Marvelous Signals Poetics And Sign Theory In The Middle Ages:

Mervelous Signals Eugene Vance, 1989-01-01 The investigation of language of how and what and why signifiers signify is prominent in modern critical work but the questions being asked are by no means new In Mervelous Signals Eugene Vance asserts that there is scarcely a term practice or concept in contemporary theory that does not have some rich antecedent in medieval thought He goes on to illustrate the complexity and depth of medieval speculations about language and literature Vance s study of the link between the poetics and semiotics of the Middle Ages takes both a critical and a historical view as he brings today s insights to bear on the contemporary perspectives of such works as St Augustine s Confessions the Chanson de Roland Chr tien s Yvain Aucassin and Nicolette Spenser s The Faerie Queen and certain aspects of the works of Dante and Chaucer and of French medieval theater Medieval Arts Doctrines on Ambiguity and Their Places in Langland's Poetics John Chamberlin, 2000 He deals with lexical ambiguity and the ambiguity of words as words in which words themselves are taken as objects offering linguistic philosophical and historical perspectives BOOK JACKET

Medieval Allegory as Epistemology Marco Nievergelt, 2023 This volume shows how late medieval dream poetry explored problems arising from the reception of Aristotle s philosophical work concerning human knowledge Marco Nievergelt explores how the work of three medieval poets in the genre of allegorical fiction addressed these problems in distinctive non academic terms

Imagining Iberia in English and Castilian Medieval Romance Emily Houlik-Ritchey, 2023-02-06 An innovative comparative study of Middle English and medieval Castilian romance A Genealogy of Manners Jorge Ardit, 1998-12 Remarkable for its scope and erudition Jorge Ardit s new study offers a fascinating history of mores from the High Middle Ages to the Enlightenment Drawing on the pioneering ideas of Norbert Elias Michel Foucault and Pierre Bourdieu Ardit examines the relationship between power and social practices and traces how power changes over time Analyzing courtesy manuals and etiquette books from the thirteenth to the eighteenth century Ardit shows how the dominant classes of a society were able to create a system of social relations and put it into operation The result was an infrastructure in which these classes could successfully exert power He explores how the ecclesiastical authorities of the Middle Ages the monarchies from the fifteenth through the seventeenth century and the aristocracies during the early stages of modernity all forged their own codes of manners within the confines of another dominant order Ardit goes on to describe how each of these different groups through the sustained deployment of their own forms of relating with one another gradually moved into a position of dominance Routledge Revivals: Community, Gender, and Individual Identity (1988) David Aers, 2024-11-01 First published in 1988 David Aers explores the treatment of community gender and individual identity in English writing between 1360 and 1430 focusing on Margery Kempe Langland Chaucer and the poet of Sir Gawain He shows how these texts deal with questions about gender the making of individual identity and competing versions of community in ways which still speak powerfully in contemporary analysis of gender formation sexuality and love Making wide use of recent research on the English economy and communities and informed by current debates in the theory of culture and gender the book will be of interest to those concerned with medieval studies Renaissance studies and women s studies Visual Literacy James Elkins,2009-09-11 What does it mean to be visually literate Does it mean different things in the arts and the sciences In the West in Asia or in developing nations If we all need to become visually literate what does that mean in practical terms The essays gathered here examine a host of issues surrounding the visual exploring national and regional ideas of visibility and charting out new territories of visual literacy that lie far beyond art history such as law and chemistry With an afterword by Christopher Crouch this groundbreaking collection brings together the work of major art and visual studies scholars and critics to explore what impact the new concept of visual literacy will have on the traditional field of art history Contributors Matthias Bruhn Vera D nkel Jonathan Crary Christopher Crouch Peter Dallow James Elkins Henrik Enquist W J T Mitchell Richard K Sherwin Susan Shifrin Jon Simons Barbara Maria Stafford William Washabaugh Dante's Enigmas Richard Kay,2024-10-28 Dante s Comedy is a puzzling poem because the author wanted to lead his readers to understanding by engaging their curiosity While many obscure matters are clarified in the course of the poem itself others have remained enigmas that have fascinated Dantists for centuries Over the last thirty five years Richard Kay has proposed original solutions to many of these puzzles these are collected in the present volume Historical context frames Kay s readings which relate the poem to such standard sources as the Bible Aristotle Aquinas and the Latin classics but he also goes beyond these Scholastic sources to exploit Dante s use of less familiar aspects of Latin clerical culture including physiognomy Vitruvian proportions and optics and most especially astrology Kay explores new ways to read the Comedy For instance he argues that Dante has embedded references to his authorities in a continuous series of acrostics formed by the initial letters of each tercet Again he shows how Dante returns to the theme of each infernal canto and develops it in the parallel cantos of Purgatorio and Paradiso Particularly worthy of note are four essays on the poem s finale in the Empyrean The Semiotic Sphere Thomas A. Sebeok,Jean Umiker-Sebeok,2012-12-06 Although semiotics has in one guise or another flourished uninterruptedly since pre Socratic times in the West and important semiotic themes have emerged and developed independently in both the Brahmanic and Buddhist traditions semiotics as an organized undertaking began to bloom only in the 1960s Workshops materialized with a perhaps surprising spontaneity over much of Europe Eastern and Western and in North America Thereafter others quickly surfaced almost everywhere over the literate globe Different places strategically allied themselves with different legacies but all had a common thrust to aim at a general theory of signs by way of a description of different sign systems their comparative analysis and their classification More or less permanent confederations were forged with the most diverse academic disciplines and amazingly varied frameworks were devised suited to the needs of the times and the sites to carry the work of consolidation forward Bit by bit mutually supportive international networks were put together Today it can truly be asserted that semiotics has become a global enterprise This of course is far from saying that the map is uniform or even that world wide homogeneity is in the least desirable While our conjoint ultimate goal remains steadily in focus the multiplicity of avenues available for its realization is inherent in the advent ure of the search itself

Job, Boethius, and Epic Truth Ann W. Astell, 2019-03-15 Calling into question the common assumption that the Middle Ages produced no secondary epics Ann W Astell here revises a key chapter in literary history She examines the connections between the Book of Job and Boethius's Consolation of Philosophy texts closely associated with each other in the minds of medieval readers and writers and demonstrates that these two works served as a conduit for the tradition of heroic poetry from antiquity through the Middle Ages and into the Renaissance As she traces the complex influences of classical and biblical texts on vernacular literature Astell offers provocative readings of works by Dante Chaucer Spenser Malory Milton and many others Astell looks at the relationship between the historical reception of the epic and successive imitative forms showing how Boethius's Consolation and Johan biblical commentaries echo the allegorical treatment of epic truth in the poems of Homer and Virgil and how in turn many works classified as romance take Job and Boethius as their models She considers the influences of Job and Boethius on hagiographic romance as exemplified by the stories of Eustace Custance and Griselda on the amatory romances of Abelard and Heloise Dante and Beatrice and Troilus and Criseyde and on the chivalric romances of Martin of Tours Galahad Lancelot and Redcrosse Finally she explores an encyclopedic array of interpretations of Job and Boethius in Milton's Paradise Lost Paradise Regained and Samson Agonistes

The Study of the Bayeux Tapestry Richard Gameson, 1997 Key articles on the Bayeux tapestry collected in one volume providing a comprehensive companion to its study

Musica Naturalis Philipp Jeserich, 2013-11 A critical study of the relationship between poetics and music theory in medieval culture and aesthetics Musica Naturalis delivers the first systematic account of speculative music theory as a discursive horizon for literary poetics The title refers to the late medieval French poet Eustache Deschamps whose 1392 treatise on verse writing L'Art de Dictier famously casts verse as natural music in explicit distinction to song which Deschamps defines as artificial Philipp Jeserich links the significance of the speculative branch of medieval musicology to literary theory and literary production opening up a field of study that has been largely neglected Beginning with Augustine and Boethius he traces the discourse of speculative music theory to the late fifteenth century giving attention to medieval Latin and vernacular sources Ultimately Jeserich calls for the conservatism of Deschamps's poetics and develops a new perspective on the poetics and poetry of the Grands rhétoriciens Given Jeserich's reliance on the intellectual inheritance of late medieval French poetics and poetry this book will appeal to English speaking specialists of Old and Middle French as well as scholars of the French Renaissance It will also interest English language medievalists of several other disciplines intellectual historians and specialists of English as well as scholars of Italian and Iberian literature

Manuscript, Narrative, Lexicon Robert Boenig, Kathleen Davis, 2000 Each of these essays considers the convoluted nature of the transmission process in question and reconsiders the historical framework that has informed our own reception of it

BOOK JACKET Perversion, Pedagogy and the Comic Soumick De, 2022-06-07 Perversion Pedagogy and the Comic studies how the idea of theater shaped western consciousness during the Christian Middle Ages It analyses developments within western philosophy Christian theology and theater history to show how this idea realized itself primarily as a metaphor circulating through various discursive domains Beginning with Plato's injunction against tragedy the relation between philosophy and theater has been a complicated affair which this book traces at the threshold when the western world became Christian By late antiquity as theatre was slowly banned Christian theology put the idea of theatre to use in order to show what they understood to be the perverted nature of worldly existence and the mystery of the Kingdom of God Interrogating the theological teachings of some of the early Church Fathers like St Augustine Tertullian and Clement of Alexandria the book offers a new look at how the idea of theater not only inspired Christian liturgical practices but Christian pedagogy in general which in turn shaped the nature of Christian religious drama Finally the author tries to demonstrate how this hegemonic use of the theatre idea was countered by a certain comic sensibility which opened the idea of theatre in the Christian Middle Ages to a new and subversive materialist possibility Please note Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the Hardback in India Pakistan Nepal Bhutan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka

From Topic to Tale Eugene Vance, 1987 From Topic to Tale was first published in 1987 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions The transition from the Middle Ages to the Renaissance has been discussed since the 1940s as a shift from a Latinate culture to one based on a vernacular language and since the 1960s as a shift from orality to literacy From Topic to Tale focuses on this multifaceted transition but it poses the problem in different terms it shows how a rhetorical tradition was transformed into a textual one and ends ultimately in a discussion of the relationship between discourse and society. The rise of French vernacular literacy in the twelfth century coincided with the emergence of logic as a powerful instrument of the human mind. With logic come a new concern for narrative coherence and form, a concern exemplified by the work of Chrétien de Troyes. Many brilliant poetic achievements crystallized in the narrative art of Chrétien, establishing an enduring tradition of literary technique for all of Europe. Eugene Vance explores the intellectual context of Chrétien's vernacular literacy and, in particular, the interaction between the three arts of language, grammar, logic, and rhetoric, comprising the trivium. Until Vance, few critics have studied the contribution of logic to Chrétien's poetics, nor have they assessed the ethical bond between rationalism and the new heroic code of romance. Vance takes Chrétien de Troyes' great romance Yvain ou le chevalier au lion as the centerpiece of the Twelfth Century Renaissance. It is also central to his own thesis, which shows how Chrétien forged a bold new vision of humans as social beings situated between beasts and angels and promulgated the symbolic powers of language, money, and heraldic art to regulate the effects of human desire. Vance's reading of the Yvain contributes not only to the intellectual history of the Middle Ages but also to the continuing dialogue between contemporary critical theory and medieval culture. Eugene Vance is professor of French and comparative literature at Emory University and principal editor of a University of Nebraska series, Regents Studies in Medieval Culture. Wlad Godzich is director of the Center for Humanistic Studies at the University of Minnesota and co-editor of the series Theory and History of Literature.
