world From the classical encyclopedias of Pliny to famous tales such as The Travels of Marco Polo historical travel writing has had a lasting impact despite the fact that it was based on a curious mixture of truth legend and outright superstition One foundational medieval source that expands on the ancient idea of the wonders of the world is the fifteenth century French Book of the Marvels of the World an illustrated guide to the globe filled with oddities curiosities and wonders tales of fantasy and reality intended for the medieval armchair traveler The fifty six locales featured in the manuscript are presented in a manner that suggests authority and objectivity but are rife with stereotypes and mischaracterizations meant to simultaneously instill a sense of wonder and fear in readers In The Book of Marvels the authors explore the tradition of encyclopedias and travel writing examining the various sources for geographic knowledge in the Middle Ages They look closely at the manuscript copies of the French text and its complex images delving into their origins style content and meaning Ultimately this volume seeks to unpack how medieval white Christian Europeans saw their world and how the fear of difference so pervasive in society today is part of a long tradition stretching back millennia This volume is published to accompany an exhibition on view at the J Paul Getty Museum at the Getty Center from June 11 to September 1 2024 and at the Morgan Library Museum from January 24 to May 25 2025

Europe and the British Geographical Imagination, 1760-1830 Paul Stock, 2019-10-03 Europe and the British Geographical Imagination 1760 1830 explores what literate British people understood by the word Europe in the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries Was Europe unified by shared religious heritage Where were the edges of Europe Was Europe primarily a commercial network or were there common political practices too Was Britain itself a European country While intellectual history is concerned predominantly with prominent thinkers Paul Stock traces the history of ideas in non elite contexts offering a detailed analysis of nearly 350 geographical reference works textbooks dictionaries and encyclopaedias which were widely read by literate Britons of all classes and can reveal the formative ideas about Europe circulating in Britain ideas about religion the natural environment race and other theories of human difference the state borders the identification of the centre and edges of Europe commerce and empire and ideas about the past progress and historical change By showing how these and other questions were discussed in eighteenth and nineteenth century British culture Europe and the British Geographical Imagination 1760 1830 provides a thorough and much needed historical analysis of Britain s enduringly complex intellectual relationship with Europe Marvel's Collapsing Universe Ian Wood,2023-12-10 In his first non fiction book this prolific author takes an amateur fan s look at the science and silliness of the Marvel Cinematic Universe and tries to understand how their meteoric success of the 2008 2019 era could have seemingly soured so dramatically as they moved into Phase 4 and beyond Are things really as bad as they seem Are the cracks in the Marvel edifice something new or have they been there all along but willingly overlooked by audiences who were dazzled by the sprawling unprecedented spectacle that Marvel initially unleashed on the eager cinematic world Is this juggernaut really heading for a cliff and if so how can it be turned around The answers may surprise you or they may be the same things you ve been thinking all along Now Updated for Thunderbolts Computer Vision, Imaging and Computer Graphics Theory and Applications José Braz,Nadia Magnenat-Thalmann,Paul Richard,Lars Linsen,Alexandru Telea,Sebastiano Battiato,Francisco Imai,2017-08-08 This book constitutes thoroughly revised and selected papers from the 11th International Joint Conference on Computer Vision Imaging and Computer Graphics Theory and Applications VISIGRAPP 2016 held in Rome Italy in February 2016 VISIGRAPP comprises GRAPP International Conference on Computer Graphics Theory and Applications IVAPP International Conference on Information Visualization Theory and Applications and VISAPP International Conference on Computer Vision Theory and Applications The 28 thoroughly revised and extended papers presented in this volume were carefully reviewed and selected from 338 submissions The book also contains one invited talk in full paper length The regular papers were organized in topical sections named computer graphics theory and applications information visualization theory and applications and computer vision theory and applications Ms. Marvel's America Jessica Baldanzi,Hussein Rashid,2020-02-28 Contributions by Jos Alaniz Jessica Baldanzi Eric Berlatsky Peter E Carlson Sika A Dagbovie Mullins Antero Garcia Aaron Kashtan Winona Landis A David Lewis Martin Lund Shabana Mir Kristin M Peterson Nicholas Pumphrey Hussein Rashid and J Richard Stevens Mainstream superheroes are becoming more and more diverse with new identities for Spider Man Captain America Thor and Iron Man Though the Marvel verse is becoming much more racially ethnically and gender diverse many of these comics remain shy about religion The new Ms Marvel Kamala Khan is a notable exception not only because she is written and conceived by two women Sana Amanat and G Willow Wilson but also because both of these women bring their own experiences as Muslim Americans to the character This distinct collection brings together scholars from a range of disciplines including literature cultural studies religious studies pedagogy and communications to engage with a single character exploring Khan s significance for a broad readership While acknowledged as the first Muslim superhero to headline her own series her character appears well developed and multifaceted in many other ways She is the first character to take over an established superhero persona Ms Marvel without a reboot of the series or death of the original character The teenager is also a second generation immigrant born to parents who arrived in New Jersey from Pakistan With essays from and about diverse voices on an array of topics from fashion to immigration history to fandom this volume includes an exclusive interview with Ms Marvel author and cocreator G Willow Wilson by gender studies scholar Shabana Mir
